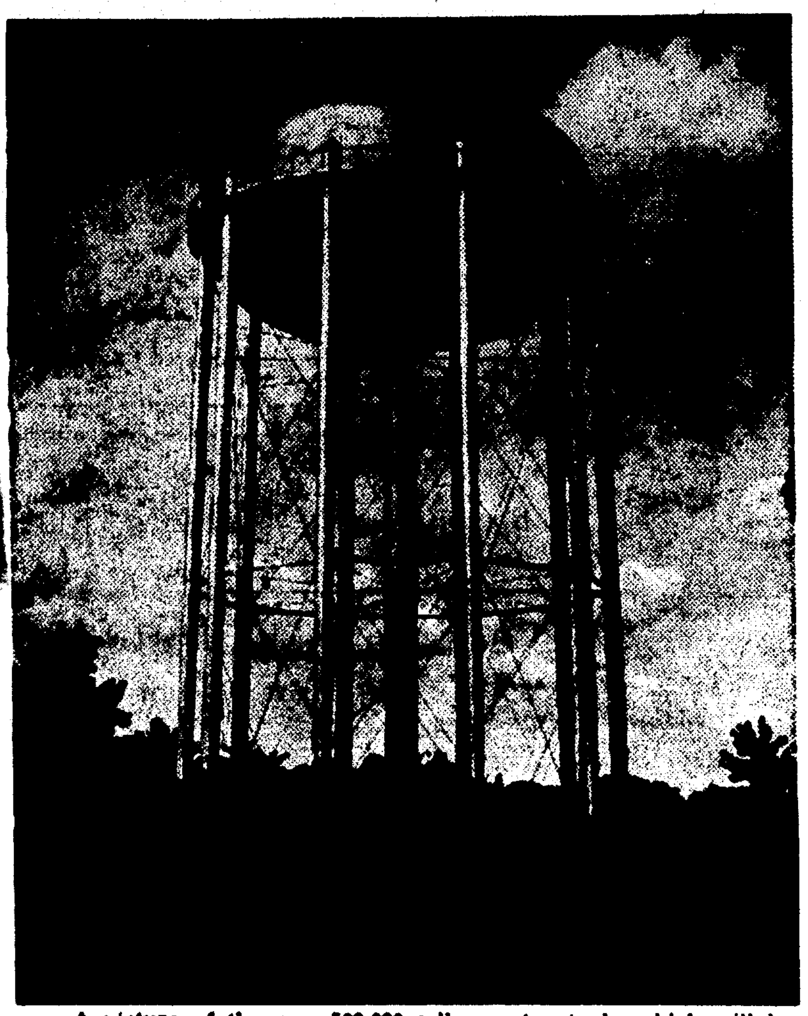
NEW WATER TANK



A picture of the new 500,000-gallon water tank, which will be erected in the college area, is shown above. The Monroe City Council awarded contracts last week for construction of the tank to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company in the amount of $88,400 on the recommendation of city engineers. The erection of the 500,000-gallon tank is another step forward in the city water improvement program.

AN EDITORIAL

Let's Look At The Record

The opposition to Mayor John Coon, apparently in desperation, is circulating wild rumors, attempting to incite racial animosities against minority groups and accusing honest businessmen of conducting shady business deals with the City of Monroe. It is deplorable that a person seeking political office would sink to such levels, because we in this community have always been free of bigotry and religious intolerance.

It was apparent that Mayor Coon's opponent in the second primary was defeated in the first primary and he could have saved the taxpayers considerable amount of money by withdrawing because anyone with any political knowledge knows that each vote Mayor Coon and others in the race received was cast against this opponent.

The opposition to Mayor Coon has made much of the bonded indebtedness of the City of Monroe. Since Mayor Coon assumed the office of our chief executive only one bond issue was voted and that was by unanimous support of our people. That was a bond issue for the expansion and improvement of our fire department, which the people of Monroe supported wholeheartedly.

In this connection the opposition mentioned "special interests." The committee which consulted with Mayor Coon and which was appointed by him was composed of the following men: W. L. Ethridge, Sr., chairman, J. G. Durrett, Sr., C. H. McHenry, Herman Masur, W. E. Leigh, H. A. Mouk, W. D. H. Rodrigues, S. E. Burgoyne, Leon Johnson, W. J. Sherrouse, Jr., David C. Silverstein, George Lofton, H. L. Rosenhein, B. R. Downing, John Breard, and H. L. Hales, who reduced the bond issue from $900,000 to $650,000.

Mayor Coon has waged a clean, factual campaign which we pointed out during the first primary and we commend him for conducting such a campaign.

During the first primary "Earl Longism" was hung around the neck of Mr. George Tidwell, which we thought was unjust. Now the opposition is trying to connect Mayor Coon with the past administration. Mayor Coon has said publicly that he will cooperate with any administration as long as he can further the betterment of the City of Monroe. Mayor Coon in 1948 was an original supporter of the present governor and the present governor's chief backer not only in this area but throughout the state is not only actively supporting Mayor Coon but he has told executives of these newspapers that he is doing so.

The Morning World still believes that it will be to the best interest of our city to give Mayor Coon the opportunity to serve a full four-year term and complete the program which he has started.

THOUSANDS RISK LIVES TO LEAVE EASTERN ZONE

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 7 (AP)—Thousands of fearful Germans struggled to flee from Soviet-held East Germany tonight as Communists rushed arming even in schools and factories.

A stream of human misery poured west from the Soviet Zone, slipping past Russian sentries and People's Police at the risk of death in the Reds' new frontier security belt.

In groups ranging from a single family to 800 persons, the East Germans arrived steadily in the American- and British - defended states of the Bonn Republic.

Behind them, Communist chieftains in East Berlin threw off all the wraps for a vast armament program including the two million members of the Communist Free German Youth (FDJ) and workers in all key industries.

The aim is an army of 25 divisions with 375,000 men, backed up by millions of East Germans organized as Red militia and taught to hate the West.

The Soviet-controlled news agency ADN reported high schools are giving courses in firearms, military communications and aerodynamics and that "armed defense corps" are being set up in major factories.

Under the rearmament program, every East German — regardless of age or sex — is ordered by the Communists to "do your part in defending our homeland."

Infantry battalions of girls in the FDJ have been outfitted in uniforms identical with those of the Soviet WACS.

"We are rearming to make clear to the warmongers that they will never get what they want," East German Foreign Minister George Dertinger declared in a speech at Leipzig reported today.

"To snatch the lead away from Adenauer (West German chancellor) and his henchmen is to save Germany."

Taft And Ike Fight For Southern Votes

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—The issue of seating contested state delegations at the Republican national convention appeared headed today for a fight on the floor at Chicago, following a general rebuff of Sen. Robert A. Taft's overture toward compromise.

Even some of Taft's own lieutenants indicated they didn't think much of the idea, insisting that justice was on their side and that no compromise was called for.

One who expressed that view was George Atkinson of Dallas, Texas, a delegate on one of the contested slates and a Taft leader in the state.

"I don't see much occasion to compromise," Atkinson said, "but of course I trust Sen. Taft's judgment. I think the majority of Texas Republicans are for Taft. Newspapers say the voters are for Eisenhower, but that doesn't mean they're Republicans."

Backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the other hand, contend that a majority of the people are for their man but that Taft forces employed steamroller tactics to push through state conventions slates of delegates largely favorable to the Ohioan.

2 Injured In Accident

A 32-year-old Bastrop, La. resident was being held in the Monroe city jail under a $500 bond last night after an automobile accident in which two persons were slightly injured.

Willie C. Viola, 32, Bastrop, La., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, damage to property and causing personal injury.

Police said Viola allegedly ran a stop sign off Grammont Street into Sixth Street at approximately 6:30 p. m. yesterday and hit a 1952 Studebaker driven by Patsy Barnes, 19, Monroe.

Two occupants of the Barnes car—Kay Carpente, two years old, Monroe, and Hattie Johnson, 17, Monroe — were slightly injured and treated at the St. Francis sanitarium.

The child suffered a bloodied nose and Miss Johnson had a bruised leg. Viola was booked at the police station at 6:58 p. m. yesterday.

Stricken Vets Are In Need Of Blood

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, it was stated Saturday.

On Tuesday it will be located at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe between the hours of 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

On Wednesday and Thursday it will be at the headquarters of the Red Cross, 200 South Grand street. Hours on Wednesday will be from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. and on Thursday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The public is asked to aid by the donation of blood to maintain the war-time blood bank which needs constant replenishment.

3 Escapees From L.T.I. Arrested

Three escapees from the Louisiana Training Institute were returned here from Ruston yesterday after they allegedly had gone on a rampage of thefts.

Police here received a report shortly before 1 a. m. Saturday that three boys had escaped from the institute and allegedly attacked two boys in the 3500 block of South Grand Street.

The institute boys—ages 15 and 16—escaped from the building with no clothes. Police said they attacked two other boys shortly after their escape, stole their clothes and left.

They were captured in Dubach

LEO F. TERZIA IS GIVEN HONOR

Selected As One Out Of Eight On Small Business Board Of Advisors

Formation of a regional Small Business Advisory board for the states of Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, was made known by the Small Defense Plants administration in Washington the past week.

A considerable honor comes to Louisiana in the naming of two men out of a total of eight to serve in the new capacity. Board members are Leo F. Terzia, vice - president of the Parlor City Lumber Co., Inc., Monroe, and J. E. Pottharst, president of the Mechanical Equipment Co., New Orleans.

The regional boards will consult with and advise on small business problems in their areas. They are to assist in on the spot surveys of small business conditions and to make recommendations to the administration.

Henry H. Ritter is acting regional director for region 10 with offices in Dallas, Tex.

Mr. Terzia stated Saturday: "I am honored to be one of the eight members selected by Hon. Telford Taylor, administrator of Small Defense Plants Administration to serve on the regional advisory board for Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. The appointment was not solicited and came as a pleasant surprise.

"The main objective is to preserve the small business man of America as a vital force and a basic element in the national economy. The activities of this administration have been coordinated with those of the office of small business of the National Production Authority in order to better serve all concerned.

Death Takes Monroyan

Three hours after telephoning his wife from Pine Bluff, Charles R. Groves, 35, 401 Riverbend Drive West Monroe, died of a heart attack. Mr. Groves was a traveling salesman and had lived in West Monroe only three months. He moved here from Dallas.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Monday at the Grace Episcopal Church here with the Rev. Frank J. Ruettz, of Dallas, officiating.

Interment, under the direction of Hall Funeral home, follows in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mr. Groves was a veteran of World War II, and a member of the Episcopal Church of Garland, Tex.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Charles R. Groves, two daughters, Helen Carol Groves and Barbara Ann Groves; one sister, Mrs. Fred Welch, Rochester, N. Y. and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Groves, Jr., of Rochester.

Escapee's Freedom Proves Short Lived

Johnny Brown, the latest escapee from the Monroe city jail, apparently didn't make too much of his freedom since he was back with the boys yesterday afternoon.

Brown, a 35 - year - old Monroe Negro, walked away from the jail Friday while he was supposed to be working in the jail kitchen. After one day and night of freedom he was picked up by city police and jailed again on charges of escape.

Brown's apprehension leaves only four men missing from the jail now, three - time escapee L. L. Pettis, Willie Knox, Alfred Saucier, and Daniel Westley, a Negro who has been missing for over a month.

PLAN CHANGES IN MEASURE ON APPOINTMENTS

Representative Shady Wall of West Monroe, who is one of the proponents of the recess appointments bill in the house, announced today that he and his associates will offer amendments to the bill Sunday night, permitting the appointments made by the governor during the time of war or national emergency proclaimed by the president, to be effective immediately under certain conditions. Another amendment which will be offered will exempt the requirement of Senate confirmation of recess appointments of notaries public, constables and justices of the peace.

Representative Wall also stated that he and his associates would be happy to discuss with the governor any particular objections to the bill, which would be remedied by mutually satisfactory amendments.

Representative Wall pointed out that under present law all recess appointments serve at the pleasure of the governor alone, while in most instances once senate confirmation has been obtained, the appointee cannot be discharged without cause. He said further that this bill will prevent any governor

Two Anniversaries Marked Here Friday

Friday, the eighth anniversary of D-Day, caused people to revert in memory to that June day in 1944 when the second World War in Europe was at its most tense moment.

On that day in Monroe, as in many other cities and towns, there were special assemblages when ministers urged through public prayer that the war might be brought to an end.

In Monroe as one feature there was a special 10:30 p. m. service over KMLB, at the direction of the late J. C. Liner, Rev. A. M. Serex gave a brief but earnest talk which so pleased Mr. Liner that he named him chaplain of KMLB and arranged that he give an address each night through the year.

Now for eight years there has been held this nightly service by Reverend Serex. Friday marked the eighth anniversary of this night service. It also marked farewell for Reverend Serex, as he is now to become pastor of Rayne Memorial in New Orleans.

A highly helpful religious service has been performed for the community through this means.

BIG CROWD TO HEAR REYNOLDS

A record attendance is anticipated at the 1952 campaign opening dinner of the Jewish Charities of Northeast Louisiana tomorrow evening at 7 p.m. at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, according to Percy Sandman, campaign chairman.

Quentin Reynolds, distinguished foreign correspondent, author and lecturer, will be the guest speaker.

"It is a rare privilege for the Jewish Charities to sponsor a personality of such eminent rank as Mr. Reynolds," Mr. Sandman said, "and we are proud to do so. We now have more reservations for this dinner than for any similar previous affair."

Recognized as one of America's leading reporters from far - flung areas of the world, Mr. Reynolds has helped enlighten American public opinion for more than a decade with his accurate and colorful accounts of events in Europe and Asia. He covered an imposing list of war fronts, including North Africa, Sicily, Italy, Russian, France, and Israel.

In announcing Mr. Reynolds' visit to Monroe, Mr. Sandman said, "Quentin Reynolds has seen at first hand the DP camps and the immigration to Israel. He witnessed the fighting in Palestine and was there when Israel became a state and has since been the personal guest of Prime Minister Ben Gurion in recent visits to the newly-founded state.

Mr. And Mrs. Gaston To Leave Texas On Monday And Proceed To New Orleans

By Bert Hatton

DIXIE DUDE RANCH, BANDERA, Tex., June 7—With four thrill-packed days already behind them on this south central Texas ranch-resort, Aubrey and Martha Ann Gaston wind up the first portion of their expense-free honeymoon, trip Sunday.

Monday morning at seven o'clock they will board a plane in San Antonio for New Orleans where they will complete the second part of their trip. They are scheduled to be in New Orleans two days.

There's never a dull moment for guests on this dude ranch. Special entertainment schedules are arranged every night guests are also taken to Bandera, a sleepy little town nine miles from here, where no effort is spared to make tourists happy.

Saturday night, the Gastons attended the rodeo near Bandera where most of the other Dixie dude ranch guests spent the evening watching bulldoggers and bronc riders perform. A rodeo is held every Saturday night.

Earlier, the newly weds toured the Frontier Times Museum which is advertised as the greatest privately owned museum in the south. The museum, owned by J. Marvin Hunter is stocked with over 30,000 historical and unusual items.

Hunter, publisher of Bandera's only newspaper the Bandera Times maintains the museum as a hobby and is undisputed in this section of the state as the number one authority on Texas history. Though Hunter's museum features Texas antiques his collection also includes a great number of relics from around the world, including pieces which were formerly owned by European and Asiatic royalty.

Most of his items with a royal background came from the world famed Louisa Gordon collection. Mrs. Louisa Gordon, a rich English woman, was a close friend of Hunters. She spent most of her life traveling and adding to her collection of rarities.

Mrs. Gordon died a few years ago and in her will she left her collection to Hunter. And he guards it as a priceless treasure and really it is just that.

Included in the Gordon collection is a rare Chinese fan that belonged to one of the wives of Emperor Taou-Kwang and was obtained in Canton in 1841. It is now over one hundred years old but as beautiful as the day it was made.

PLAN CHANGES IN MEASURE ON APPOINTMENTS

Representative Shady Wall of West Monroe, who is one of the proponents of the recess appointments bill in the house, announced today that he and his associates will offer amendments to the bill Sunday night, permitting the appointments made by the governor during the time of war or national emergency proclaimed by the president, to be effective immediately under certain conditions. Another amendment which will be offered will exempt the requirement of Senate confirmation of recess appointments of notaries public, constables and justices of the peace.

Representative Wall also stated that he and his associates would be happy to discuss with the governor any particular objections to the bill, which would be remedied by mutually satisfactory amendments.

Representative Wall pointed out that under present law all recess appointments serve at the pleasure of the governor alone, while in most instances once senate confirmation has been obtained, the appointee cannot be discharged without cause. He said further that this bill will prevent any governor

Friday, the eighth anniversary of D-Day, caused people to revert in memory to that June day in 1944 when the second World War in Europe was at its most tense moment.

On that day in Monroe, as in many other cities and towns, there were special assemblages when ministers urged through public prayer that the war might be brought to an end.

In Monroe as one feature there was a special 10:30 p. m. service over KMLB, under the direction of the late J. C. Liner, Rev. A. M. Serex gave a brief but earnest talk which so pleased Mr. Liner that he named him chaplain of KMLB and arranged that he give an address each night through the year.

Now for eight years there has been held this nightly service by Reverend Serex. Friday marked the eighth anniversary of this night service. It also marked farewell for Reverend Serex, as he is now to become pastor of Rayne Memorial in New Orleans.

A highly helpful religious service has been performed for the community through this means.

BIG CROWD TO HEAR REYNOLDS

A record attendance is anticipated at the 1952 campaign opening dinner of the Jewish Charities of Northeast Louisiana tomorrow evening at 7 p.m. at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, according to Percy Sandman, campaign chairman.

Quentin Reynolds, distinguished foreign correspondent, author and lecturer, will be the guest speaker.

"It is a rare privilege for the Jewish Charities to sponsor a personality of such eminent rank as Mr. Reynolds," Mr. Sandman said, "and we are proud to do so. We now have more reservations for this dinner than for any similar previous affair."

Recognized as one of America's leading observers from far - flung areas of the world, Mr. Reynolds has helped enlighten American public opinion for more than a decade with his accurate and colorful accounts of events in Europe and Asia. He covered an imposing list of war fronts, including North Africa, Sicily, Italy, Russian, France, and Israel.

In announcing Mr. Reynolds' visit to Monroe, Mr. Sandman said, "Quentin Reynolds has seen at first hand the DP camps and the immigration to Israel. He witnessed the fighting in Palestine and was there when Israel became a state and has been the personal guest of Prime Minister Ben Gurion in recent visits to the newly-founded state.

"We are happy to have Mr. Rey-

Accept Double In Backgammon

By OSWALD JACOB and ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"I hope you answer questions on backgammon," writes a Chicago reader, "even though your column seems to deal mostly with card games.

"I don't understand the principle of doubling at the end of a game. For example, last night my wife had one man left on the three-point and one man left on the two-point, and it was her roll. I had two men left on the one-point.

"She doubled, because the odds were in her favor. I resigned, and she said I should have accepted the double.

"If the odds are against me, why should I accept a double? If the odds are not against me, why should she double? The whole thing seems all tangled up. Can you make sense of it?"

We'll t y. The lady was quite right, but we may have trouble proving it in non-technical language.

The wife stood to win the game on her next roll unless she rolled a 1 on either die. Our first step is to calculate the chance that she will win the game.

There are 36 possible combinations that can be rolled with two dice. Exactly 11 of those 36 contain a 1. Those rolls are: 6-1, 5-1, 4-1, 3-1, 2-1, 1-1, 1-2, 1-3, 1-4, 1-5 and 1-6. The other 25 combinations contain no 1 on either die.

The odds are therefore 25 to 11 that the wife wins the game on her next roll. Now we can see what happens if she fails to double; if she doubles, and the husband resigns or, if she doubles, and the husband accepts.

Suppose the wife never doubles in this kind of situation. In 36 games of this kind she would tend to win 25 and lose 11. She would therefore wind up 14 points ahead tendency, of course. She might acof her husband. (This is just a tually win all 36 in a particular series of 36 games. In the long run, however, she would win 25 out of each 36.)

If the wife always doubles, and the husband always refuses, she wins all 36 games. She thus winds up 36 points ahead. This is a lot better than 14 ahead, to be sur.

If the husband always accepts the double, he loses 25 double games. But wins 11 double games. The wife winds up 28 points, ahead. Friend husband hates to lose 28 points, but its even worse to lose 36 points by always refusing the double.

In a nutshell, it pays to double when the odds are in your favor. It pays to accept the double when the odds are less than 3 to 1 against you.

Editorials and Comment

Notable Church Record Is Set

The past decade has proved an epochal period for the First Methodist Church in Monroe. From 1942 to 1952 far more history has been made than in any other similar period. Pastor of this important church in the period named has been Rev. A. M. Serex, under whose leadership progress has been written and who now is turning over his charge to his successor, Dr. H. L. Johns, an equally capable church director.

During the period in question there have been added the sizeable number of 639 members which now shows church enrollment of 2,656, making it second only to the First Baptist Church in Monroe numerically among local Protestant churches. The past year saw 227 new members added which is a net gain of 91 for the year.

The church budget back in 1942 was but $14,000 while today the budget has advanced to $52,000.

During the second World War, with Selman Field thronged with soldiers, the fund that was slowly being accumulated for the erection of an educational building that was sorely needed, was given a big impetus. Soldiers quite generously contributed. As a result of sacrificial effort by church members and outside friends of Methodism, it was made possible to erect and pay out a $300,000 educational building, finest of the kind in Monroe, and one of the finest in the state.

Progress of this church has been highly substantial, and credit must be given to the wise leadership of Reverend Serex, who now goes to New Orleans to become pastor of a large and important church, the Rayne Memorial. Best wishes for continued success in his new field will be the desire of loyal supporters in Monroe.

Sharp Contrast

It is estimated that by 1960 our electric power consumption will be double what it was at the end of the last world war. To prepare for this, the power industry is involved in a tremendous expansion and betterment program.

But that program could never be fulfilled if it weren't for another element which most of us never think about. That element is coal. In power production coal is and will remain a basic fuel. And so the coal industry will be called upon to supply more and more tonnage to power plants in every section of the country.

Luckily, there's no question of coal's ability to do this. Our underground coal resources are, to all practical purposes, inexhaustible. Equally important, the coal industry is geared to make the most of resources. It is investing huge sums of money in modern mining machinery, new mine properties, and preparation plants which "tailor" the fuel to fit the requirements of the consumer. Every coal user, from the biggest power plants and steel company down to the homeowner who uses a ton or two for heating each year, knows that he'll get the amount of coal and the kind of coal he wants precisely when he wants it.

The importance of coal to a modern nation can hardly be exaggerated. As leading economists have pointed out, much of Europe's trouble can be directly traced to inadequate coal production, which, in turn, is largely the result of socialization and government domination of enterprise. In sharp contrast to this, America's free, highly competitive coal industry has produced in abundance.

The 'Small Man' Pays

There was a time when the average man and woman didn't have to do too much worrying about the cost of running the government. In that long-dead era, it was commonly said the rich paid most of the bill anyhow, and the rest of the people got the benefits practically free.

Anyone who believes that, lives in a world of sheer fantasy. We have finally reached the point where the cost of government is so huge that even the confiscatory taxes paid by people in the high-income groups hardly make a dent in the total—and the people of small and moderate means must carry the bulk of the burden.

Early in 1951, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder presented some revealing facts to a House committee. They concerned the distribution of surtax net income—which is the income left after deductions for personal exemptions and dependents. In that year, Mr. Snyder, said, surtax net income totaled $90,000,000,000. Of this, $82,000,000,000 was in the brackets of $10,000 and under ($62,000,000,000 being in the under-$2,000 classification) and only $8,000,000,000 was in the bracket above $10,000.

This should certainly take care of the illusion that we can keep on meeting the cost of government by "soaking the rich." If we expropriated every nickel of income the rich have, the resulting revenue would carry the government for only a matter of weeks. It's the "small man" who must pay—as tens of millions learned last March 15. And it's the "small man" who has the most to gain from efficient, economical government, and reduced taxes.

Spending The Business Dollar

The enemies of business go to great lengths to make political capital of the large amounts of money the corporations take in. But they carefully refrain from pointing out what happens to that money.

Take, for example, the 1951 financial experience of one of the largest businesses in the world. In that year it had the huge income of $7,522,000,000. And here's how it was spent:

49 ¼ per cent went to suppliers, for the myriad goods and services the company needed to operate. Most of that eventually wound up in the pockets of the suppliers' employes.

26 ½ per cent went to meet its own payroll costs.

15 ¼ per cent was earmarked for taxes.

1 ¾ per cent was set aside for depreciation and ½ per cent for reconversion.

4 ¾ per cent went to the owners—the army of shareholders who make the company's existence possible.

The balance, 2 per cent, was retained in the business, to be spent for improvements, plants expansion and other such necessities.

To sum up, this company's tax bill was eqivalent to $2.25 for each dollar of net profits, and $3.14 for each dollar divided among the owners. More than five times as much went to the workers as to the owners. And that is typical of the great majority of business operators today.

Business' 'Take Home Pay'

How do you explain a complicated financial statement to employes? It's a tough job to break it down into terms everyoday understands.

A retail food chain* recently came up with a unique idea. A small booklet compares company expenses iwth the deductions listed each week on the pay checks of empolyes. Each page discusses a company "deduction." Money spent for merchandise, wages, maintenance, and contributions is explained in terms of the deductions each empolye finds on his own pay check. Net profoits of 9/10 of a cent on the sales dollar are referred to as company "take home pay." Familiar phrases like these make it easier to understand the company's financial structure and problems.

The booklet was timely, too. 1951 was the first year of the firm's new employe profit-sharing plan, and employes were particularly interested in the financial condition of their company.

Ideas like these help bring management and labor closer together in their understanding of the complex business [illegible]

IN WASHINGTON

MOSES LAKE, Wash. —(NEA)— Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus played a modern Moses here at Moses Lake the other day. He was in the middle of a sagebrush desert instead of being in the bullrushes or the wilderness, however. And instead of striking a rock to bring forth a gush of water, he ceremoniously opened a gate valve on a ditch.

Water from the Columbia River Basin irrigation canal system flowed ontt the 120 acres of this new promised land given to Donald D. Dunn. He is the lucky young man who won the Veterans of Foreign Wars national contest.

Don Dunn received, completely free, an $85,000 farm, graded and planted in a single day, and a completely furnished modern farm home, also built in a day. Merchants, contractors and workingmen of this dusty boom-town community furnished the equipment and the labor for this modern miracle.

All of this is a far cry from the experiences of two of the congressmen now representing this northwest country.

Rep. Lowell Stockman, the six-foot-six congressman from near Pendleton, Ore., whose district covers the tremendous eastern end of the state, still remembers vividly his experience getting a start during the depression. He saw it coming, he says, and saved $650 which he buried in a tin can.

He lived on that during the lean years while banks failed and mortgages were foreclosed. Today he operates a 3000-acre wheat ranch which he dry farms, letting half of it lie fallow on alternate years.

Started Farming on $15-a-Week Shoestring

Rep. Walt Horan of Washington, whose father was one of the pioneer settlers near Wenatchee, was a little more fortunate during the depression days in that a bank was able to carry him through. But the bank allowed him only $15 a week to live on. And his wife had to raise their five children on that.

Contrast that with the $85,000 worth of simple necessities which Donald Dunn has been given for his new start in life.

All this past is but prologue for the still more interesting story of Mr. Dunn which is to come. How will he make out in the future? Having been washed out and having lost all he had on another farm in Kansas by the 1951 floods, Don Dunn couldn't ask for more.

'I ought to clear $100 an acre on the 80 acres of cultivated land," he says. "Other farmers all around here are doing it."

For the first 10 years, Don Dunn will have to pay $5.50 an acre for his water. Then for the next 40 years he'll have to pay an additional $2.13 an acre towards the construction costs for the canals that bring him the water. By the time he is 80, this will be paid off.

Any young farmer receiving an $85,000 head start, clear of debt, should, of course, make money or else there's something radically wrong with the American farm economy.

A group of 21 foreign agriculture, irrigation and public works officials, currently touring the United States under State Department auspices, was in Moses Lake to see the farm-in-a-day demonstration.

What they saw no doubt amazed them, but for various reasons it also shocked them. In most of their countries, $85,000 would be enough to modernize the agriculture for a whole village.

Many New Settlers Live In Trailers and Tents

Not all the 6500 new farmers expected in this Columbia Basin in the next seven years get any such a plush start. Along the highways can be seen many new settlers living in trailers or even tents. Some of them are building their own houses and shacks with their own hands and no help.

Also along the roads at frequent intervals can be seen the abandoned farms and farm houses of earlier settlers who came here full of hope, like Donald Dunn, and failed to make a go of it.

Bureau of Reclamation advises that every veteran making application for a farm in this area under the land-drawing system should have at least two years of farm experience and an average of $4500 in liquid assets to se him through the first year.

Eighty per cent of the land is now privately owned and sells dear. The land sold by government under the five-year anti-speculation law is priced at from $1 to $10 an acre, 20 per cent down, the balance in 20 years.

To level the land costs an average of $4500. To put in the water system costs $2000. Farm machinery averages $3000, livestock $2500, farm buildings $2000 and a house $5000.

This totals $19,000 required capital, including the house. The range in actual practice is from $10,000 to $35,000. Farming on this new frontier is no longer a poor man's game.

To those that have the experience, the skill and the capital to handle it, there are stories of vast returns—$50,000 crops on 50-acre tracts. And they go south for the winter in Cadillacs.

Yes, young Mr. Donald Dunn will be worth keeping an eye on to see how he makes out.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

Labor leaders often like to think of themselves as great politicians.

Abandoning Samuel Gompers' historic advice to remain free of entangling party alliances, they have in many areas tried to take an active hand in running the Democratic party, not just advising it.

However, in one recent primary where the labor leaders exposed themselves to the secret ballot of the rank and file, they came off poorly—so badly, in fact, that it may effect future action by leaders of the C. I. O. and A. F. L.

That was the Ohio primary where four prominent labor leaders, thinking they were laiding the candidacy of President Truman, consented to run as delegates-at-large in the Democratic party on the slate pledged to veteran ex-Senator Robert J. Bulkley as "favorite son." They were Jack Kroll, national head of the C. I. O. political action committee, whose registered voting address is Cincinnati, Ohio; Phil Hannah, leader of the Teamsters Union and an A. F. L. vice president; George Harrison, veteran Railroad Brotherhood leader, and Jack Clayman, state head of the C. I. O.-P. A. C., who ran as an alternate-at-large.

The Bulkley slate came a cropper when Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.-Tenn.), who refused to be intimidated by the organization lineup against him, insisted on filing a slate of delegates in the primary.

An interesting sidelight, however, ignored by most observers is the lacing handed the labor leaders.

Kefauver's backers, not wishing to antagonize the labor leaders directly, filed only eight candidates for the 16 at-large posts and only four alternates. This was supposed to afford the labor men an opportunity to slip in unopposed. In fact, the Kefauver backers went so far as to distribute literature urging workers to vote for Kroll, Hannah, Harrison, and Clayman along with the Kefauver delegates.

What actually happened, though, was that Kroll ran 20th in the field of 24, failing to get aboard the convention train. Hannah came in 18th, and Harrison 13th (partly in his case because his name is identical with that of a popular Ohio Democratic politician now deceased). Although only four of the "organization" alternate candidates were defeated, Clayman ran 17th in the field of 20, losing out.

Kroll got only 128,000 votes compared with 305,000 for the top Kefauver man and 256,000 for the lowest Kefauver candidate. He was only 7,000 votes away from the foot, and during most of the ballot count was in 24th place.

Interesting to note is the fact that Kroll ran no better in strong C. I. O. areas than elsewhere. Just to cite an example, in the second ward of the city of Youngstown, a steelmaking center, and a C. I. O. stronghold if one ever existed, Kroll ran 23rd in the field of 24. And that despite the fact that the Bulkley forces won a district delegate away from Kefauver there.

Hannah suffered the same fate in strong A. F. L. precincts and Harrison did no better in railroad towns than elsewhere. It seemed evident that the rank and file did not approve of the participation of labor leaders in partisan politics.

And it is obvious that the rest of the members of the Democratic party in Ohio did not relish the presence of the labor leaders as candidates for the office of convention delegate.

Allowing for the fact that some Kefauver supporters voted for the labor men (since they could vote

THESE DAYS

DULLES ON ACHESON

John Foster Dulles was taken into the State Department as part of the so-called bipartisan foreign policy which he and Senator Vandenberg invented. The intention was good but the execution was futile. The Republicans were never actually consulted on major questions until consultation had lost all maning. On China questions there was no consultation.

There can be no criticism of the President or Dean Acheson for going his own way, which is the President's privilege; on the other hand, there was no sense in calling a one-way policy, bipartisan.

John Foster Dulles did manage to handle our affairs with Japan, leading to the Japanese treaty, which he wrote. Having seen that document through to ratification, he resigned from the State Department and now he is no longer bipartisan. Under certain circumstances, he may be our next secretary of state, and therefore it is important that he recently said in a speech:

". . . The trouble is not so much what we have done, but what we have left undone. In the main, we have merely reacted sporadically to Soviet actions which pricked us. Our policies have not the scope, quality or competent execution needed to thwart the proclaimed and operating program of Soviet communism. Also our policies have been too costly. We have paid too much for too little."

This can only mean that in the view of John Foster Dulles, our foreign policy has been inadequate because it has not been positive. It has only responded to challenges. It bogged along hopefully until Soviet Russia, which has held the initiative since Teheran (November, 1943), attacked us. Then our State Department went into high motion, but always late. An excellent example of lateness is the Korean War, which General Wedemeyer had foretold in his report of September, 1947; yet the State Department in January, 1950 was acting as though there would never be trouble in Korea.

Russia's policy toward the United States has been blueprinted since 1918 and there never could be any doubt as to the Soviet hatred for the United States because it appears in full in the writings of Lenin and Stalin. Yet our foreign policy from 1933 to 1945 was based on the assumption that appeasement of Russia, even by gifts of vast proportions, would alter the fundamental principles of the Marxian revolution. In fact, some officials of the State Department were Marxists and probably were appointed because of their affinity for the Russians.

So Russia chose Asia as the battleground and there our Administration made an inadequate defense. Both General Douglas MacArthur and General Matthew Ridgway have acknowledged that the defense was inadequate, admitting however that it was all that they could get from Washington.

Dulles emphasizes this lack of interest in the Far East by pointing out:

"Since Germany surrendered in 1945, our secretaries of state have taken 17 trips to Europe, involving 457 days of time. An 18th trip impends. (It has now occurred.) During this same period no secretary of state has ever visited a Pacific or Asian nation . . ."

In a word, while Secretaries Byrnes, Marshall and Acheson emphasized Europe, where we are not fighting, they ignored Asia where

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

MOVIE CENSORSHIP

In the view of a substantial plurality of editors, the Supreme Court's extension of the guarantees of free speech and free press to the movies will not prevent continuing prior censorship of movies on moral grounds. A considerable minority feels that movies, in their new status, may not be subject to the present system of prior censorship but only liable, like any other medium of public opinion, for violations of the laws against libel, obscenity, incitement to crime and the like. For a large minority only further decisions by the Supreme Court will show clearly how and to what extent movies may now be censored.

Norfolk (Va.) Virginian - Pilot (Ind.-Dem.): "The court's unanimous opinion in the case of the movie, The Miracle, covered two important points. It established the principle that motion pictures are included in the constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press. It held that the charge of 'sacrilege' is too vague . . . to warrant a picture's banishment. . . . Both the majority and concurring opinions are strictly limited to the case at hand. They carefully state that proper restraints may govern the movies and that some pictures, in some circumstances, could be flauntingly offensive and subject to censorship."

Providence (R. I.) Journal (Ind.): "The court went far beyond the question of sacrilege . . . and seized this case as an opportunity to extend to motion pictures the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and of the press. . . There probably will have to be further decisions to delineate for practical purposes the legal limits of this new freedom of the movies. It does seem, however, that the court stands ready to fend off any attempts at prior restraint. Should this prove to be the case, the present system of censorship by license will have to end."

St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch (Ind.): "When the movies express a viewpoint or reflect an attitude in serious vein, they will be immune from censorship in the same general way, though not necessarily by the same rules, as the press or any other medium of public opinion. . . . The movies are still primarily intended as entertainment, whether they always achieve it or not. As entertainment they will still be subject to censorship under this decision on offenses against public morality or in lapses of good taste amounting to obscenity."

New York Times (Ind.-Dem.): "As the court stated, 'it does not follow that the constitution requires absolute freedom to exhibit every motion picture of every kind at all times and all places.' The laws against libel, obscenity, incitement to riot and the like do place restraints about our fundamental freedoms. The court left as an open question the extent to which the movies are subject to the particularly obnoxious prior censorship established by the New York law, i. e., the requirement 'that permission to communicate ideas be obtained in advance from state officials.' "

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "The court has struck a detailed and solid blow at censorship. . . . Motion pictures have to be promoted to the full protection of the First Amendment, which makes 'freedom of expression the rule.' . . . Ample law exists for dealing with obscenity, indecency, incitement to crime and the like. Practical application is not difficult. Public opinion and the self-

By Ethel McIntyre

Jonesville

In the spring of the year 1542, De Soto and a small band of followers landed at the city Anilco, the capital of the Indian province Anilco, which historians have agreed was located where the present town of Jonesville now stands. The Indians then living in the district, were far superior to those that lived in the north and east of, what is now the United States. Failing in an attempt to make friends with the inhabitants of Anilco, De Soto and his men attacked the city and won the battle that followed. The temple was pillaged and many of the natives, both men and women slain. A short time later, De Soto died, at a smaller village, some miles north of the city he had practically destroyed. Soon afterwards, his men traveled on towards the Gulf of Mexico, and many years passed before other white men visited the district.

From De Sotos' time forward, I dare to day, that there is not another town, large or small, in Louisiana or the United States, that can boast of a more colorful history than does Jonesville. It is located in the southern part of Catahoula parish, on the banks of Black river, where Little river, Tensas and Ouachita river, empty their contents into it. Beyond the glimmering waters of the river, that flows on past the town, stretches a wonderful region that might well be called "a sportsman's Paradise."

In the year 1797, a pioneer, by the name of David Jones, settled on Little river, near Catahoula lake. He raised stock, operated a ferry and managed a public house. His settlement was surrounded by a maze of unbroken wilderness, a virgin forest, that stretched from Natchez, Miss., to Alexandria. There were no roads then, not even an established trail through the district. Travelers, passing through the area, near the Jones settlement, depended on the Indians and hunters to guide them safely through the jungle - like growth, which presented a formidable barrier to anyone, unlearned in the woodsman's art of holding a course through uncharted swampland. In order to assure himself of the trade that would make of his business a thriving success, Mr. Jones, in about the year 1800, blazed a trail, from Alexandria to his ferry; from there to Catahoula Prairie, through the Elm bayou swamp, and along the northern bank of Little river, to Hebrard's ferry on Black river. This road was still in use up to the present century.

The townsite of Jonesville was laid out in 1871, by a Mrs. Jones, and named in her honor. The first store in the town, was built and operated by Richard Yancy. Situated in the very heart of an untamed wilderness, natures own law of "the survival of the fittest" became the law of the inhabitants of the town. For the next hundred and more years, they fought their way, with undaunted courage, through any obstacle that reared it's head. At times, the community fought as a body, against the encroaching interests of outsiders. Frequently, battles raged, with family against family, and many times man versus man. Like the stories of the west, many of the feuds of Jonesville were settled with a six-gun.

A short time ago, a genial "old timer" who has lived his threescore and ten years, while sitting in his favorite spot on the sidewalk, entergained a group of visitors, with hair - raising tales, of life as it was lived in the town, in his young days. He ended his recital by telling of a free-for-all fight where everybody seemed intent on killing everybody else. At the height of the battle, he had decided it would be more healthy on the opposite side of the river. Once this decision was reached, he lost no time in getting there. Later a friend inquired as to how he had managed to cross Black river so quickly. At the laugh of derision that followed his statement, that he had walked across on a footlog, he retraced his steps to the bank of the river and found that, in his fright, he had really walked across the river on the shadow of a tall sycamore tree, standing near the edge of the water.

Many motor vehicles pass through the town, which is said to contain more modern service stations than does any other town of its size, in the south. Many beautiful homes nestle in the sun, in this town "Down in Dixie" and the waters of the rivers here whisper stories of the excitement of by-gone days.

Editorials and Comment

Notable Church Record Is Set

The past decade has proved an epochal period for the First Methodist Church in Monroe. From 1942 to 1952 far more history has been made than in any other similar period. Pastor of this important church in the period named has been Rev. A. M. Serex, under whose leadership progress has been written and who now is turning over his charge to his successor, Dr. H. L. Johns, an equally capable church director.

During the period in question there have been added the sizeable number of 639 members which now shows church enrollment of 2,656, making it second only to the First Baptist Church in Monroe numerically among local Protestant churches. The past year saw 227 new members added which is a net gain of 91 for the year.

The church budget back in 1942 was but $14,000 while today the budget has advanced to $52,000.

During the second World War, with Selman Field thronged with soldiers, the fund that was slowly being accumulated for the erection of an educational building that was sorely needed, was given a big impetus. Soldiers quite generously contributed. As a result of sacrificial effort by church members and outside friends of Methodism, it was made possible to erect and pay out a $300,000 educational building, finest of the kind in Monroe, and one of the finest in the state.

Progress of this church has been highly substantial, and credit must be given to the wise leadership of Reverend Serex, who now goes to New Orleans to become pastor of a large and important church, the Rayne Memorial. Best wishes for continued success in his new field will be the desire of loyal supporters in Monroe.

Sharp Contrast

It is estimated that by 1960 our electric power consumption will be double what it was at the end of the last world war. To prepare for this, the power industry is involved in a tremendous expansion and betterment program.

But that program could never be fulfilled if it weren't for another element which most of us never think about. That element is coal. In power production coal is and will remain a basic fuel. And so the coal industry will be called upon to supply more and more tonnage to power plants in every section of the country.

Luckily, there's no question of coal's ability to do this. Our underground coal resources are, to all practical purposes, inexhaustible. Equally important, the coal industry is geared to make the most of resources. It is investing huge sums of money in modern mining machinery, new mine properties, and preparation plants which "tailor" the fuel to fit the requirements of the consumer. Every coal user, from the biggest power plants and steel company down to the homeowner who uses a ton or two for heating each year, knows that he'll get the amount of coal and the kind of coal he wants precisely when he wants it.

The importance of coal to a modern nation can hardly be exaggerated. As leading economists have pointed out, much of Europe's trouble can be directly traced to inadequate coal production, which, in turn, is largely the result of socialization and government domination of enterprise. In sharp contrast to this, America's free, highly competitive coal industry has produced in abundance.

The 'Small Man' Pays

There was a time when the average man and woman didn't have to do too much worrying about the cost of running the government. In that long-dead era, it was commonly said the rich paid most of the bill anyhow, and the rest of the people got the benefits practically free.

Anyone who believes that, lives in a world of sheer fantasy. We have finally reached the point where the cost of government is so huge that even the confiscatory taxes paid by people in the high-income groups hardly make a dent in the total—and the people of small and moderate means must carry the bulk of the burden.

Early in 1951, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder presented some revealing facts to a House committee. They concerned the distribution of surtax net income—which is the income left after deductions for personal exemptions and dependents. In that year, Mr. Snyder, said, surtax net income totaled $90,000,000,000. Of this, $82,000,000,000 was in the brackets of $10,000 and under ($62,000,000,000 being in the under-$2,000 classification) and only $8,000,000,000 was in the bracket above $10,000.

This should certainly take care of the illusion that we can keep on meeting the cost of government by "soaking the rich." If we expropriated every nickel of income the rich have, the resulting revenue would carry the government for only a matter of weeks. It's the "small man" who must pay—as tens of millions learned last March 15. And it's the "small man" who has the most to gain from efficient, economical government, and reduced taxes.

Spending The Business Dollar

The enemies of business go to great lengths to make political capital of the large amounts of money the corporations take in. But they carefully refrain from pointing out what happens to that money.

Take, for example, the 1951 financial experience of one of the largest businesses in the world. In that year it had the huge income of $7,522,000,000. And here's how it was spent:

49 ¼ per cent went to suppliers, for the myriad goods and services the company needed to operate. Most of that eventually wound up in the pockets of the suppliers' employes.

26 ½ per cent went to meet its own payroll costs.

15 ¼ per cent was earmarked for taxes.

1 ¾ per cent was set aside for depreciation and ½ per cent for reconversion.

4 ¾ per cent went to the owners—the army of shareholders who make the company's existence possible.

The balance, 2 per cent, was retained in the business, to be spent for improvements, plants expansion and other such necessities.

To sum up, this company's tax bill was eqivalent to $2.25 for each dollar of net profits, and $3.14 for each dollar divided among the owners. More than five times as much went to the workers as to the owners. And that is typical of the great mayority of business operators today.

Business' 'Take Home Pay'

How do you explain a complicated financial statement to employes? It's a tough job to break it down into terms everyoday understands.

A retail food chain* recently came up with a unique idea. A small booklet compares company expenses iwth the deductions listed each week on the pay checks of empolyes. Each page discusses a company "deduction." Money spent for merchandise, wages, maintenance, and contributions is explained in terms of the deductions each empolye finds on his own pay check. Net profoits of 9/10 of a cent on the sales dollar are referred to as company "take home pay." Familiar phrases like these make it easier to understand the company's financial structure and problems.

The booklet was timely, too. 1951 was the first year of the firm's new employe profit-sharing plan, and employes were particularly interested in the financial condition of their company.

Ideas like these help bring management and labor closer together in their understanding of the complex business picture.

Peter Edson IN WASHINGTON

MOSES LAKE, Wash. —(NEA)— Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus played a modern Moses here at Moses Lake the other day. He was in the middle of a sagebrush desert instead of being in the bullrushes or the wilderness, however. And instead of striking a rock to bring forth a gush of water, he ceremoniously opened a gate valve on a ditch.

Water from the Columbia River Basin irrigation canal system flowed ontt the 120 acres of this new promised land given to Donald D. Dunn. He is the lucky young man who won the Veterans of Foreign Wars national contest.

Don Dunn received, completely free, an $85,000 farm, graded and planted in a single day, and a completely furnished modern farm home, also built in a day. Merchants, contractors and workingmen of this dusty boom-town community furnished the equipment and the labor for this modern miracle.

All of this is a far cry from the experiences of two of the congressmen now representing this northwest country.

Rep. Lowell Stockman, the six-foot-six congressman from near Pendleton, Ore., whose district covers the tremendous eastern end of the state, still remembers vividly his experience getting a start during the depression. He saw it coming, he says, and saved $650 which he buried in a tin can.

He lived on that during the lean years while banks failed and mortgages were foreclosed. Today he operates a 3000-acre wheat ranch which he dry farms, letting half of it lie fallow on alternate years.

Started Farming on $15-a-Week Shoestring

Rep. Walt Horan of Washington, whose father was one of the pioneer settlers near Wenatchee, was a little more fortunate during the depression days in that a bank was able to carry him through. But the bank allowed him only $15 a week to live on. And his wife had to raise their five children on that.

Contrast that with the $85,000 worth of simple necessities which Donald Dunn has been given for his new start in life.

All this past is but prologue for the still more interesting story of Mr. Dunn which is to come. How will he make out in the future? Having been washed out and having lost all he had on another farm in Kansas by the 1951 floods, Don Dunn couldn't ask for more.

'I ought to clear $100 an acre on the 80 acres of cultivated land," he says. "Other farmers all around here are doing it."

For the first 10 years, Don Dunn will have to pay $5.50 an acre for his water. Then for the next 40 years he'll have to pay an additional $2.13 an acre towards the construction costs for the canals that bring him the water. By the time he is 80, this will be paid off.

Any young farmer receiving an $85,000 head start, clear of debt, should, of course, make money or else there's something radically wrong with the American farm economy.

A group of 21 foreign agriculture, irrigation and public works officials, currently touring the United States under State Department auspices, was in Moses Lake to see the farm-in-a-day demonstration.

What they saw no doubt amazed them, but for various reasons it also shocked them. In most of their countries, $85,000 would be enough to modernize the agriculture for a whole village.

Many New Settlers Live In Trailers and Tents

Not all the 6500 new farmers expected in this Columbia Basin in the next seven years get any such a plush start. Along the highways can be seen many new settlers living in trailers or even tents. Some of them are building their own houses and shacks with their own hands and no help.

Also along the roads at frequent intervals can be seen the abandoned farms and farm houses of earlier settlers who came here full of hope, like Donald Dunn, and failed to make a go of it.

Bureau of Reclamation advises that every veteran making application for a farm in this area under the land-drawing system should have at least two years of farm experience and an average of $4500 in liquid assets to se him through the first year.

Eighty per cent of the land is now privately owned and sells dear. The land sold by government under the five-year anti-speculation law is priced at from $1 to $10 an acre, 20 per cent down, the balance in 20 years.

To level the land costs an average of $4500. To put in the water system costs $2000. Farm machinery averages $3000, livestock $2500, farm buildings $2000 and a house $5000.

This totals $19,000 required capital, including the house. The range in actual practice is from $10,000 to $35,000. Farming on this new frontier is no longer a poor man's game.

To those that have the experience, the skill and the capital to handle it, there are stories of vast returns—$50,000 crops on 50-acre tracts. And they go south for the winter in Cadillacs.

Yes, young Mr. Donald Dunn will be worth keeping an eye on to see how he makes out.

And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers. —Deuteronomy 6:18.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

Labor leaders often like to think of themselves as great politicians.

Abandoning Samuel Gompers' historic advice to remain free of entangling party alliances, they have in many areas tried to take an active hand in running the Democratic party, not just advising it.

However, in one recent primary where the labor leaders exposed themselves to the secret ballot of the rank and file, they came off poorly—so badly, in fact, that it may effect future action by leaders of the C. I. O. and A. F. L.

That was the Ohio primary where four prominent labor leaders, thinking they were laiding the candidacy of President Truman, consented to run as delegates-at-large in the Democratic party on the slate pledged to veteran ex-Senator Robert J. Bulkley as "favorite son." They were Jack Kroll, national head of the C. I. O. political action committee, whose registered voting address is Cincinnati, Ohio; Phil Hannah, leader of the Teamsters Union and an A. F. L. vice president; George Harrison, veteran Railroad Brotherhood leader, and Jack Clayman, state head of the C. I. O.-P. A. C., who ran as an alternate-at-large.

The Bulkley slate came a cropper when Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.-Tenn.), who refused to be intimidated by the organization lineup against him, insisted on filing a slate of delegates in the primary.

An interesting sidelight, however, ignored by most observers is the lacing handed the labor leaders.

Kefauver's backers, not wishing to antagonize the labor leaders directly, filed only eight candidates for the 16 at-large posts and only four alternates. This was supposed to afford the labor men an opportunity to slip in unopposed. In fact, the Kefauver backers went so far as to distribute literature urging workers to vote for Kroll, Hannah, Harrison, and Clayman along with the Kefauver delegates.

What actually happened, though, was that Kroll ran 20th in the field of 24, failing to get aboard the convention train. Hannah came in 18th, and Harrison 13th (partly in his case because his name is identical with that of a popular Ohio Democratic politician now deceased). Although only four of the "organization" alternate candidates were defeated, Clayman ran 17th in the field of 20, losing out.

Kroll got only 128,000 votes compared with 305,000 for the top Kefauver man and 256,000 for the lowest Kefauver candidate. He was only 7,000 votes away from the foot, and during most of the ballot count was in 24th place.

Interesting to note is the fact that Kroll ran no better in strong C. I. O. areas than elsewhere. Just to cite an example, in the second ward of the city of Youngstown, a steelmaking center, and a C. I. O. stronghold if one ever existed, Kroll ran 23rd in the field of 24. And that despite the fact that the Bulkley forces won a district delegate away from Kefauver there.

Hannah suffered the same fate in strong A. F. L. precincts and Harrison did no better in railroad towns than elsewhere. It seemed evident that the rank and file did not approve of the participation of labor leaders in partisan politics.

And it is obvious that the rest of the members of the Democratic party in Ohio did not relish the presence of the labor leaders as candidates for the office of convention delegate.

Allowing for the fact that some Kefauver supporters voted for the labor men (since they could vote

George E. Sokolsky: THESE DAYS

DULLES ON ACHESON

John Foster Dulles was taken into the State Department as part of the so-called bipartisan foreign policy which he and Senator Vandenberg invented. The intention was good but the execution was futile. The Republicans were never actually consulted on major questions until consultation had lost all maning. On China questions there was no consultation.

There can be no criticism of the President or Dean Acheson for going his own way, which is the President's privilege; on the other hand, there was no sense in calling a one-way policy, bipartisan.

John Foster Dulles did manage to handle our affairs with Japan, leading to the Japanese treaty, which he wrote. Having seen that document through to ratification, he resigned from the State Department and now he is no longer bipartisan. Under certain circumstances, he may be our next secretary of state, and therefore it is important that he recently said in a speech:

" . . . The trouble is not so much what we have done, but what we have left undone. In the main, we have merely reacted sporadically to Soviet actions which pricked us. Our policies have not the scope, quality or competent execution needed to thwart the proclaimed and operating program of Soviet communism. Also our policies have been too costly. We have paid too much for too little."

This can only mean that in the view of John Foster Dulles, our foreign policy has been inadequate because it has not been positive. It has only responded to challenges. It bogged along hopefully until Soviet Russia, which has held the initiative since Teheran (November, 1943), attacked us. Then our State Department went into high motion, but always late. An excellent example of lateness is the Korean War, which General Wedemeyer had foretold in his report of September, 1947; yet the State Department in January, 1950 was acting as though there would never be trouble in Korea.

Russia's policy toward the United States has been blueprinted since 1918 and there never could be any doubt as to the Soviet hatred for the United States because it appears in full in the writings of Lenin and Stalin. Yet our foreign policy from 1933 to 1945 was based on the assumption that appeasement of Russia, even by gifts of vast proportions, would alter the fundamental principles of the Marxian revolution. In fact, some officials of the State Department were Marxists and probably were appointed because of their affinity for the Russians.

So Russia chose Asia as the battleground and there our Administration made an inadequate defense. Both General Douglas MacArthur and General Matthew Ridgway have acknowledged that the defense was inadequate, admitting however that it was all that they could get from Washington.

Dulles emphasizes this lack of interest in the Far East by pointing out:

"Since Germany surrendered in 1945, our secretaries of state have taken 17 trips to Europe, involving 457 days of time. An 18th trip impends. (It has now occurred.) During this same period no secretary of state has ever visited a Pacific or Asian nation . . ."

In a word, while Secretaries Byrnes, Marshall and Acheson emphasized Europe, where we are not fighting, they ignored Asia where

MOVIE CENSORSHIP

In the view of a substantial plurality of editors, the Supreme Court's extension of the guarantees of free speech and free press to the movies will not prevent continuing prior censorship of movies on moral grounds. A considerable minority feels that movies, in their new status, may not be subject to the present system of prior censorship but only liable, like any other medium of public opinion, for violations of the laws against libel, obscenity, incitement to crime and the like. For a large minority only further decisions by the Supreme Court will show clearly how and to what extent movies may now be censored.

Norfolk (Va.) Virginian - Pilot (Ind.-Dem.): "The court's unanimous opinion in the case of the movie, The Miracle, covered two important points. It established the principle that motion pictures are included in the constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press. It held that the charge of 'sacrilege' is too vague . . . to warrant a picture's banishment. . . . Both the majority and concurring opinions are strictly limited to the case at hand. They carefully state that proper restraints may govern the movies and that some pictures, in some circumstances, could be flauntingly offensive and subject to censorship."

Providence (R. I.) Journal (Ind.): "The court went far beyond the question of sacrilege . . . and seized this case as an opportunity to extend to motion pictures the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and of the press. . . There probably will have to be further decisions to delineate for practical purposes the legal limits of this new freedom of the movies. It does seem, however, that the court stands ready to fend off any attempts at prior restraint. Should this prove to be the case, the present system of censorship by license will have to end."

St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch (Ind.): "When the movies express a viewpoint or reflect an attitude in serious vein, they will be immune from censorship in the same general way, though not necessarily by the same rules, as the press or any other medium of public opinion. . . . The movies are still primarily intended as entertainment, whether they always achieve it or not. As entertainment they will still be subject to censorship under this decision on offenses against public morality or in lapses of good taste amounting to obscenity."

New York Times (Ind.-Dem.): "As the court stated, 'it does not follow that the constitution requires absolute freedom to exhibit every motion picture of every kind at all times and all places.' The laws against libel, obscenity, incitement to riot and the like do place restraints about our fundamental freedoms. The court left as an open question the extent to which the movies are subject to the particularly obnoxious prior censorship established by the New York law, i. e., the requirement 'that permission to communicate ideas be obtained in advance from state officials.' "

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "The court has struck a detailed and solid blow at censorship. . . . Motion pictures have to be promoted to the full protection of the First Amendment, which makes 'freedom of expression the rule.' . . . Ample law exists for dealing with obscenity, indecency, incitement to crime and the like. Practical application is not difficult. Public opinion and the self-

Jonesville

In the spring of the year 1542, De Soto and a small band of followers landed at the city Anilco, the capital of the Indian province Anilco, which historians have agreed was located where the present town of Jonesville now stands. The Indians then living in the district, were far superior to those that lived in the north and east of, what is now the United States. Failing in an attempt to make friends with the inhabitants of Anilco, De Soto and his men attacked the city and won the battle that followed. The temple was pillaged and many of the natives, both men and women slain. A short time later, De Soto died, at a smaller village, some miles north of the city he had practically destroyed. Soon afterwards, his men traveled on towards the Gulf of Mexico, and many years passed before other white men visited the district.

From De Sotos' time forward, I dare to day, that there is not another town, large or small, in Louisiana or the United States, that can boast of a more colorful history than does Jonesville. It is located in the southern part of Catahoula parish, on the banks of Black river, where Little river, Tensas and Ouachita river, empty their contents into it. Beyond the glimmering waters of the river, that flows on past the town, stretches a wonderful region that might well be called "a sportsman's Paradise."

In the year 1797, a pioneer, by the name of David Jones, settled on Little river, near Catahoula lake. He raised stock, operated a ferry and managed a public house. His settlement was surrounded by a maze of unbroken wilderness, a virgin forest, that stretched from Natchez, Miss., to Alexandria. There were no roads then, not even an established trail through the district. Travelers, passing through the area, near the Jones settlement, depended on the Indians and hunters to guide them safely through the jungle - like growth, which presented a formidiable barrier to anyone, unlearned in the woodsman's art of holding a course through uncharted swampland. In order to assure himself of the trade that would make of his business a thriving success, Mr. Jones, in about the year 1800, blazed a trail, from Alexandria to his ferry; from there to Catahoula Prairie, through the Elm bayou swamp, and along the northern bank of Little river, to Hebrard's ferry on Black river. This road was still in use up to the present century.

The townsite of Jonesville was laid out in 1871, by a Mrs. Jones, and named in her honor. The first store in the town, was built and operated by Richard Yancy. Situated in the very heart of an untamed wilderness, natures own law of "the survival of the fittest" became the law of the inhabitants of the town. For the next hundred and more years, they fought their way, with undaunted courage, through any obstacle that reared it's head. At times, the community fought as a body, against the encroaching interests of outsiders. Frequently, battles raged, with family against family, and many times man versus man. Like the stories of the west, many of the feuds of Jonesville were settled with a six-gun.

A short time ago, a genial "old timer" who has lived his threescore and ten years, while sitting in his favorite spot on the sidewalk, entergained a group of visitors, with hair - raising tales, of life as it was lived in the town, in his young days. He ended his recital by telling of a free-for-all fight where everybody seemed intent on killing everybody else. At the height of the battle, he had decided it would be more healthy on the opposite side of the river. Once this decision was reached, he lost no time in getting there. Later a friend inquired as to how he had managed to cross Black river so quickly. At the laugh of derision that followed his statement, that he had walked across on a footlog, he retraced his steps to the bank of the river and found that, in his fright, he had really walked across the river on the shadow of a tall sycamore tree, standing near the edge of the water.

Many motor vehicles pass through the town, which is said to contain more modern service stations than does any other town of its size, in the south. Many beautiful homes nestle in the sun, in this town "Down in Dixie" and the waters of the rivers here whisper stories of the excitement of by-gone days.

discipline of the profession handle these matters quite well. The real danger is from political supervisors of ideas and morals. Free expression is the first consideration. The people, after all, must remain the best judge of what is fit."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Times - Star (Rep.): "The court has ruled out censorship based on religious and presumably on political grounds, but not necessarily on moral. Justice Clark said as much: 'Since the term 'sacrilegious' is the sold standard under attack here, it is not necessary for us to decide, for example, whether a state may censor movies under a clearly drawn statute . . . to prevent the showing of obscene films.' Because of their appeal to children there will always be some public demand for . . . moral censorship of films. . . . Justice Clark's words suggest the court has carefully left a loophole for a moral check-rein."

Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator (Ind.-Dem.): "As the news dispatches asserted, this 'obviously threw something of a cloud over the censorship agencies which operate in many states.' The extension arouses mixed feelings. On the one hand, any censorship is obnoxious in a democracy, and movie censorship has been abused. . . . On the other hand, many in show business are only too ready to cater to the worst instincts, and need to be curbed. Further decisions will be needed to clarify the full effect of this one, and we must look to the court to find a way to protect both freedom and public morals."

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 7. — Here in Filmville - by -the - Pacific, we have a reckless habit of speech. We like to acclaim a star as "the best this, or "the worst that, or "the most something else. We seldom deal in anything less than superlatives.

Ive always tried to avoid that habit, but I'll make an exception in the case of Shelley Winters. I fail to see how its possible to use anything but superlatives in talking, or writing, about her, since she, herself, never seems to do anything by halves. When she throws a temperamental tantrum, its sure to be the biggest, most violent, tantrum imaginable. When she decides to be gracious, she goes overboard on that, too. Shes a dozen different people in one body, half of them superlatively nice, and half of them suuerlatively objectionable. Even in her statements to the press, she achieves so many insistencies that its hard to believe one person is doing all the talking.

For instance, let me give you one of her more recent quotes anent her romance with Vittorio Gassman. Said she to her interviewer: "You know, Im lucky. Most Italians wont look at young girls; they want em 35 or 40.

Contrast that with her declaration, about a year ago, when she was commenting on columned reports about her romance with Farley Granger. "Actually, she said, "we're just devoted friends. There is too much difference in our ages for us to seriously consider marriage. Hes just a kid, and I feel old enough to be his mother.

According to the official records, the "young girl of today, and the "mother of a year ago, is thirty years old. I don't think official records mean a thing in the case of the bewildering Miss Winters. I prefer to believe that she is, actually, whatever age she happens to feel at the momen. I'm sure she shares the belief, or wou,d if she bothered to think about it. A girl like Shelley exists through "feeling rather than through "thinking.

Ive noticed that I am not the only person who finds her bewildering. Her directors all seem to pass through a well defined progression of reactions where she is concerned. First, hearing that they are to work with her, they experience terror. Second, while actually working with her, they experience rage. And, finally, having seen the results on the screen, they experience admiration.

No matter what else she is, or isnt, theres no denying the fact that shes a magnificent actress. And, again, Im sure she shares my opinion.
she shares the belief, or would if

People who criticize Bing Crosby's frequent refusals to appear at benefits, might be surprised to know how much cash he's donated to charities in recent years. . . . In need of a good role to bolster fading prestige: Lisabeth Scott. . . For a man who professes such optimistic philosophy, Lionel Barry - more certainly maintains a down-in-the-mouth appearance. . . . Ode to chivalry: Robert Taylor's insistence on devouring a mint before playing a love scene.

When the panty - raid craze hit American universities, the studio bosses at Universal - International were quick to glimpse opportunity. Having before the cameras at that precise moment a picture entitled "Bonzo Goes to College," they immediately decided to add a panty-raid sequence. I understand that it's now been filmed, and is very funny, but I also understand that much difficulty was experienced in shooting it. It seems that the hero of the picture — one of the most intelligent chimpanzees that ever faced a camera — simply refused to become interested in feminine unmentionables. I'll refrain from comparisons since they're always odious.

Several columnists have commented on the "new dignity" Betty Hutton is displaying since her marriage to Charles O'Curran, and I'm reminded of the campaign Betty's press agents staged, early in her career, to satisfy her demands for more dignified publicity. They decided to give, in Betty's home, a small party for a few carefully selected members of the Hollywood press — an exclusive preview, you might say, of the suddenly dignified Miss Hutton. The affair got under way in a very stilted fashion and became more and more stilted as the evening wore on. At about 10:30 Betty rebelled. "I don't know what the rest of you bums are going to do," she announced, "but I'm going to bed!"

we are now fighting. As Dulles puts it:

" . . . Asia is in a fair way to becoming what Stalin planned it to be: the road to victory over the West."

The question constantly arises as to why our statesmen continue to refuse to see our problem realistically, which obviously is that if we are defeated in Asia, Russia will have at her disposal all the manpower and resources of the east of Asia. No American or United Nations force exists in Korea or Japan capable of withstanding combined Russian and communist Chinese military power defensively.

This was known on January 12, 1951, when the Joint Chiefs of Staff and General MacArthur agreed upon an offensive war. This concept of our strategy was cancelled by Washington. Today, the Russian and communist Chinese power has increased, but the strategy has still not been changed.

Dulles says of this:

"So long as Soviet and Chinese communist leaders can pick the time, place and method of aggression anywhere in Asia, and so long as our only reliance is to rush ground troops to meet the aggressor at the time he selects, at the place he selects, and with the weapons he selects, we are at a disadvantage which can be fatal . . . RAYVILLE 4-H MEMBERS BUY JERSEY HEIFERS

4-H club and FFA members of the Rayville area purchased fifteen head of registered Jersey heifers this week, which will be delivered June 11. This is the first group of heifers bought by boys and girls of this area, which should prove to be an excellent start in a dairy calf project. This project has been needed for some time in this area to round out a livestock program; and it is excellent start in a dairy calf project. This project has been needed for some time in this area to round out a livestock program; and it is expected to expand rapidly and create much interest among club members.

The heifers were purchased from the Reese Jersey farm at Waco, Tex., one of the outstanding Jersey herds in the south. Animals from this herd have won numerous championships in Louisiana and Texas livestock shows over a period of years. This herd also received the highest classification among dairy herds in Texas during 1951.

Boys and girls who purchased the heifers are as follows: Patsy Adcock, Joan Sorey, and Mack Bradshaw of the Rayville 4-H Club; Elaine Flint, Roslyn Ann Thames, and Charles Thomason of the Mangham 4-H Club; Tom Hill, Harold Barmore, Donald Arrant, and Ben McClain of the Mangham FFA; Merle Smith, Claude Eppinette, and James McGlothlin of the Rayville FFA; and W. L. Strong of the Holly Ridge FFA.

Charles Elkins and J. C. Letlow, vocational agriculture instructors in Rayville and Mangham, and Sidney Reech, Jr., assistant county agent, made the trip to Waco to purchase the heifers for the club members. All of the heifers were purchased through a financing plan sponsored by the following business establishments in Rayville; Scott Truck and Tractor Company, Richland Motor Company, Glover Hardware, Rayville Ford Company, Hammett Implement Company, Richland State Bank, Courtesy Chevrolet Company, Planters Seed and Supply Company, Richland Seed and Supply Company, and Borne and Goforth Gin Company.

Graduation day means the end of midnight panty raids on sorority dormitories for Joe, but this year he has compensations.

The world isn't waiting for Joe College to build a better mouse trap before beating a path to his door. It is beating his door down in the hope he can build any kind of a mouse trap.

Big business scouts have been standing in line to pick off the cream of the college graduates, offering them $400 a month and up to start.

Usually I write a letter of advice to the June graduate. But not this year. Not after reading of one bright young fellow who is stepping into a $10,000 a year post.

What most older men would like is a letter of advice from him on how he did it. Ten thousand dollars? Even professional baby sitters don't make that kind of money today.

But many a Joe College is going to have to postpone accepting the golden offers that come his way. There is an earlier bid for his services put in by an elder member of his family — Uncle Sam.

There is a story going around about an old-fashioned husband who thought his wife was spending too much time watching television. He put his foot down and flatly forbade her to turn the set on during the day.

The following evening he came home and caught her sitting in front of it. He bawled her out.

discipline of the profession handle these matters quite well. The real danger is from political supervisors of ideas and morals. Free expression is the first consideration. The people, after all, must remain the best judge of what is fit."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Times - Star (Rep.): "The court has ruled out censorship based on religious and presumably on political grounds, but not necessarily on moral. Justice Clark said as much: 'Since the term 'sacrilegious' is the sold standard under attack here, it is not necessary for us to decide, for example, whether a state may censor movies under a clearly drawn statute . . . to prevent the showing of obscene films.' Because of their appeal to children there will always be some public demand for . . . moral censorship of films. . . . Justice Clark's words suggest the court has carefully left a loophole for a moral check-rein."

Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator (Ind.-Dem.): "As the news dispatches asserted, this 'obviously threw something of a cloud over the censorship agencies which operate in many states.' The extension arouses mixed feelings. On the one hand, any censorship is obnoxious in a democracy, and movie censorship has been abused. . . . On the other hand, many in show business are only too ready to cater to the worst instincts, and need to be curbed. Further decisions will be needed to clarify the full effect of this one, and we must look to the court to find a way to protect both freedom and public morals."

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 7. — Here in Filmville - by -the - Pacific, we have a reckless habit of speech. We like to acclaim a star as "the best this, or "the worst that, or "the most something else. We seldom deal in anything less than superlatives.

Ive always tried to avoid that habit, but I'll make an exception in the case of Shelley Winters. I fail to see how its possible to use anything but superlatives in talking, or writing, about her, since she, herself, never seems to do anything by halves. When she throws a temperamental tantrum, its sure to be the biggest, most violent, tantrum imaginable. When she decides to be gracious, she goes overboard on that, too. Shes a dozen different people in one body, half of them superlatively nice, and half of them superlatively objectionable. Even in her statements to the press, she achieves so many insistencies that its hard to believe one person is doing all the talking.

For instance, let me give you one of her more recent quotes anent her romance with Vittorio Gassman. Said she to her interviewer: "You know, Im lucky. Most Italians wont look at young girls; they want em 35 or 40.

Contrast that with her declaration, about a year ago, when she was commenting on columned reports about her romance with Farley Granger. "Actually, she said, "we're just devoted friends. There is too much difference in our ages for us to seriously consider marriage. Hes just a kid, and I feel old enough to be his mother.

According to the official records, the "young girl of today, and the "mother of a year ago, is thirty years old. I don't think official records mean a thing in the case of the bewildering Miss Winters. I prefer to believe that she is, actually, whatever age she happens to feel at the momen. I'm sure she shares the belief, or wou,d if she bothered to think about it. A girl like Shelley exists through "feeling rather than through "thinking.

Ive noticed that I am not the only person who finds her bewildering. Her directors all seem to pass through a well defined progression of reactions where she is concerned. First, hearing that they are to work with her, they experience terror. Second, while actually working with her, they experience rage. And, finally, having seen the results on the screen, they experience admiration.

No matter what else she is, or isnt, theres no denying the fact that shes a magnificent actress. And, again, Im sure she shares my opinion. :
she shares the belief, or would if

of advertising director. She can be identified as one of many youngsters who have joined the ranks of newspaper enthusiasts through this medium.

At the early age of eight, Irene launched her career with the establishment of a newspaper stand on the corner of Desiard and N. Second streets and mastered her first major step concerning the technique of selling. Many Twin City residents will remember the small girl sitting on the box at the busy corner, telling citizens who walked by, the headline news of the day.

In time, Irene was given the job of counting out papers for other newspaper salesboys and checking their money. Not satisfied with the progress which she had already accomplished Irene next accepted the position as West Monroe carrier. Her third step forward came with this job, which required that she deliver papers on muleback, a hard task for any young lady, but one which Irene, with her ambition, successfully accomplished.

The ambition growing, Irene delivered the West Monroe carrier job to her successor and entered the mechanical end of the newspaper business, learning to run the press, which at that time was of the old "flat-bed" type. Reports from papers all over the nation state that she was the only woman in the south ever to operate a press.

After learning the press room procedure, Irene entered the composing room as an apprentice to operate a linotype machine. Approximately six months later she was transferred back to the circulation department where she assumed the title of circulation manager. Her next step up was in the Classified Advertising Department — later becoming Classified manager. In a short time after she assumed the position, records of the department show that progress was measured at 100 per cent, having increased the advertising from two columns to a full page in less than five months time.

In 1940, Irene was appointed advertising director for the combined newspapers, Monroe Morning World and News Star, a job which she has held since that time. In this capacity, Irene has received national publicity for the methods which she has used in conducting the advertising business of the Ewing papers.

More than any other newspaper woman in the South, Irene has been given publicity in such national magazines as "Editor and Publisher," "Publisher's Auxiliary," "Business and Professional Women Magazine," "Life" and "Time" magazines. The last two publications ran feature stories on Irene Reid and the Monroe papers as the only large dailies with an all girl advertising selling staff.

Within the past year other departments have been added which employ men, but Irene still maintains that women are "naturals" when it comes to handling and writing newspaper advertising. Her selling staff remains an all - girl organization.

The real story of the courageous woman, Irene, is the old American story, one can succeed when one has the great desire to do so, and can accomplish anything by determination and hard work.

Faces of members of the imperial court are painted on ivory, and their garments are of appliqued silk.

Hunter said it was a real privilege for us to be able to see the fan. He explained that he seldom showed it because it was too delicate and rare to be handled too much. He keeps it in a specially made case, lined with a soft material.

The fan was taken by a British soldier during a ransacking of the imperial palace in an invasion of China by the British in the middle of the nineteenth century, according to Hunter. In her travels, Mrs. Gordon purchased the fan, now valued at $500.

Another item Hunter showed from the Gordon collection was a 400-year-old chair from Doge's in Venice Italy. The beautiful, sturdy, hand-carved chair is made of circassian walnut and is the Renaisance period. The Gordon collection was filled with many such interesting items.

Hunter pointed out that the Dodge palace chair was used by European royalty before it was bought in Venice by Mrs. Gordon. He invited the ladies of the touring party to sit in the chair. He commented, all American women are eligible to sit in that chair because everyone of them is a queen.

Hunter told that to Martha Ann as she sat in the chair and Aubrey fanned her with the $500. Chinese fan.

from making recess appointments of individuals who are not qualified and who cannot obtain senate confirmation, which it was the purpose of the constitution to prevent.

Senator Jim Sparks, one of the proponents of the bill in the Senate, said today that the amendments to be offered in the house were satisfactory to him and he felt certain they would be satisfactory to the other members of the Senate. Senator Sparks pointed out that the bill had passed the Senate 37-0 and the administration leaders had supported the bill in the Senate and raised no objection thereto. He said that the bill in effect does not change the present existing law, except as to the time when the governor must obtain Senate confirmation of his appointments. As the law now stands, all recess appointments must be confirmed by the Senate at the end of the session following the appointment. The only change under this bill would be to require the governor to obtain confirmation of appointments requiring Senate confirmation within ten days after making them.

Senator Sparks said further that the bill was not aimed at Governor Kennon, but was introduced for the purpose of making effective the authority given the Senate to confirm or reject appointments under the Constitution of Louisiana, but which some governors in the past have seen fit to try to circumvent where they felt the appointee would not receive Senate confirmation. The Senate under the Constitution, said Sparks, is a part of the appointive power as to certain offices. This bill is to preserve and make effective the power conferred and duty imposed on the Senate by the Constitution of the state of Louisiana.

Educators To Meet At Northeast

State leaders in school community health education will hold a district meeting Tuesday in the science building on the Northeast State campus.

All general sessions and group conferences are open to the public, announced Mrs. Edith Ross, chairman of the state department of public welfare.

Tuesday's meeting is planned by the state inter - departmental committee which includes the following Louisiana departments: health, education, public welfare, the hospital board and commission for children and youth.

Mrs. Ross, who will preside at the conference, was in charge of a similar project held at the local college last summer.

The program opens at 9 a. m. with registration, followed by a general convocation at 9:15. The group will be welcomed by Pres. Lewis C. Slater of Northeast.

Dr. Robert L. Simmons of the Louisiana State University School of Medicine, is to address the assembly on "Adequate Health Services for Children of School Age."

Other speakers on the morning agenda include Dr. Bruce W. Everist, Jr., who will discuss the work of the Lincoln parish health council, and Mrs. Samuel Levy, president of the Louisiana health council. She will give the main achievements and problems of the organization which was formed last year.

General sessions will be followed by group discussions with consultants. This plan gives opportunity for persons interested in particular phases of health education to confer with units stressing nutrition, blind and sight conservation, dental health, nursing, tuberculosis, regional sanitation and other aspects of health.

A general discussion at 3 p. m. will emphasize socio drama. Then the conference will end with an evaluation of the day's program.

He Used to Hide Out when his creditors came

He was 'way behind with his bills—couldn't seem to catch up. So he took what he thought was the easy way out—dodging his creditors, avoiding a reckoning day.

Then, realizing one day that he was losing the respectable reputation he formerly enjoyed, he mustered up the courage to talk things over with his creditors. And he was relieved to find that it was not the ordeal he thought it would be.

In many cases, as in this one, people who cannot immediately pay their bills will find friendly counsel and cooperation from the Credit Manager, and from the local Credit Bureau Manager. These credit executives are interested in helping people to understand the sound use of credit, and glad to show them how to establish and maintain a good credit record.

If you are behind in your bills—and thus jeopardizing your credit privilege, see your creditors or the Credit Bureau Manager. They will help you straighten out your credit problems without embarrassment, annoyance and loss of "face." If temporarily distressed and unable to pay your bills in full, dodging your creditors won't help. Call on them and talk it over.

Well Known Ward 5 Resident Seeks Post On Parish School Board

Dale Cobb, well known West Monroe resident and businessman, is candidate from ward 5 for membership on the Ouachita parish school board. His statement is as follows:

"I offer my candidacy for school board membership from ward 5, solely because so many of my friends asked that I run. I assure you that I will at all times render to the people of ward 5 and the entire parish a high type of school service. I am conscious of the local school problems constantly arising and I will at all times weigh these problems thoroughly and base my decisions on the merits of each problem, bearing in mind, that these decisions be in the best interest of our school children. I also will work and cooperate with the other school board members from ward 5 to keep our schools in pace with our changing times.

"I am a lifetime resident of West Monroe and ward 5. I attended Crosley Grammar School, the Ouachita Parish High School and the Northeast Junior College.

"I am married and have two daughters, Bernie Gene, age 9 and Mollie Ann, age 13. Both of my daughters attend Crosley School. Our family residence is at 406 Filhoil avenue, West Monroe.

"I formerly was employed by the Brown Paper Mill and I worked for this firm 12 years. Presently, I am sales manager with a local Building Materials Company. I am a member of the First Baptist Church here in West Monroe and also a member of the West Monroe Kiwanis Club.

"I assure you, the people, of ward 5 that I will serve you as school board member, to the best of my ability."

DALE COBB IS TO MAKE RACE

Well Known Ward 5 Resident Seeks Post On Parish School Board

Dale Cobb, well known West Monroe resident and businessman, is candidate from ward 5 for membership on the Ouachita parish school board. His statement is as follows:

"I offer my candidacy for school board membership from ward 5, solely because so many of my friends asked that I run. I assure you that I will at all times render to the people of ward 5 and the entire parish a high type of school service. I am conscious of the local school problems constantly arising and I will at all times weigh these problems thoroughly and base my decisions on the merits of each problem, bearing in mind, that these decisions be in the best interest of our school children. I also will work and cooperate with the other school board members from ward 5 to keep our schools in pace with our changing times.

"I am a lifetime resident of West Monroe and ward 5. I attended Crosley Grammar School, the Ouachita Parish High School and the Northeast Junior College.

"I am married and have two daughters, Bernie Gene, age 9 and Mollie Ann, age 13. Both of my daughters attend Crosley School. Our family residence is at 406 Filhoil avenue, West Monroe.

"I formerly was employed by the Brown Paper Mill and I worked for this firm 12 years. Presently, I am sales manager with a local Building Materials Company. I am a member of the First Baptist Church here in West Monroe and also a member of the West Monroe Kiwanis Club.

"I assure you, the people, of ward 5 that I will serve you as school board member, to the best of my ability."

PINE BLUFF SHELLS MONROE FOR 12-7 WIN

RIP VAN WINKLE HITS 4-FOR-5 IN FUTILE ASSAULT

Big Seven-Run Seventh Inning Pays Off For Judges

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 7 (Special)— The Monroe Sports didn't have enough Jesse Van Winkle's tonight and lost their sixth game in eight starts against Pine Bluff here tonight as the Judges shelled the invaders for a 12-7 win in the opener of a three-game series.

Monroe was held to tight hits by Joe Riekin, but Van Winkle, Sports second baseman who returned to the lineup after a week's absence because of an injury, got half of those and scored four of Monroe's total runs.

George Andrews also figured big in the Monroe attack batting in the first three runs with a double and a home run. John Paul Jones socked a homer off Riekin in the eighth.

The Judges reached "Arky" Bowden, the losing pitcher, and Ralph Erwin for 12 hits, but it was a big seven-run seventh inning that iced the game away for the Judges as eleven men came to bat in the frame to collect six hits and two bases on balls in rolling up the score.

Bob Hale and George Wegeruk led the Judges with three hits each.

George Wegeruk's two - run triple, followed by a single by Tom Skole, helped the Judges to three runs to open the scoring in the third inning. Lyle Shaw walked and Skipper Hillis Layne was hit by a pitched ball to get Bowden into trouble. Riekin forced Layne, but Wegeruk followed with his triple into right field to score Shaw and Rieken. Skole's single scored Wegeruk.

Jesse Van Winkle and George Andrews teamed to furnish the Sports an opening run in the fourth when Andrews slammed a double into center field to score Van Winkle who had collected a single, the first hit off Riekin.

But the Judges used the double-single combination in reserve in the fifth for run No. 4. Two were out when Lee Waszk punched a single into left field and romped home on a double by Frank Hensley.

The Andrews-Van Winkle combine produced again in the sixth for the Sports and Monroe had cut the Pine Bluff edge to 4-3. This time Van Winkle led with a single but couldn't advance as John Paul Jones and Hal Walther went down on pop-ups. But Andrews delivered his second home run of the season over the left field fence, Van Winkle trotting home ahead of him.

The Judges finished Bowden in the big seven - run seventh and worked Erwin, the reliefer, for three of the tallies before the inning was over. Wegeruk and Waszk were on with singles and two were out when Al DeLuca and Bob Hale hit successive singles, scoring Wegeruk and Waszk to finish Bowden. Erwin walked Shaw and served up a three - run double to Angie Marini, coming in to bat for Layne who had been expelled from the game by Umpire Paul Kolach earlier in the inning for protesting decisions while Hensley was fanning. Riekin worked Erwin for a free pass and scored on the second hit of the inning by Wegeruk, a double. Skole finally flied out to center field to end the inning.

Van Winkle connected for his third consecutive hit in the eighth and scored on Jones' homer.

Two were out and Hensley was on first as the result of an error when Hale slashed a double into center field, scoring Hensley for Pine Bluff's final run.

Van Winkle was still punching strong in the ninth but the Sports couldn't catch up. Bob Sprentall had walked and stole second when Van Winkle drove him home with a double. Then the Monroe second baseman stole third and scored when Wegeruk muffed a Jones grounder.

Gil Hodges Snaps String At 227 Straight Games

CINCINNATI, June 7. (AP)—Gil Hodges, Brooklyn Dodger first baseman, was out of the Dodger lineup today aftre playing in 277 consecutive games.

Hodges missed today's game with the Cincinnati Reds because of a spike wound in the left instep suffered in last night's contest. X-rays showed no serious injury and Hodges may be back in action tomorrow.

Hodges was spiked by teammate Roy Campanella when the two players collided while chasing a pop fly.

Stream Of Light Wins Lancashire Oaks Race

MANCHESTER, June 7. (AP)—Queen Elisabeth's three-year-old filly, Stream of Light, won the 11-furlong Lancashire Oaks today. The race was worth about 800 pounds ($2,240).

It was the queen's first success in the royal colors she adopted from her late father — purple jacket with gold braid, scarlet sleeves with black velvet cap and gold fringe. Until the court came out of mourning her horses raced in the name and colors of the Duke of Norfolk.

BRITISH CAPTURE FIRST DAVIS CUP

Defeat America's Young Contenders For 5 To 4 Win

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, June 7. (AP)—Britain's victory-starved women golfers quashed a dramatic American rally in the nick of time today for a 5 to 4 victory that gave them their first Curtis Cup in 30 long years of trying.

The best the British ladies have been able to do previously in this international competition, dating back to 1922, was a tie in 1936. This also was the first British golf triumph over the United States by either women or men since Britain's Walker Cup victory in 1938.

But the home supporters had many anxious moments before Elizabeth Price of England sank a six - inch putt on the 34th hole to give her a 3 and 2 victory over Grace DeMoss, Corvallis, Ore., in the day's final singles match.

The British had seen the U. S. forces, youngest ever to represent their country in the series, battle back from the rim of defeat to square the score at 4-4, with one match to go.

The Americans had lost two of yesterday's three foursome tests and had trailed in four of the six singles contests today after the morning 18 - hole rounds.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., was the only American never in trouble as she led the American charge, followed by Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, Ga., and Claire Doran, Cleveland, who also scored victories.

Miss Riley walloped Moira Paterson, Scotland, 6 and 4. Miss Kirby, U. S. women's titleholder, had to fight back from a five - hole deficit to beat out Jean Donald, the Scottish champion, one up. Miss Miss Doran, down two holes after the first 18, rallied to conquer Philomena Garvey, Ireland, 3 and 2.

Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., and Mae Murray, Rutland, Vt., shared losing roles with Miss DeMoss. Miss Lindsay dropped a close match to Frances Stephens, England, 2 and 1. Miss Murray was soundly beaten by Jeanne Bisgood, the English champion, 6 and 5.

Rawls, Berg Tied For Eastern Lead

READING, Pa., June 7 (AP)—Betsy Rawls, Austin, Tex., played par 72 golf today to tie Patty Berg, St. Paul, Minn., at 149 during the second round of the 54-hole Women's Eastern Open Golf Tournament at the Berkshire Country club.

Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., older half of the famous sister act of golfdom, also carded a 74 which bracketed her in a three-way tie for second place with Louise Suggs, the sweet swinger from Carrollton, Ga., and Betty Jameson, the San Antonio, Tex., professional.

The field for the $3,500 tournament was shaved to 12 professionals and 11 amateurs for tomorrow's final round.

Top scores:

Patty Berg, St. Paul, Minn., 75-74—149.
Betsy Rawls, Austin, Tex., 77-72—149.
Louise Suggs, Carrollton, Ga., 76-76—152.
Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., 78-74—152.
Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., 76-76—152.
Betty MacKinnon, Mt. Pleasant, Tex., 77-78—155.

Reds Sign Gowdy As Co-Ordinator

CINCINNATI, June 7 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds today signed Hank Gowdy of Columbus, one - time major league catcher, as co-ordinator of Redleg tryout camps.

The 62-year-old Gowdy will start his new duties Monday. Last year he was a scout and trouble-shooter for the Cleveland Indians but he has not been in baseball this season.

Gowdy, a catcher for the New York Giants and the Boston Braves, was the first major leaguer to enter military service in World War I. He was a coach with the Reds in 1939 and 1940 when Cincinnati won its last National League pennants.

McGuire Park Schedules Four-Ball Tourney For Last Week End In June

West Monroe Event Slated To Run For Three Days

McGuire Park Golf Club of West Monroe will present its first annual Four-Ball Tournament, and one of the few such events sponsored in this section of the country, as its first big show of the summer season on June 27-28-29.

Contenders will be permitted to choose their own partners and play as a team all the way through.

Partners must qualify together, and entries will be permitted to qualify on their home courses with their best ball determining the flight they will play in.

Championship flight contenders, however, will be required to qualify over the McGuire Park layout with all championship qualifying scheduled at McGuire for June 27.

Others not contending for the top flight and getting in their tests on home courses, are required to call or mail their scores to McGuire Club not later than June 26.

Jack Finley, new McGuire pro, last night said the course, beginning tomorrow, will be open for practice rounds to all contestants who have paid their entry fee of $7.50 or $15 per team.

"The course is in fine shape and everyone connected with McGuire hope as many as possible will be able to be with us for a fine tournament and a grand time," Findley said.

The tournament committee, headed by Chairman Bill Jones, includes O. B. Moses, Kenneth Holt, Ray Buce, and Jimmy Green. They plan a dance and barbecue supper for Saturday night, June 28, which will be free to all contestants.

Chairman Jones last night requested that any golfers desiring any additional information on the Four-Ball communicate with Pro Findley at McGuire Park, phone 2-0696.

Olson Pointing For July Match

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson, Honolulu middleweight, is headed toward a July date at San Francisco with Jake La Motta or Robert Villemain.

Olson, a shifty combination Jimmy Beau of New Canaan, Conn. Friday night to win a unanimous 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

Promoter Jimmy Murray revealed his plans for using Olson with La Motta or Villemain in the dressing room after the fight. Much depends on La Motta's bout with Irish Bob Murphy at Detroit Wednesday night.

The smallest crowd of the year —2,463 paying $6,231 — saw Olson rake Beau's body and head with his chopping inside punches. They fought most of the time at close range with Olson's head pillowed on Beau's chest.

All three officials made it a one-sided win for Olson. Judge Jack Gordon was the only man who gave Beau a round. He scored it 7-2-1. Judge Art Aidala had it 9-0-1 and referee Ray Miller 8-0-2.

There were no knockdowns although Beau was shaken up several times. He slipped down in the fourth.

British Have Two Big Bouts In Week

LONDON, June 7. (AP)—Two title scraps which may have considerable bearing on world boxing titles are sandwiched back - to - back in England next week.

At Nottingham on Monday night clever Ray Famechon of France will defend his European featherweight title for the fifth time since he won it early in 1948, this time against Roy Ankarah, who calls himself the "Black Flash" from the Gold Coast.

Tuesday night in London former world middleweight champion Randy Turpin steps up a weight notch to challenge Don Cockell for the British light heavyweight title. Both bouts are scheduled for 15 rounds.

The Famechon - Ankarah fight will set up a highly rated challenger for World Champion Sandy Saddler. Two months ago all of the world's boxing associations agreed the Nottingham winner would be rated No. 1 behind Saddler. But the National Boxing Association of the United States had a change of heart.

The current U. S. version is that the Famechon - Ankarah winner should meet the winner of an American elimination series for the right to take Saddler. Saddler, himself, is now in the army.

Minor League

Tuesday's Games
Red Sox vs. Indians.

Wednesday's Games
Braves vs. Cardinals.

Three sponsors have been secured for the Minor League but one more sponsor is needed. Sponsors are Adams Cleaners, Lee Motor Sales and Field's.

The teams will be renamed this week if another sponsor can be secured. To sponsor a team it will cost $50 for the baseball season. Anyone interested may contact the Recreation Center.

H. And W. Sports To Play Eureka

The Hunt and Whitaker Sports of Monroe and Eureka will meet in a Delta League contest this afternoon at Cloyd's Park in West Monroe.

Manager Johnny Myers' Sports, leading the amateur circuit, will meet Eureka at 2:30 o'clock. In addition, Hunt and Whitaker has been carrying on an ambitious exhibition schedule with teams from other leagues in this section, winning a majority of their games in both exhibition as well as league play.

WIGHTMAN PLAY STARTS FRIDAY

Four American Girls Defend Cup Against Anglos

LONDON, June 7. (AP)—Four American women, including the present and almost certainly the future Wimbledon champions, meet the British Friday and Saturday in defense of the Wightman Cup, symbol of Anglo - American tennis supremacy.

In seven matches on the No. 1 court at Wimbledon the Americans will display the strokes and style that have made them unchallenged champions of the post - war world.

The American team is made up of 17 - year -old Maureen Connolly, the U. S. champion: Doris Hart, the 1951 Wimbledon champion; Louise Brough, three - time Wimbledon titleholder, and Shirley Fry, last year's French champion and Wimbledon runner-up.

Opposing them will be a British squad of six, including Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel. The British have won only two out of 41 individual Wightman Cup matches in the seven series since the war. Mrs. Rinkel, who was then Miss Quertier, won one of those last year when she beat Miss Fry in straight sets.

Other members of the British team are Mrs. Jan Walker-Smith, Mrs. Joy Mottram, Susan Partridg, Pat Ward and Helen Fletcher.

Two singles matches and one doubles match will be played Friday starting at 8 a. m. (CST). On Saturday there will be three singles and one doubles, starting at 7:30 a. m. (CST). The draw for opponents will be made Wednesday.

ONE COUNT COPS BELMONT PURSE

Favored Blue Man Runs Second; Armageddon Third

NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—One Count, an outsider, defeated the favored Blue Man by three lengths in the 84th Belmont Stakes today. Armageddon was third.

With Eddie Arcaro in the saddle for his fifth Belmont Stakes winner, One Count covered the mile and one - half in 2:30 1-5 to take down the $82,400 winner's share of the gross purse of $118,500.

One Count, third in the Preakness won by Blue Man, carried the silks of Mrs. Walter Jeffords to victory with a great stretch run that staved off the challenge of A. W. Abbott's Blue Man, which went postward the odds on choice in the field of six three - year - olds.

One Count, a son of Count Fleet which set the stake record of 2:28-1-5 in 1943, paid $27.60, 4.60 and $2.80. Blue Man returned $2.50 and $2.20 and Armageddon $2.70.

Armageddon trailed Blue Man by 10 lengths. Then came King Jolie, Sub Fleet and Olympic.

Browns Dispose Of Arft; Recall Pitcher Mahoney

ST. LOUIS, June 7. (AP)—First Baseman Hank Arft was sold outright to Portland of the Pacific Coast League today by the St. Louis Browns.

To fill the gap in the club's roster, righthander Bob Mahoney made his second trip up to the Browns this season from their San Antonio farm in the Texas League. He won two, lost five with the Browns and Chicago White Sox in 1951.

Arft, 30, has been with the Browns since coming up from Toledo, O., in 1948. An off-and-on first baseman last season, he apperred in but 15 games this year and had only four hits in 28 times at bat. All of the hits were for extra bases.

San Jose Athlete Tags Net Crown

ABILENE, Tex., June 7 (AP)—Butch Krikorian of San Jose State swept up the singles championship of the National Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament today, beating Carl Wilson of Western Illinois in straight sets.

Krikorian wasn't pressed as he won 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. His drop shot and back spin on his serves kept Wilson in hot water much of the time. The San Jose star, a left hander, played the net vigorously all during the match.

Krikorian beat Gene Powell of Washburn, 6-3, 6-4, and Wilson took out Jim Flynn of the University of Portland, 7-5, 6-4, in the semi-finals this morning.

Little League Field Damaged By Vandals

Jack Hesketh, secretary of the Little League, reported last night that someone had done about $120 worth of damage at the Little League field during the past week.

Hesketh said that the "vandalism" resulted in having to replace the roof at the Little League field.

He announced also yesterday that two donations amounting to $3.50 had been given to the Little League fund. Henry Thomas donated $1 and Mrs. Wright donated $2.50.

DOUGLAS GRABS ARDMORE LEAD

'Dutch' Harrison Two Strokes Behind New Leader

ARDMORE, Okla., June 7 (AP)—Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., professional, shot his second straight sub-par round to assume the lead today in the $15,000 Ardmore Open Golf Tournament.

Now ranked 14th among the money leaders on the current Professional Golfers Association tour, Douglas posted a one - under par 69 today to go with his earlier rounds of 70 and 68 for a 207 total.

This was two strokes better than E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the host professional, who also had a 69 today for a 209.

PINE BLUFF SHELLS MONROE FOR 12-7 WIN

Big Seven-Run Seventh Inning Pays Off For Judges

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 7 (Special)— The Monroe Sports didn't have enough Jesse Van Winkle's tonight and lost their sixth game in eight starts against Pine Bluff here tonight as the Judges shelled the invaders for a 12-7 win in the opener of a three-game series.

Monroe was held to tight hits by Joe Riekin, but Van Winkle, Sports second baseman who returned to the lineup after a week's absence because of an injury, got half of those and scored four of Monroe's total runs.

George Andrews also figured big in the Monroe attack batting in the first three runs with a double and a home run. John Paul Jones socked a homer off Riekin in the eighth.

The Judges reached "Arky" Bowden, the losing pitcher, and Ralph Erwin for 12 hits, but it was a big seven-run seventh inning that iced the game away for the Judges as eleven men came to bat in the frame to collect six hits and two bases on balls in rolling up the score.

Bob Hale and George Wegeruk led the Judges with three hits each.

George Wegeruk's two - run triple, followed by a single by Tom Skole, helped the Judges to three runs to open the scoring in the third inning. Lyle Shaw walked and Skipper Hillis Layne was hit by a pitched ball to get Bowden into trouble. Riekin forced Layne, but Wegeruk followed with his triple into right field to score Shaw and Rieken. Skole's single scored Wegeruk.

Jesse Van Winkle and George Andrews teamed to furnish the Sports an opening run in the fourth when Andrews slammed a double into center field to score Van Winkle who had collected a single, the first hit off Riekin.

But the Judges used the double-single combination in reserve in the fifth for run No. 4. Two were out when Lee Waszk punched a single into left field and romped home on a double by Frank Hensley.

The Andrews-Van Winkle combine produced again in the sixth for the Sports and Monroe had cut the Pine Bluff edge to 4-3. This time Van Winkle led with a single but couldn't advance as John Paul Jones and Hal Walther went down on pop-ups. But Andrews delivered his second home run of the season over the left field fence, Van Winkle trotting home ahead of him.

The Judges finished Bowden in the big seven - run seventh and worked Erwin, the reliefer, for three of the tallies before the inning was over. Wegeruk and Waszk were on with singles and two were out when Al DeLuca and Bob Hale hit successive singles, scoring Wegeruk and Waszk to finish Bowden. Erwin walked Shaw and served up a three - run double to Angie Marini, coming in to bat for Layne who had been expelled from the game by Umpire Paul Kolach earlier in the inning for protesting decisions while Hensley was fanning. Riekin worked Erwin for a free pass and scored on the second hit of the inning by Wegeruk, a double. Skole finally flied out to center field to end the inning.

Van Winkle connected for his third consecutive hit in the eighth and scored on Jones' homer.

Two were out and Hensley was on first as the result of an error when Hale slashed a double into center field, scoring Hensley for Pine Bluff's final run.

Van Winkle was still punching strong in the ninth but the Sports couldn't catch up. Bob Sprentall had walked and stole second when Van Winkle drove him home with a double. Then the Monroe second baseman stole third and scored when Wegeruk muffed a Jones grounder.

Gil Hodges Snaps String At 227 Straight Games

CINCINNATI, June 7. (AP)—Gil Hodges, Brooklyn Dodger first baseman, was out of the Dodger lineup today aftre playing in 277 consecutive games.

Hodges missed today's game with the Cincinnati Reds because of a spike wound in the left instep suffered in last night's contest. X-rays showed no serious injury and Hodges may be back in action tomorrow.

Hodges was spiked by teammate Roy Campanella when the two players collided while chasing a pop fly.

Stream Of Light Wins Lancashire Oaks Race

MANCHESTER, June 7. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth's three-year-old filly, Stream of Light, won the 11-furlong Lancashire Oaks today. The race was worth about 800 pounds ($2,240).

It was the queen's first success in the royal colors she adopted from her late father — purple jacket with gold braid, scarlet sleeves with black velvet cap and gold fringe. Until the court came out of mourning her horses raced in the name and colors of the Duke of Norfolk.

BRITISH CAPTURE FIRST DAVIS CUP

Defeat America's Young Contenders For 5 To 4 Win

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, June 7. (AP)—Britain's victory-starved women golfers quashed a dramatic American rally in the nick of time today to for a 5 to 4 victory that gave them their first Curtis Cup in 30 long years of trying.

The best the British ladies have been able to do previously in this international competition, dating back to 1922, was a tie in 1936. This also was the first British golf triumph over the United States by either women or men since Britain's Walker Cup victory in 1938.

But the home supporters had many anxious moments before Elizabeth Price of England sank a six - inch putt on the 34th hole to give her a 3 and 2 victory over Grace DeMoss, Corvallis, Ore., in the day's final singles match.

The British had seen the U. S. forces, youngest ever to represent their country in the series, battle back from the rim of defeat to square the score at 4-4, with one match to go.

The Americans had lost two of yesterday's three foursome tests and had trailed in four of the six singles contests today after the morning 18 - hole rounds.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., was the only American never in trouble as she led the American charge, followed by Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, Ga., and Claire Doran, Cleveland, who also scored victories.

Miss Riley walloped Moira Paterson, Scotland, 6 and 4. Miss Kirby, U. S. women's titleholder, had to fight back from a five - hole deficit to beat Jean Donald, the Scottish champion, one up. Miss Miss Doran, down two holes after the first 18, rallied to conquer Philomena Garvey, Ireland, 3 and 2.

Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., and Mae Murray, Rutland, Vt., shared losing roles with Miss DeMoss. Miss Lindsay dropped a close match to Frances Stephens, England, 2 and 1. Miss Murray was soundly beaten by Jeanne Bisgood, the English champion, 6 and 5.

Rawls, Berg Tied For Eastern Lead

READING, Pa., June 7 (AP)—Betsy Rawls, Austin, Tex., played par 72 golf today to tie Patty Berg, St. Paul, Minn., at 149 during the second round of the 54-hole Women's Eastern Open Golf Tournament at the Berkshire Country club.

Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., older half of the famous sister act of golfdom, also carded a 74 which bracketed her in a three-way tie for second place with Louise Suggs, the sweet swinger from Carrollton, Ga., and Betty Jameson, the San Antonio, Tex., professional.

The field for the $3,500 tournament was shaved to 12 professionals and 11 amateurs for tomorrow's final round.

Top scores:

Patty Berg, St. Paul, Minn., 75-74—149.

Betsy Rawls, Austin, Tex., 77-72—149.

Louise Suggs, Carrollton, Ga., 76-76—152.

Reds Sign Gowdy As Co-Ordinator

CINCINNATI, June 7 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds today signed Hank Gowdy of Columbus, one - time major league catcher, as co-ordinator of Redleg tryout camps.

The 62-year-old Gowdy will start his new duties Monday. Last year he was a scout and trouble-shooter for the Cleveland Indians but he has not been in baseball this season.

Gowdy, a catcher for the New York Giants and the Boston Braves, was the first big leaguer to enter military service in World War I. He later coached the Reds in 1939 and 1940 when Cincinnati won its last National League pennants.

McGuire Park Schedules Four-Ball Tourney For Last Week End In June

West Monroe Event Slated To Run For Three Days

McGuire Park Golf Club of West Monroe will present its first annual Four-Ball Tournament, and one of the few such events sponsored in this section of the country, as its first big show of the summer season on June 27-28-29.

Contenders will be permitted to choose their own partners and play as a team all the way through.

Partners must qualify together, and entries will be permitted to qualify on their home courses with their best ball determining the flight they will play in.

Championship flight contenders, however, will be required to qualify over the McGuire Park layout with all championship qualifying scheduled at McGuire for June 27.

Others not contending for the top flight and getting in their tests on home courses, are required to call or mail their scores to McGuire Club not later than June 26.

Jack Finley, new McGuire pro, last night said the course, beginning tomorrow, will be open for practice rounds to all contestants who have paid their entry fee of $7.50 or $15 per team.

"The course is in fine shape and everyone connected with McGuire hope as many as possible will be able to be with us for a fine tournament and a grand time," Findley said.

The tournament committee, headed by Chairman Bill Jones, includes O. B. Moses, Kenneth Holt, Ray Buce, and Jimmy Green. Plans call for a dance and barbecue supper for Saturday night, June 28, which will be free to all contestants.

Chairman Jones last night requested that any golfers desiring any additional information on the Four-Ball communicate with Pro Findley at McGuire Park, phone 2-0696.

Olson Pointing For July Match

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson, Honolulu middleweight, is being headed toward a July date at San Francisco with Jake La Motta or Robert Villemain.

Olson, a shifty combination Jimmy Beau of New Canaan, Conn. Friday night to win a unanimous 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

Promoter Jimmy Murray revealed his plans for using Olson with La Motta or Villemain in the dressing room after the fight. Much depends on La Motta's bout with Irish Bob Murphy at Detroit Wednesday night.

The smallest crowd of the year —2,463 paying $6,231 — saw Olson rake Beau's body and head with his chopping inside punches. They fought most of the time at close range with Olson's head pillowed on Beau's chest.

All three officials made it a one-sided win for Olson. Judge Jack Gordon was the only man who gave Beau a round. He scored it 7-2-1. Judge Art Aidala had it 9-0-1 and referee Ray Miller 8-0-2.

There were no knockdowns although Beau was shaken up several times. He slipped down in the fourth.

British Have Two Big Bouts In Week

LONDON, June 7. (AP)—Two title scraps which have a very considerable bearing on world boxing titles are sandwiched back - to - back in England next week.

At Nottingham on Monday night clever Ray Famechon of France will defend his European featherweight title for the fifth time since he won it in 1948, this time against Roy Ankarah, who calls himself the "Black Flash" from the Gold Coast.

Tuesday night in London former world middleweight champion Randy Turpin steps up a weight notch to challenge Don Cockell for the British light heavyweight title. Both bouts are scheduled for 15 rounds.

The Famechon - Ankarah fight will set up a highly rated challenger for World Champion Sandy Saddler. Two months ago all the world's boxing associations agreed the Nottingham winner would be rated No. 1 behind Saddler. But the National Boxing Association of the United States had a change of heart.

The current U. S. version is that the Famechon - Ankarah winner should meet the winner of an American elimination series for the right to take Saddler. Saddler, himself, is now in the army.

Braves vs. Cardinals.

Three sponsors have been found for the Minor League but one more sponsor is needed. Sponsors are Adams Cleaners, Lee Mc-tor for Sales and Field's.

The teams will be renamed this week if another sponsor can be found. To sponsor a team it will cost $50 for the baseball season. Anyone interested should contact the Recreation Center.

H. And W. Sports To Play Eureka

The Hunt and Whitaker Sports of Monroe and Eureka will meet in a Delta League contest this afternoon at Cloyd's Park in West Monroe.

Manager Johnny Myers' Sports, leading the amateur circuit, will meet Eureka at 2:30 o'clock. In addition, Hunt and Whitaker has been carrying on an ambitious exhibition schedule with teams from other leagues in this section, winning a majority of their games in both exhibition as well as league play.

WIGHTMAN PLAY STARTS FRIDAY

Four American Girls Defend Cup Against Anglos

LONDON, June 7. (AP)—Four American women, including the present and almost certainly the future Wimbledon champions, meet the British Friday and Saturday in defense of the Wightman Cup, symbol of Anglo - American tennis supremacy.

In seven matches on the No. 1 court at Wimbledon the Americans will display the strokes and style that have made them unchallenged champions of the post - war world.

The American team is made up of 17 - year - old Maureen Connolly, the U. S. champion; Doris Hart, the 1951 Wimbledon champion; Louise Brough, three - time Wimbledon titleholder, and Shirley Fry, last year's French champion and Wimbledon runner-up.

Opposing them will be a British squad of six, including Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel. The British have won only two out of 41 individual Wightman Cup matches in the seven series since the war. Mrs. Rinkel, who was then Miss Quertier, won one of those last year when she beat Miss Fry in straight sets.

Other members of the British team are Mrs. Jan Walker-Smith, Mrs. Joy Mottram, Susan Partridge, Pat Ward and Helen Fletcher.

Two singles matches and one doubles match will be played Friday starting at 8 a. m. (CST). On Saturday there will be three singles and one doubles, starting at 7:30 a. m. (CST). The draw for opponents will be made Wednesday.

United Gas moved into the Little League first slot yesterday with an 8 to 3 victory over Reed Refrigeration. Gallien, the United Gas pitcher, was leading hitter for his squad with one double on his three hits. Lawson caught for Gallien. Stone and Sanders got two each hits for United Gas, and Perkins scored his second homer of the year for Reed's Refrigeration. Perkins has four park homers hit in Little League play this year. Daily and Henry were Reed's battery.

The Palace went into second place with a 14 to 4 victory over Lennon Motors in their game yesterday. A Southerland triple with the bases loaded put the Palace far in the lead, while McNabb collected two hits for the Palace. Carter had three for Lennon Motors. Welch and Carter pitched for the losers and Fleming caught.

KNOE moved into the Little League win column for the first time yesterday, taking Olcott-Stone, 10 to 6. Kincaid had two hits for KNOE, Howell had two hits for Olcott - Stone and Stovall had a double and a homer. Batteries were Boyd, Kinciad, and S. Harper, for KNOE, and Britt and Lowery for Olcott-Stone.

ONE COUNT COPS BELMONT PURSE

Favored Blue Man Runs Second; Armageddon Third

NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—One Count, an outsider, defeated the favored Blue Man by three lengths in the 84th Belmont Stakes today. Armageddon was third.

With Eddie Arcaro in the saddle for his fifth Belmont Stakes winner, One Count covered the mile and one - half in 2:30 1-5 to take down the $82,400 winner's share of the gross purse of $118,500.

One Count, third in the Preakness won by Blue Man, carried the silks of Mrs. Walter Jeffords to victory with a great stretch run that staved off the challenge of A. W. Abbott's Blue Man which went off making the odds on choice in the field of six three - year - olds.

One Count, a son of Count Fleet which set the stake record of 2:28-1-5 in 1943, paid $27.60, 4.60 and $2.80. Blue Man returned $2.50 and $2.20 and Armageddon $2.70.

Armageddon trailed Blue Man by 10 lengths. Then came King Jolie, Sub Fleet and Olympic.

Browns Dispose Of Arft; Recall Pitcher Mahoney

ST. LOUIS, June 7. (AP)—First Baseman Hank Arft was sold outright to Portland of the Pacific Coast League today by the St. Louis Browns.

To fill the gap in the club's roster, righthander Bob Mahoney made his second trip up to the Browns this season from their San Antonio farm in the Texas League. He won two, lost five with the Browns and Chicago White Sox in 1951.

Arft, 30, has been with the Browns since coming from Toledo, O., in 1948. An off-and-on first baseman last season, he apperred in but 15 games this year and had only four hits in 28 times at bat. All of the hits were for extra bases.

San Jose Athlete Tags Net Crown

ABILENE, Tex., June 7. (AP)—Butch Krikorian of San Jose State swept up the singles championship of the National Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament today, beating Carl Wilson of Western Illinois in straight sets.

Krikorian wasn't pressed as he won 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. His drop shot and back spin on his serves kept Wilson in hot water much of the time. The San Jose star, a left hander, played the net vigorously all during the match.

Krikorian beat Gene Powell of Washburn, 6-3, 6-4, and Wilson took out Jim Flynn of the University of Portland, 7-5, 6-4, in the semi-finals this morning.

Little League Field Damaged By Vandals

Jack Hesketh, secretary of the Little League, reported last night that someone had done about $120 worth of damage at the Little League field during the past week.

Hesketh said that the "vandalism" resulted in having to replace the roof at the Little League field.

He announced also yesterday that two donations amounting to $3.50 have been given to the Little League fund. Henry Thomas donated $1 and Mrs. Wright donated $2.50.

DOUGLAS GRABS ARDMORE LEAD

'Dutch' Harrison Two Strokes Behind New Leader

ARDMORE, Okla., June 7 (AP)—Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., professional, shot his second straight sub-par round to assume the lead today in the $15,000 Ardmore Open Golf Tournament.

Now ranked 14th among the money leaders on the current Professional Golfers Association tour, Douglas posted a one - under par 69 today to go with his earlier rounds of 70 and 68 for a 207 total.

This was two strokes better than E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the host professional, who also had a 69 today for a 209.

The early leaders, Shelley Mayfield, Cedarhurst N. Y.; Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif.; Al Besselink, Chicago, and Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., saw their third round scores soar over par to put them behind the new sub-par shooters.

Leading scorers:

RED SOX OUTSLUG BENGALS

DETROIT BEATEN IN 29-HIT SCRAP BY 11 TO 9 TALLY

Indians Shut Out Athletics; Yankees Shade Browns

BOSTON, June 7 (AP) — A revamped Boston batting order got the Red Sox back in the hitting groove today to whip the Detroit Tigers 11-9 in a slugging match to even their competition at one victory each since their million-dollar trade.

The Tigers also had their hitting togs on, slamming out 16 hits—including homers by Walt Dropo and Vic Wertz—to 13 safeties for the Red Sox. Rookie Catcher Sammy White belted a homer, two doubles and a single for Boston and teammate Vern Stephens homered over the Fenway Park left field wall for his first 1952 home run in Boston.

Big Dropo, really clipping the ball since changing locale in last Tuesday's nine-man swap, clouted his ninth homer — third in three days — with former Red Socker Don Lenhardt aboard in the first inning. Fred Hatfield, another Bostonian who went to the Tigers, had been chased home by Lenhardt's double after reaching on an error by Goodman.

Manager Lou Boudreau's reshuffled array included George Kell moving to cleanup slot and Stephens dropping from fourth to fifth.

MARCIANO DATED WITH MATTHEWS

Winner Of July 28 Match Offered Shot At Walcott

NEW YORK, June 7. (UP)—Unbeaten Rocky Marciano, Brockton, Mass., slugger, and clever Harry Matthews, Seattle, Wash., today were matched for a 10-round heavy weight elimination bout at Yankee Stadium, Monday July 28 by Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club.

The survivor of this "natural" already has been offered to Heavywegiht Champion Jersey Joe Walcott for a September title defense. Walcott's manager, Felix Bocchicchio, has said the champ would fight "the logical contender" for the champion's share — 45 per cent — anytime, anywhere for the I. B. C.

After a long tugging and puffing match to get Marciano and Matthews on the dotted line, Norris announced each would receive 30 per cent of "everything," including gate receipts, television, movies and radio.

If Jack Hurley, Matthews' manager, has his way there will be no free home TV. Hurley favors a theater - television deal like the I. B. C. has arranged for the Joey Maxim - Sugar Ray Robinson fight June 23.

Hurley estimated the bout would draw "close to a million dollars." Norris previously said the match should do "at least $500,000."

Marciano, 27 - year - old brawler who knocked out Joe Louis last October, has won all 41 pro starts since he came winging out of the army to start a boxing career. A swarthy, crouching fighter who can knock you out with either hand, Marciano has stopped 6 opponents. Only five went the route.

In three starts since he ended Louis' career, Marciano knocked out Lee Savold, Gino Buonvino and Bernie Reynolds. His performance against the veteran Savold was unimpressive.

Matthews, fighting as a pro since 1937, popped into the headlines after Hurley took him under his wing 2 ½ years ago. He hasn't lost in his last 70 bouts. Way back on Aug. 9, 1942, he was stopped by Eddie Booker. Nobody has beaten him since. Hurley's records show Matthews lifetime record as 105 bouts with 96 wins, three losses and six draws.

Although Matthews started fighting 15 years ago, Hurley insists his fighter was born Dec. 6, 1922. That would make him 29.

BEN HOGAN AFTER 4TH OPEN IN ROW

World Series Of Golf Opens Thursday At Dallas

DALLAS, June 7 (AP)—The World Series of the links—the fifty-second United States Golf Association Open—goes on here next week with two questions foremost: Can Ben Hogan become the first man in history to win four straight championships? Will Sam Snead finally attain the goal that has become an obsession?

The field to try for the big prize is limited to 162 golfers, and this is one tournament where the money is secondary although there is a pot of $15,000, with first place dragging down $4,000.

Hogan, who won in 1948, couldn't compete in 1949 because of injuries received in an automobile - bus crash but came back to take first money in 1950 and 1951, has been practicing over rugged Northwood Club course during the past two weeks. He has shot 73, 72, 71 and 69 over the par 35-35—70 6,764-yard layout.

Little Ben won't yet predict on what will be necessary to win the Open but says 283 "will be a wonderful score." "It's a tough course to score on," he commented.

The best practice round fired to date is a 67 by Earl Stewart Jr., the young Dallas professional, while Skip Alexander, St. Petersburg, Fla., has done a 70. Others who have tested the course include Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore., Al Besselink, Chicago and amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo.

Snead will be seeking his first championship in twelve tries. Twice he has had it within his grasp and let it get away—when he took that terrible eight at Philadelphia in 1939 and the playoff loss to Lew Worsham in 1947.

Most of the professionals have been saying this is Snead's year. But Raymond Gafford, the host pro who lost to Hogan two weeks ago in the Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth, says: "You have to pick Hogan. He never has played better and he's determined to win his fourth title and become the first man to do so in four consecutive tries."

Willie Anderson and Bobby Jones each won four National Opens but not in consecutive attempts. Anderson won three in a row and Jones two.

Most of the golfers, coming from all over the nation and Hawaii, will arrive Monday. Many of the top players are at Ardmore, Okla., for an open tournament that will be concluded Sunday.

Rounds of 18 holes will be played Thursday and Friday. The 50 low scorers and ties will enter the final 36 holes set for Saturday.

M'Donald, Cologne Wrestling Feud To Be Resumed At Kallio's Tuesday

Mobley Risks State Title In Brawl With Newman

"Sockeye" McDonald and George Cologne are scheduled to meet for the third time in as many weeks at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night in a main event bout that was requested by the fans.

The semi - final will be a 30-minute handicap match with "Shoulders" Newman trying to take Rex Mobley's Louisiana state light heavyweight wrestling belt away from the champion in 30 minutes.

The Cologne - McDonald scrap was arranged through the insistence of a goodly portion of Monroe's wrestling fans who have yet to see Cologne, their favorite, beat the Oregon bully-boy in this arena.

McDonald started the feud two weeks ago when he sliced open the side of Cologne's head with his foot in the final round of a tag team bout. McDonald went on to win the match after punching Cologne's twice in the cut, and body slamming him to the mat.

Cologne, in his own opinion anyway, evened up the score last Tuesday when he retaliated by cutting the ex-lumberjack's head in the final fall. He didn't get to enjoy a win though because he also punched the referee one time too many and was disqualified.

Cologne and McDonald are still in ignorance of the fact that they are to wrestle each other, although both of them have agreed to wrestle here. Kallio said yesterday that when he asked McDonald about the match he immediately agreed without finding out who he was supposed to tackle.

Later, when Kallio talked to Cologne he deliberately didn't tell the New Orleans tussler who he was going to wrestle. "They'll find out Tuesday at the latest," said Kallio gleefully.

The semi - final event was arranged when Newman challenged for a title match against Mobley. Kallio remonstrated that he was too heavy to wrestle Mobley, and Newman apparently got a little hot under the collar.

"I can beat a 'champion' like Mobley two falls in 30 minutes," said Newman.

Kallio told him he would have to ask Mobley about it before the match was arranged. He talked to Mobley, who appeared to be pleased to get the bout. "When I wrestle on defense," Mobley said, "I don't make any mistakes or foolish moves. If he's going to beat me two falls of a handicap match in 30 minutes, he sure going to have to get a fast start on me."

Mobley made the first defense of his newly won title here last Tuesday night and dusted off "Irish" Jack Kelly in the third fall of the match with a fancy display of wrestling.

The Newman - Mobley bout will open the show at 8 p. m. and the doors will be open an hour earlier. After the 30 - minute bout, the main event will get underway. There will be no change in the admission price, said Kallio.

DETROIT BEATEN IN 29-HIT SCRAP BY 11 TO 9 TALLY

Indians Shut Out Athletics; Yankees Shade Browns

BOSTON, June 7 (AP) — A revamped Boston batting order got the Red Sox back in the hitting groove today to whip the Detroit Tigers 11-9 in a slugging match to even their competition at one victory each since their million-dollar trade.

The Tigers also had their hitting togs on, slamming out 16 hits—including homers by Walt Dropo and Vic Wertz—to 13 safeties for the Red Sox. Rookie Catcher Sammy White belted a homer, two doubles and a single for Boston and teammate Vern Stephens homered over the Fenway Park left field wall for his first 1952 home run in Boston.

Big Dropo, really clipping the ball since changing locale in last Tuesday's nine-man swap, clouted his ninth homer — third in three days — with former Red Socker Don Lenhardt aboard in the first inning. Fred Hatfield, another Bostonian who went to the Tigers, had been chased home by Lenhardt's double after reaching on an error by Goodman.

Manager Lou Boudreau's reshuffled array included George Kell moving to cleanup slot and Stephens dropping from fourth to fifth.

McDonald started the feud two weeks ago when he sliced open the side of Cologne's head with his foot in the final round of a tag team bout. McDonald went on to win the match after punching Cologne's twice in the cut, and body slamming him to the mat.

Cologne, in his own opinion anyway, evened up the score last Tuesday when he retaliated by cutting the ex-lumberjack's head in the final fall. He didn't get to enjoy a win though because he also punched the referee one time too many and was disqualified.

Cologne and McDonald are still in ignorance of the fact that they are to wrestle each other, although both of them have agreed to wrestle here. Kallio said yesterday that when he asked McDonald about the match he immediately agreed without finding out who he was supposed to tackle.

Later, when Kallio talked to Cologne he deliberately didn't tell the New Orleans tussler who he was going to wrestle. "They'll find out Tuesday at the latest," said Kallio gleefully.

The semi - final event was arranged when Newman challenged for a title match against Mobley. Kallio remonstrated that he was too heavy to wrestle Mobley, and Newman apparently got a little hot under the collar.

"I can beat a 'champion' like Mobley two falls in 30 minutes," said Newman.

Kallio told him he would have to ask Mobley about it before the match was arranged. He talked to Mobley, who appeared to be pleased to get the bout. "When I wrestle on defense," Mobley said, "I don't make any mistakes or foolish moves. If he's going to beat me two falls of a handicap match in 30 minutes, he sure going to have to get a fast start on me."

Mobley made the first defense of his newly won title here last Tuesday night and dusted off "Irish" Jack Kelly in the third fall of the match with a fancy display of wrestling.

The Newman - Mobley bout will open the show at 8 p. m. and the doors will be open an hour earlier. After the 30 - minute bout, the main event will get underway. There will be no change in the admission price, said Kallio.

DODGER MAGIC STILL HOLDS GOOD OVER REDS

BROOKLYN CLUBS REDLEGS FOR 6TH STRAIGHT, 11 TO 3

CINCINNATI, June 7 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who haven't lost a game to Cincinnati this season, exercised their strange magic over the Reds again today and slugged out an early 11 to 3 victory.

It was the sixth straight time the Redlegs have fallen before Brooklyn.

Just as in a game with Cincinnati earlier in the season when they scored 15 runs in the first inning, the Dodgers locked this one up in a hurry. They clubbed Bubba Church to cover and continued against Herman (Home Run) Wehmeier for five first-inning runs that had the Reds hanging on the ropes almost before the fans had gotten settled in their seats.

ST. LOUIS, June 7. (AP)—Gran Hamner, stripped of his club captaincy after an early - morning team chastisement by owner Bob Carpenter, tonight belted an eighth - inning homer to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, breaking a five - game losing streak. Eddie Waitkus and Smoky Burgess also homered for the Phillies and Enos Slaughter drove in all Redbird runs with a circuit drive.

Jesse Van Winkle Running Close 3rd In Cotton States' Batting Campagin

Ailing Infielder Gains 5 Points As Pinch Hitter

By J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., June 7. (Special)—Taking advantage of a mild slump by Wally Rasmussen, Hot Springs outfielder and two - time weekly leader, Greenwood's John Tidwell slipped into the Cotton States League batting lead with an average of .326, according to the official records of the Friend News Service for the period ending Tuesday night and released today.

The Dodger gardener was on limited service, participating in just one full game and parts of three others out of seven, secured one hit in eight chances and skidded 13 points. He has faced the pitchers 135 legal times and come through with 44 connections. His absence cost him some leaderships in the specialized departments, but he salvaged triples, 6; and runs batted in, 34.

Rasmussen experienced a most disastrious week, losing two dozen decimals to .324 through the lack of base hits. He was able to glean but five out of 24 trips, second worst week of the campaign. He shows 136-44 for the season, so far.

Jesse Van Winkle, Monroe second baseman, appeared only as a pinch hitter, delivered a one bagger, picked up five points for his effort and went into third with .322. Teammate Nelson Daehn wound up in fourth at .321, a loss of nine. Troy Mitchell, Natchez catcher, banged the pellet for 27-10 that added a dozen decimals and took over No. 5 posiiion with .318.

Gene Harvey, Natchez third base man, tobogganed to .314 and a tie with Cas Iasillo, Greenwood, for sixth. George Ruzina, Natchez outfielder, spurted 28 points to .306 and tied with Nick Siemasz, Green wood fly chaser who lost 20. Bill Lewis, veteran Meridian catcher, was another rare climber, boosting 13 points to .304 and the ninth berth. Felix Gomez, Hot Springs outfielder, not only completes the Upper 10 but the .300 list with .303 in 19 games.

First places in the individual batting phases are divided with none serving in a dual capacity. Siemasz has the most total bases, 75. John Paul Jones, Monroe (.298) has 51 hits. Dolf Regelsky, Meridian (.294) has blasted a half dozen homers. His skipper, Tom Davis, .283 and a mate, Gene Pompelia (.255) have crossed the plate 32 times each. Marty Devlin, Greenwood (.232) has stolen 13 bases.

Meridian's young star, Bobby Harrison, continues to roll merrily along the unbeaten trail. The youthful righthander listed Natchez and Greenwood among his victims during the week and sets the pitching pace with eight wins. He has finished all but one of his nine starts.

Jim Hogan, veteran lefthander, has won four straight decisions since joining Hot Springs without a loss. Charles Gross, the former Mississippi State star, has 2-0, for Meridian.

Verne Schneider, Pine Bluff, suffered the first reverse of the season at the hands of rival Hot Springs, June 1, after racking up eight in a row. Three other hurlers have eight wins: John Miskulin (8-2); George Bielik, El Dorado (8-2, including three shutouts). Joe Kopach, Meridian, has 7-2. Darvin Chrisco, Monroe, has posted six wins against a lone loss. Bill Hobbs, Pine Bluff, and Ottis Jacobs, Monroe, have 6-2; John Forizs, Greenwood, 6-3, for other outstanding winning records. Forizs is just one shy of the century in strikeouts. Dan McDevitt, another Dodger, have whiffed 76.

Natchez is the club batting leader with .266. Pine Bluff has just one point fielding advantage over Monroe, currently challenging the Judges for second place in the standings.

HALF PARIS FIELD STILL AMERICANS

Four U. S. Golfers In French Quarter-Final Play

PARIS, June 7. (AP)—America's bid to add the French golf championship to the British crown continued unabated today as a power-packed foursome of Americans reached the quarter - final round.

Although Harvie Ward, Tarboro, N. C., who won the British crown last week, had to default from this tourney, the remaining Americans drove steadily ahead and most of the Americans who were eliminated went down before their fellow countrymen.

U. S. Amateur Champion Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Dick Chapman, former American and British champion from Pinehurst, N. C., led today's advance through the third and fourth rounds. They were joined in the round of eight by Bobby Knowles, Boston, defending champion in this tournament, and youthful Billy Shields, Albany, New York state champion.

Maxwell had a close call in the morning's third round against Col. George Kole, a British officer stationed in Paris, but pulled out the match, one up. He went on to defeat Jack Penrose, Miami Beach, Fla., 5 and 4 in the afternoon.

Chapman, steady - swinging veteran, defeated Guy De Pampievren, France, 5 and 3, and came back to trim Joe Bernolfo, Salt Lake City, by the identical score.

Knowles put out Henri Giraud, France, 5 and 4, and followed up with a 2 and 1 victory over Chris Dunphy, Mamaroneck, N. Y., while Shields defeated E. Pan De Soraluce, Spain, one up, and Harry Bentley, England, 4 and 3.

Chief American casualty was long - hitting Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga., who was beaten by John Plant, a Briton living in Cairo, 4 and 3.

American victims in the third round were B. J. Bridgeford, San Francisco and Roy Renoud, Portland, Ore. Bridgeford lost to Edouard Bergamo, Italy, 4 and 3, while Renoud bowed to Sweden's Elis Verkell, 7 and 5.

BRITISH CROWN TO 'LITTLE MO'

Miss Connolly Cops Northern Tennis Tourney Singles

MANCHESTER, England, June 7. (AP)—Maureen Connolly, San Diego, Calif., and Frank Sedgman, Australia, scored impressive victories today to win the singles championships of the Northern Lawn Tennis Tournament and stamp themselves as prime favorites for the Wimbledon Tournament opening June 23.

Miss Connolly, like Sedgman the American champion in her field, blasted Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel, 6-3, 6-1, and Sedgman won just as decisively, is not as spectacularly, over fellow Australian Don Candy, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Connolly and Louise Brough Beverly Hills, Calif., then moved to the fore as Wimbledon doubles favorites when they upset last year's titlists, Doris Hart, Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry, Akron, O., 1-6, 6-2, 9-7.

Candy and Grant Golden, Chicago, defeated Nigel Cockburn and Bryan Woodroffe, South Africa, 6-4, 6-4 for the men's doubles title.

In the mixed doubles final, Sedgman and Miss Hart won over Cockburn and Miss Connolly, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

DODGER MAGIC STILL HOLDS GOOD OVER REDS

BROOKLYN CLUBS REDLEGS FOR 6TH STRAIGHT, 11 TO 3

CINCINNATI, June 7 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who haven't lost a game to Cincinnati this season, exercised their strange magic over the Reds again today and slugged out an early 11 to 3 victory.

It was the sixth straight time the Redlegs have fallen before Brooklyn.

Just as in a game with Cincinnati earlier in the season when they scored 15 runs in the first inning, the Dodgers locked this one up in a hurry. They clubbed Bubba Church to cover and continued against Herman (Home Run) Wehmeier for five first-inning runs that had the Reds hanging on the ropes almost before the fans had gotten settled in their seats.

PHILS SHADE CARDS

ST. LOUIS, June 7. (AP)—Gran Hamner, stripped of his club captaincy after an early - morning team chastisement by owner Bob Carpenter, tonight belted an eighth - inning homer to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, breaking a five - game losing streak. Eddie Waitkus and Smoky Burgess also homered for the Phillies and Enos Slaughter drove in all Redbird runs with a circuit drive.

Jesse Van Winkle Running Close 3rd In Cotton States' Batting Campagin

By J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., June 7. (Special)—Taking advantage of a mild slump by Wally Rasmussen, Hot Springs outfielder and two - time weekly leader, Greenwood's John Tidwell slipped into the Cotton States League batting lead with an average of .326, according to the official records of the Friend News Service for the period ending Tuesday night and released today.

The Dodger gardener was on limited service, participating in just one full game and parts of three others out of seven, secured one hit in eight chances and skidded 13 points. He has faced the pitchers 135 legal times and come through with 44 connections. His absence cost him some leaderships in the specialized departments, but he salvaged triples, 6; and runs batted in, 34.

Rasmussen experienced a most disastrious week, losing two dozen decimals to .324 through the lack of base hits. He was able to glean but five out of 24 trips, second worst week of the campaign. He shows 136-44 for the season, so far.

Jesse Van Winkle, Monroe second baseman, appeared only as a pinch hitter, delivered a one bagger, picked up five points for his effort and went into third with .322. Teammate Nelson Daehn wound up in fourth at .321, a loss of nine. Troy Mitchell, Natchez catcher, banged the pellet for 27-10 that added a dozen decimals and took over No. 5 posiiion with .318.

Gene Harvey, Natchez third base man, toboganned to .314 and a tie with Cas Iasillo, Greenwood, for sixth. George Ruzina, Natchez outfielder, spurted 28 points to .306 and tied with Nick Siemasz, Green wood fly chaser who lost 20. Bill Lewis, veteran Meridian catcher, was another rare climber, boosting 13 points to .304 and the ninth berth. Felix Gomez, Hot Springs outfielder, not only completes the Upper 10 but the .300 list with .303 in 19 games.

First places in the individual batting phases are divided with none serving in a dual capacity. Siemasz has the most total bases, 75. John Paul Jones, Monroe (.298) has 51 hits. Dolf Regelsky, Meridian (.294) has blasted a half dozen homers. His skipper, Tom Davis, .283 and a mate, Gene Pompelia (.255) have crossed the plate 32 times each. Marty Devlin, Greenwood (.232) has stolen 13 bases.

Meridian's young star, Bobby Harrison, continues to roll merrily along the unbeaten trail. The youthful righthander listed Natchez and Greenwood among his victims during the week and sets the pitching pace with eight wins. He has finished all but one of his nine starts.

Jim Hogan, veteran lefthander, has won four straight decisions since joining Hot Springs without a loss. Charles Gross, the former Mississippi State star, has 2-0, for Meridian.

Verne Schneider, Pine Bluff, suffered the first reverse of the season at the hands of rival Hot Springs, June 1, after racking up eight in a row. Three other hurlers have eight wins: John Miskulin (8-2); George Bielik, El Dorado (8-2, including three shutouts). Joe Kopach, Meridian, has 7-2. Darvin Chrisco, Monroe, has posted six wins against a lone loss. Bill Hobbs, Pine Bluff, and Ottis Jacobs, Monroe, have 6-2; John Forizs, Greenwood, 6-3, for other outstanding winning records. Forizs is just one shy of the century in strikeouts. Dan McDevitt, another Dodger, have whiffed 76.

Natchez is the club batting leader with .266. Pine Bluff has just one point fielding advantage over Monroe, currently challenging the Judges for second place in the standings.

HALF PARIS FIELD STILL AMERICANS

Four U. S. Golfers In French Quarter-Final Play

PARIS, June 7. (AP)—America's bid to add the French golf championship to the British crown continued unabated today as a power-packed foursome of Americans reached the quarter - final round.

Although Harvie Ward, Tarboro, N. C., who won the British crown last week, had to default from this tourney, the remaining Americans drove steadily ahead and most of the Americans who were eliminated went down before their fellow countrymen.

U. S. Amateur Champion Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Dick Chapman, former American and British champion from Pinehurst, N. C., led today's advance through the third and fourth rounds. They were joined in the round of eight by Bobby Knowles, Boston, defending champion in this tournament, and youthful Billy Shields, Albany, New York state champion.

Maxwell had a close call in the morning's third round against Col. George Kole, a British officer stationed in Paris, but pulled out the match, one up. He went on to defeat Jack Penrose, Miami Beach, Fla., 5 and 4 in the afternoon.

Chapman, steady - swinging veteran, defeated Guy De Pampievren, France, 5 and 3, and came back to trim Joe Bernolfo, Salt Lake City, by the identical score.

Knowles put out Henri Giraud, France, 5 and 4, and followed up with a 2 and 1 victory over Chris Dunphy, Mamaroneck, N. Y., while Shields defeated E. Pan De Soraluce, Spain, one up, and Harry Bentley, England, 4 and 3.

Chief American casualty was long - hitting Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga., who was beaten by John Plant, a Briton living in Cairo, 4 and 3.

American victims in the third round were B. J. Bridgeford, San Francisco and Roy Renoud, Portland, Ore. Bridgeford lost to Edouard Bergamo, Italy, 4 and 3, while Renoud bowed to Sweden's Elis Verkell, 7 and 5.

BRITISH CROWN TO 'LITTLE MO'

Miss Connolly Cops Northern Tennis Tourney Singles

MANCHESTER, England, June 7. (AP)—Maureen Connolly, San Diego, Calif., and Frank Sedgman, Australia, scored impressive victories today to win the singles championships of the Northern Lawn Tennis Tournament and stamp themselves as prime favorites for the Wimbledon Tournament opening June 23.

Miss Connolly, like Sedgman the American champion in her field, blasted Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel, 6-3, 6-1, and Sedgman won just as decisively, is not as spectacularly, over fellow Australian Don Candy, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Connolly and Louise Brough Beverly Hills, Calif., then moved to the fore as Wimbledon doubles favorites when they upset last year's titlists, Doris Hart, Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry, Akron, O., 1-6, 6-2, 9-7.

Candy and Grant Golden, Chicago, defeated Nigel Cockburn and Bryan Woodroffe, South Africa, 6-4, 6-4 for the men's doubles title.

In the mixed doubles final, Sedgman and Miss Hart won over Cockburn and Miss Connolly, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

Louisiana Students Receive Awards At Chicago Conclave

Louisiana was well represented at the first national convention of the future Business Leaders of America which was held May 30-31 at the Hilton Hotel in Chicago. A total of 111 students and their sponsors made up the Louisiana delegation — the largest one to attend the convention.

The trip to Chicago was made aboard the crack streamliner, City of New Orleans, with most of the students boarding the train at Hammond.

The convention got under way with the registration and first general session. Several addresses were given, including an especially outstanding one by Donald R. Markham, a director of the Chicao Junior Association of Commerce and Industry.

Following the general session the presentation of candidates and a luncheon took place. Hugh A. Wichert, an executive of Ruth, Rauth and Ryan, Inc., was the guest speaker.

Seven awards were presented at the convention and Louisiana received five of them. The first award was for having the largest number of delegates at the convention. Sulphur High school was presented an award for having the best state scrap book. Bolton High school of Alexandria was honored twice — for the most original project, and for having the largest number of delegates who had traveled farthest to attend the convention. The project for which Bolton was awarded was potato picking. The final award won by the Louisiana delegation went to Baton Rouge High school for having the largest number of members in their chapter.

Louisiana was honored in another way by having its state president, Jeron Lafargue, Sulphur High school student, elected as the first national president of the FBLA.

At present Louisiana leads the nation in FBLA clubs, and members have set a goal of 100 clubs for 1952.

The convention ended at noon Saturday, but the delegates stayed over until Monday. This gave them a day and a half to take sightseeing tours of the Windy City. Some saw their first major league ball game, while others visited radio programs, took boat rides on Lake Michigan and toured the Museums of Art, Science and Natural History.

The trip to Chicago was made possible by Mrs. Gladys Peck, state supervisor of business education. Mrs. Peck has the distinction of being the only woman supervisor in the nation.

The following clubs attended the convention: Baton Rouge High school, Bolton High school, Boyce High school, Carencrow High school, Central High school, Clinton High school, Columbia High school, Grand Cane High school, Grayson High school, Hammond High school, Haynesville High school, Iota High school, Istrouma High school, Lafayette High school, LaGrange High school, Linville High school, Maryville High school, Natchitoches High school, New Iberia High school, Ponchatoula High school, Southeastern Training school, Sulphur High school, Vinton High school, Westwego High school Winnfield High school and Wisner High school.

terest contention, has been that Democrats and irregulars attempted to stampede the state convention for Eisenhower.

Generally, because of his long party service, Taft is regarded as having better contacts with the regular GOP organizations, especially in the southern states. These same circumstances may work to his advantage in any seating contest at Chicago.

At issue are rival slates from Texas, with 38 delegates; Louisiana, 16; Georgia, 17; and Mississippi, 5.

There were complaints from Eisenhower forces in other states, too, notably in Indiana, but whether any protest would be carried to the national convention was not immediately clear.

Former Rep. Robert Grant asserted that Taft forces had put over "another Texas steal" by pushing through the state convention today a 32-vote slate containing 30 pro-Taft delegates and then instructing all 32 to vote for the Ohio senator.

Taft himself wasn't specific when he made the compromise offer at a news conference in Indianapolis on Friday.

"I hope we can compromise the contests where there is any serious difference on legal grounds," he said. "I would like to avoid contests before the credentials committee if differences can be settled on a fair basis."

He did not say that he would regard an even split as a fair basis, or indicate which of the state contests he regarded as having a legal aspect which would justify compromise under his proposal. He previously had said he regarded that in Georgia as one which primarily involves personalities.

Eisenhower, in a brief stopover at Kansas City yesterday, had been quoted as saying, "Gee, that sounds good," when told of the Taft offer. Explaining his remark, he told a news conference in New York today:

"Somebody walking behind me said: 'There is some offer in the southern states.' He didn't even make the attempt to describe it to me. . . I just said: 'That is good' because it sounded good.

"However, as long as the question has come up, let me make myself particularly clear. . . I am against the thwarting of the will of the American people no matter what it is and where it comes from."

"Without knowing any of the facts of this particular quarrel, which I assume will be dug out by the properly appointed bodies of honorable men who will try to find what the justice of the thing is, assuming that is all going to be done, I merely say that I stand on this: What is the will of the Americans who had the right to vote at that moment?"

Eisenhower's campaign manager, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, had rejected the Taft overture shortly after it was made, at least as far as Texas is concerned, saying in a statement issued here: "It is never right to compromise with dishonesty."

The situation, although there are local differences, is essentially the same in the four southern states involved. Each of two warring factions has named delegations wholly or in large part favorable to either Taft or Eisenhower, and each contends that its slate is that legally chosen by the Republicans in the state.

An Associated Press roundup of reaction found only a smattering of favorable reaction to Taft's suggestion.

In Texas, H. J. (Jack) Porter, leader of Eisenhower forces there, said the fight for the Eisenhower slate will be carried to Chicago because, he declared, "the Republicans party cannot afford to compromise with corruption."

In Louisiana, John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans said for the Eisenhower faction: "I feel very strongly on the subject. There can be no compromise of a moral issue. The moral issue is the integrity of the elective process, and the integrity of the Republican party. The Taft forces in Louisiana have manufactured phony contests in clear defiance of the will of the majority."

John E. Jackson, Taft leader in the state, could not be reached and other Taft backers declined to comment in his absence.

Names Of Those From Twin Cities Made Known Saturday

Pelican Boys State, held on the L. S. U. campus from August 11 to August 19, with outstanding youth whose ages range from 15 to 18 years, plans a summer session. The purpose is to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation.

Strictly non - partisan, it is wholly a plan for training in the practical mechanics of government and for many years has spread widely its influence among the ranks of teen age boys alert to make progress in enlightened citizenship.

Announcement was made by C. B. Braun, who through many years connection with the L. B. Faulk Post, American Legion, handles the local business arrangements here, listing the boys selected and handling the local financial affairs. Sam Orchard, also of the L. B. Faulk post, is in general charge of enlistment of boys for the entire fifth district, outside of the Twin Cities.

Mr. Braun Saturday announced the boys who will go from the Twin Cities to Pelican State next August and their sponsors. These are as follows:

Donnie Mathys, student at O. P. H. S., 3406 Richmond street, sponsored by the city of Monroe.

Delmas Jackson, 404 Sherrouse; student at Neville; sponsored by Rotary.

Frank Scalia, 1506 Fairview Drive; student at Neville; sponsored by the Monroe Exchange Club.

Sam Orchard, directing enrollments from the fifth district for Pelican state, announced Saturday that for this area outside of the Twin Cities the enrollment will be as follows: Ruston post 4; Tallulah, 5; Winnsboro, 4; Rayville, 3; Mangham, 2; Ferriday, 2; Columbia, 4; Jonesville 1; Delhi 1; Enterprise 1; Bastrop 4.

SUMMER TERM ENROLLMENT REACHES 300

Enrollment for the nine - week summer term at Northeast State jumped to 300 Saturday noon, B. S. Hamner, registrar, announced. Registration will continue Monday to provide opportunity for persons who were unable to schedule classes previously.

Monday's enrollment is expected to increase numbers considerably over last summer's student body of 290.

When registration closed temporarily Saturday noon, the classifications of students included teachers, special students, several transferring from other colleges, beginning freshmen and advanced students woh are continuing studies toward a bachelor's degree.

Among the teacher group were persons working for a degree, scheduling classes which they needed to complete certification requirements and entering classes simply to do refresher work.

Courses offered this summer are varied enough to provide a full schedule for students entering college for the first time as well as for those who are more advanced in academic work.

Besides the studies offered in education, fields of interest which are represented in Northeast's summer term classes are: art, agriculture, commerce, English, foreign language, health and physical education, journalism, library science, music, science, social science and speech.

Students are eligible to schedule 10 semester hours of work. The fee is $9 for Louisiana residents and $30 for out-of-state persons.

The daily schedule of classes begins at 7:30 a. m. and closes at 1:50 p. m.

Louisiana Students Receive Awards At Chicago Conclave

Louisiana was well represented at the first national convention of the future Business Leaders of America which was held May 30-31 at the Hilton Hotel in Chicago. A total of 111 students and their sponsors made up the Louisiana delegation — the largest one to attend the convention.

The trip to Chicago was made aboard the crack streamliner, City of New Orleans, with most of the students boarding the train at Hammond.

The convention got under way with the registration and first general session. Several addresses were given, including an especially outstanding one by Donald R. Markham, a director of the Chicao Junior Association of Commerce and Industry.

Following the general session the presentation of candidates and a luncheon took place. Hugh A. Wichert, an executive of Ruth, Rauth and Ryan, Inc., was the guest speaker.

Seven awards were presented at the convention and Louisiana received five of them. The first award was for having the largest number of delegates at the convention. Sulphur High school was presented an award for having the best state scrap book. Bolton High school of Alexandria was honored twice — for the most original project, and for having the largest number of delegates who had traveled farthest to attend the convention. The project for which Bolton was awarded was potato picking. The final award won by the Louisiana delegation went to Baton Rouge High school for having the largest number of members in their chapter.

Louisiana was honored in another way by having its state president, Jeron Lafargue, Sulphur High school student, elected as the first national president of the FBLA.

At present Louisiana leads the nation in FBLA clubs, and members have set a goal of 100 clubs for 1952.

The convention ended at noon Saturday, but the delegates stayed over until Monday. This gave them a day and a half to take sightseeing tours of the Windy City. Some saw their first major league ball game, while others visited radio programs, took boat rides on Lake Michigan and toured the Museums of Art, Science and Natural History.

The trip to Chicago was made possible by Mrs. Gladys Peck, state supervisor of business education. Mrs. Peck has the distinction of being the only woman supervisor in the nation.

The following clubs attended the convention: Baton Rouge High school, Bolton High school, Boyce High school, Carencrow High school, Central High school, Clinton High school, Columbia High school, Grand Cane High school, Grayson High school, Hammond High school, Haynesville High school, Iota High school, Istrouma High school, Lafayette High school, LaGrange High school, Linville High school, Maryville High school, Natchitoches High school, New Iberia High school, Ponchatoula High school, Southeastern Training school, Sulphur High school, Vinton High school, Westwego High school Winnfield High school and Wisner High school.

terest contention, has been that Democrats and irregulars attempted to stampede the state convention for Eisenhower.

Generally, because of his long party service, Taft is regarded as having better contacts with the regular GOP organizations, especially in the southern states. These same circumstances may work to his advantage in any seating contest at Chicago.

At least 76 delegate seats in four southern states are in the disputed category. Such a bloc of votes could easily be one of big deciding factors at the convention opening July 7.

At issue are rival slates from Texas, with 38 delegates; Louisiana, 16; Georgia, 17; and Mississippi, 5.

There were complaints from Eisenhower forces in other states, too, notably in Indiana, but whether any protest would be carried to the national convention was not immediately clear.

Former Rep. Robert Grant asserted that Taft forces had put over "another Texas steal" by pushing through the state convention today a 32-vote slate containing 30 pro-Taft delegates and then instructing all 32 to vote for the Ohio senator.

Taft himself wasn't specific when he made the compromise offer at a news conference in Indianapolis on Friday.

"I hope we can compromise the contests where there is any serious difference on legal grounds," he said. "I would like to avoid contests before the credentials committee if differences can be settled on a fair basis."

He did not say that he would regard an even split as a fair basis, or indicate which of the state contests he regarded as having a legal aspect which would justify compromise under his proposal. He previously had said he regarded that in Georgia as one which primarily involves personalities.

Eisenhower, in a brief stopover at Kansas City yesterday, had been quoted as saying, "Gee, that sounds good," when told of the Taft offer. Explaining his remark, he told a news conference in New York today:

"Somebody walking behind me said: 'There is some offer in the southern states.' He didn't even make the attempt to describe it to me. . . I just said: 'That is good' because it sounded good.

"However, as long as the question has come up, let me make myself particularly clear. . . I am against the thwarting of the will of the American people no matter what it is and where it comes from."

"Without knowing any of the facts of this particular quarrel, which I assume will be dug out by the properly appointed bodies of honorable men who will try to find what the justice of the thing is, assuming that is all going to be done, I merely say that I stand on this: What is the will of the Americans who had the right to vote at that moment?"

Eisenhower's campaign manager, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, had rejected the Taft overture shortly after it was made, at least as far as Texas is concerned, saying in a statement issued here: "It is never right to compromise with dishonesty."

The situation, although there are local differences, is essentially the same in the four southern states involved. Each of two warring factions has named delegations wholly or in large part favorable to either Taft or Eisenhower, and each contends that its slate is that legally chosen by the Republicans in the state.

An Associated Press roundup of reaction found only a smattering of favorable reaction to Taft's suggestion.

In Texas, H. J. (Jack) Porter, leader of Eisenhower forces there, said the fight for the Eisenhower slate will be carried to Chicago because, he declared, "the Republicans party cannot afford to compromise with corruption."

In Louisiana, John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans said for the Eisenhower faction: "I feel very strongly on the subject. There can be no compromise of a moral issue. The moral issue is the integrity of the elective process, and the integrity of the Republican party. The Taft forces in Louisiana have manufactured phony contests in clear defiance of the will of the majority."

John E. Jackson, Taft leader in the state, could not be reached and other Taft backers declined to comment in his absence.

Names Of Those From Twin Cities Made Known Saturday

Pelican Boys State, held on the L. S. U. campus from August 11 to August 19, with outstanding youth whose ages range from 15 to 18 years, plans a summer session. The purpose is to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation.

Strictly non - partisan, it is wholly a plan for training in the practical mechanics of government and for many years has spread widely its influence among the ranks of teen age boys alert to make progress in enlightened citizenship.

Announcement was made by C. B. Braun, who through many years connection with the L. B. Faulk Post, American Legion, handles the local business arrangements here, listing the boys selected and handling the local financial affairs. Sam Orchard, also of the L. B. Faulk post, is in general charge of enlistment of boys for the entire fifth district, outside of the Twin Cities.

Mr. Braun Saturday announced the boys who will go from the Twin Cities to Pelican State next August and their sponsors. These are as follows:

Donnie Mathys, student at O. P. H. S., 3406 Richmond street, sponsored by the city of Monroe.

Delmas Jackson, 404 Sherrouse; student at Neville; sponsored by Rotary.

Frank Scalia, 1506 Fairview Drive; student at Neville; sponsored by the Monroe Exchange Club.

Gilbert Vascocu, 3605 Gordon Ave.; student O. P. H. S.; Monroe Kiwanis Club, sponsor.

W. A. Bradshaw, Sterlington, student O. P. H. S.; sponsored by Isadore Lebreich lodge, B'nai B'rith.

Clyde Fulton, 135 Splane Drive, West Monroe; student O. P. H. S.; West Monroe Kiwanis, sponsor. The last two are submitted by Burnett Downs Post 201, American Legion.

Sam Orchard, directing enrollments from the fifth district for Pelican state, announced Saturday that for this area outside of the Twin Cities the enrollment will be as follows: Ruston post 4; Tallulah, 5; Winnsboro, 4; Rayville, 3; Mangham, 2; Ferriday, 2; Columbia, 4; Jonesville 1; Delhi 1; Enterprise 1; Bastrop 4.

SUMMER TERM ENROLLMENT REACHES 300

Enrollment for the nine - week summer term at Northeast State jumped to 300 Saturday noon, B. S. Hamner, registrar, announced. Registration will continue Monday to provide opportunity for persons who were unable to schedule classes previously.

Monday's enrollment is expected to increase numbers considerably over last summer's student body of 290.

When registration closed temporarily Saturday noon, the classifications of students included teachers, special students, several transferring from other colleges, beginning freshmen and advanced students woh are continuing studies toward a bachelor's degree.

Among the teacher group were persons working for a degree, scheduling classes which they needed to complete certification requirements and entering classes simply to do refresher work.

Courses offered this summer are varied enough to provide a full schedule for students entering college for the first time as well as for those who are more advanced in academic work.

Besides the studies offered in education, fields of interest which are represented in Northeast's summer term classes are: art, agriculture, commerce, English, foreign language, health and physical education, journalism, library science, music, science, social science and speech.

Students are eligible to schedule 10 semester hours of work. The fee is $9 for Louisiana residents and $30 for out-of-state persons.

The daily schedule of classes begins at 7:30 a. m. and closes at 1:50 p. m.

LIP LOGIC

Brilliant, dark colors tend to make the mouth look larger, while less vivid, pinker shades minimize too-full lips. It's a good idea to apply lipstick a little inside your lips so color contrast won't show when you talk or smile.

Cheniere Baptist Pastor Resigns His Charge

Cheniere Baptist Church has accepted the resignation of its pastor, Rev. Cecil H. Avery to take effect June 8.

During his pastorate of two and one-half years, and under his leadership, a new church auditorium has been built and an educational unit is under construction.

The church also is operating a successful vacation Bible school.

Marriage Licenses

Gene C. Good, 25, and Mary Addie Maxwell, 21, both of Houston.

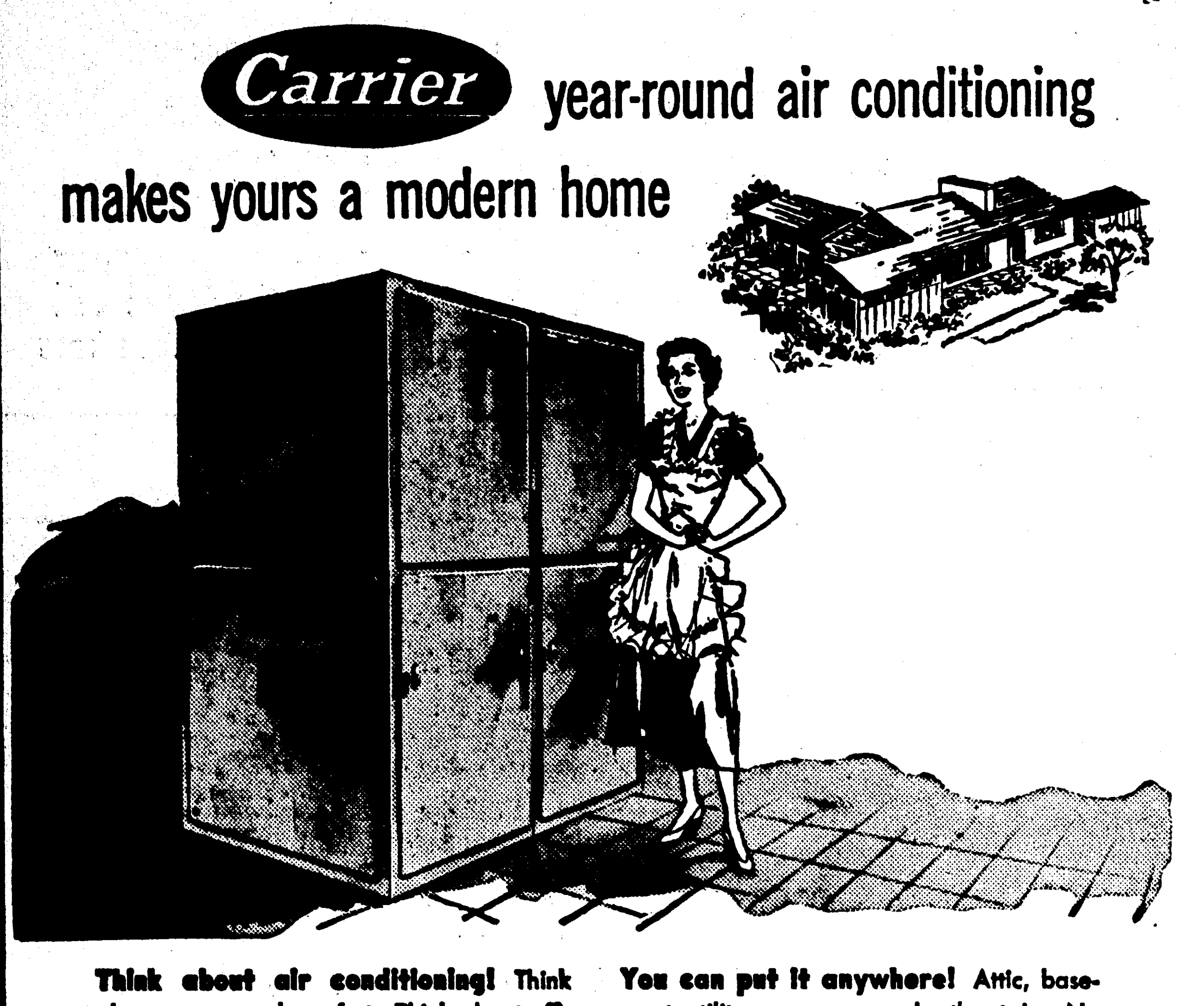
Good Hope Bible School Has 132 Enrolled

The Good Hope Church Vacation Bible School was started last Monday with 132 enrolled. Daily average attendance last week was 120.

The principal, Mrs. W. M. Graff, states that there is still time to enroll. The school will continue through next Friday.

Carrier year-round air conditioning

makes yours a modern home



Think about air conditioning! Think about year-round comfort. Think about efficient gas heating—and economical electric cooling. Think about increasing your property value—protecting yourself from depreciation!

Then think about Carrier! Because there's a brand-new Carrier Year-Round Home Air Conditioner that will fit in your home. It takes only 15½ feet of floor space—less than half the space needed for other systems. And it costs so little!

You can put it anywhere! Attic, basement, utility room, even under the stairs. No worry about noise—because this Carrier Home Air Conditioner is whisper-quiet! It's a heater—a cooler—in one compact package.

And it's automatic! Just flick the switch and the Carrier Home Air Conditioner switches from heating to cooling—or the other way around. Remember, too, that it's dependable. It's made of time-tested components by the people who know air conditioning best.

Drop in and look it over!

Little Theatre Curtain Call

And it's a howling close that your Little Theatre has come to, the end of its 20th year. But the old Playhouse won't be locked up for a couple of weeks yet, anyway. The "Kiss and Tell" set has to be struck (that's theatre lingo for taken down) everything has to be moth balled up for the summer, and besides, there is that big membership meeting coming up on the 14th which none of you members want to miss.

So while we're waiting for the meeting to roll around, let's take a look at this 20th Anniversary season that we've been yelling about for so long.

Remember at the end of last summer, when the thermometer was still hovering up near 100 degrees, our director was out scouting for a cast for the season opener "Abie's Irish Rose?" And the scouting was profitable, too, for who of us who saw the side-splitting production will forget that classic American comedy, which, in case you need reminding, had in the cast Irving Zeidman, Bill Riley, Barbara Barker, Tom Hays, Roz Haas, John Savage, Walter Schubert and Carl Slakter.

Next came the heaviest production of the season "All My Sons" with its ingenious outdoor set, which marked the first time that had been done on our stages. Beth Breese, Carl Slakter, Sara Ritter and Pete Linton had the principal roles in this outstanding production, supported by Ken Roth, Barbara Addison, Allen Foster, "Dusty" Rhodes, Bill Harp and Mary Lee Whitaker. It was this show Ansell who said that art, which is which was guest reviewed by Jack seldom reached in Little Theatres, was achieved in Monroe then.

"The Play's The Thing" held the mid-winter spot on the theater calendar and was indeed a beautiful production to look at, with its marbled pillars and Mediterranean view. Frank Breese, Roberta Guion (the only feminine member of the cast) and our director, Stocker Fontelieu were very ably aided in their large parts by Bill Epstein, Jimmy Smith, Tommy Inskeep and Joe Milner.

A much wanted mystery appeared in early April. "Laura" proved to be just what the theatrical doctor ordered and sent the audiences away pleased that they had begged for a mystery for so long. Fleta Latham played the title role. The rest of the outstanding cast were John Miller, John Lacy, Lea Thompson, Donald Bussey, Elroy Smith, Betty Slakter and Paul Voney.

And then came "Kiss and Tell" and it and its popularity are already legend. It played to capacity crowds nightly despite a soaring thermometer, graduations and end of the season recitals. It just goes to prove that a good show, well done will be attended, no matter what.

So now we can add to our growing list of participants at Little Theatre. Forty-two actors appeared on our stage this season, which means that in the three year existence of your Little Theatre Playhouse, there have been 98 different performers. I'd call that a pretty good record.

But all of this years performers cannot be called upon again. Pete Linton has moved away from Monroe, although he does manage a trip back every week end or so. Sara Ritter is about to take off for school and Bill Harp is teaching now at the Atlanta division of the University of Georgia. Tommy Inskeep has recently moved to San Francisco, where he will work this summer and enroll at Stanford University at Palo Alto in the fall. And K. D. Hayes, Jr., who is being wed in a few days, has received the beckon from Uncle Sam for a few days later.

But we're always looking for new talent. Who knows what next year will produce on that count. Perhaps you will turn actor and find that you have a talent that's been hidden all your life.

THEY'RE BITIN!

This Louisiana fishing photo was rated among the three best in international competition with several hundred entries in a recreational photo contest conducted by the International Council of Industrial Editors. The prize-winning photograph, above, by Howard Van Dyke, Tulsa, was published in The Link, magazine of The Carter Oil Company of which Van Dyke is editor. The boys proudly displaying a string of fat bream caught in Old River, Catahoula Lake, are Tommy, 8, and Jerry, 10, sons of F. E. Wilbanks, Carter pumper. Announcement of the award was made at the Council's recent convention in Minneapolis.

OIL SITE MARKED

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)— A plaque commemorating the discovery of oil in the rich Signal Hill district was unveled recently by members of Petroleum Production Pioneers, Inc.

The group, men with more than 30 years service in the oil industry, have started a campaign to mark locations of important petroleum discoveries in this state.

The first well on Sgnal Hill began flowing in 1921 and since then the district has become one of the richest oil comunities in the world, members said.

Chlorophyll is found in plants, but it probably occurs in some animals.

DRUG ORDINANCE NEEDED

SINGAPORE (AP)— Penicillin and other antibiotic drugs are being offered for sale openly by grocers and street vendors in Malaya, the Malayan Pharmaceutical Journal discloses.

Calling for an ordinance to control sale of therapeutic substances and antibiotic drugs, the official organ of the Malayan Pharmaceutical Association says there are loop-holes for unscrupulous manufactures to supply non-sterile ligatures and outdated and ineffective drugs.

INCOME FOR LIFE
easily within your reach!
Territorial Franchise Available!

If you are capable of supervising a chain of stores, we have available, at no cost, an exclusive territorial franchise in the Tastee-Freez chain of soft ice cream stores — the nation's fastest growing industry. Over 300 Tastee-Freez stores now operating—over 200 more scheduled to open in next 90 days. Our stores earn $6,000 to $15,000 per year, of which you, as franchise holder, would receive $1,300 to $3,000 a year for life. Only 20 stores in your territory would bring you $25,000 to $60,000 a year. Each territory large enough for successful operation of at least 25 stores.

Tastee-Freez stores can be opened with as small an investment as $3,500. This covers building and all equipment, including two fully automatic freezers, walk-in cooler and fountain type deep freeze. Financing can be arranged. Tastee-Freez stores are advertised in Saturday Evening Post, True, Popular Mechanics, Argosy, Kiwanis, and other publications.

The success of our more than 75 present franchise holders is our best reference. We advertise nationally for prospective store owners and for locations. Leads are turned over to franchise holders. For complete information write, wire or telephone Harlee Mfg. Co., [illegible] West Montrose, Chicago [illegible], Ill. Phone [illegible].

BASTROP

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Green are visiting in the home of Mr. Green's brother, Mr. Wade Green, in Little Rock, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Cain departed on Saturday for a vacation that will include stops in San Francisco and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Porter announce the birth of a daughter, born May 29th.

Little ten-year-old Kitty Nixen was the recipient of a beautiful engraved loving cup and the honor of being chosen "Miss Sunbeam of Bastrop" when Mr. Heffley, superintendent of the Wolf Baking Company in Shreveport, and local salesman Benton Barnette, made the award preceding the feature picture at the Rose Theatre last Thursday night.

Harper Smith, popular Square Dance caller of Dallas, Tex., called his dances to a record crowd at the Morehouse Country Club on Saturday night. The "Draggin' Axle" Square Dance Club and many more gay revelers enjoyed the music of a string band and Mr. Smith's unequaled calling.

Prior to their return to Chicago on Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kincaid feted their friends at a supper party at the country club on Thursday night. Among the guests who enjoyed the cocktail hour, dancing and late buffet dinner on the porch were: Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Raphael, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blanks, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Green, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schendle, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Dupree, Mr. Howard Worth, Mrs. Douglass White, Mr. and Mrs. A. VOTE FOR JOHN COON

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR
CITY OF MONROE

TO THE VOTERS

During the long weeks of the mayor's campaign I have endeavored to conduct a clean and honest campaign, one which would not embarrass the citizens of Monroe with mud slinging and name calling. I have made a pledge to all citizens that my campaign to the end will be conducted in this manner and no mar will be placed upon our city. I renew this pledge now and plan to exercise the pledge in every measure.

The progress and well being of the city of Monroe are my paramount platforms. I will seek, if elected as Mayor of Monroe, to promote the interest of all citizens and see that all departments meet the requirements, which you the average citizen, want for the community where he, his family and children reside.

As Mayor of the city of Monroe I will seek the location of new industry in our city so as to enable more persons to have substantial employment and also to increase the economic standards of Monroe.

In the past I have given to you, the citizens, my platform and know that you are well acquainted with its contents for the betterment of Monroe. These measures are standards by which I, John E. Coon, ask and earnestly solicit the vote of all Monroe citizens.

Cheniere Baptist Pastor Resigns His Charge

Cheniere Baptist Church has accepted the resignation of its pastor, Rev. Cecil H. Avery to take effect June 8.

During his pastorate of two and one-half years, and under his leadership, a new church auditorium has been built and an educational unit is under construction.

The church also is operating a successful vacation Bible school.

Good Hope Bible School Has 132 Enrolled

The Good Hope Church Vacation Bible School was started last Monday with 132 enrolled. Daily average attendance last week was 120.

The principal, Mrs. W. M. Graff, states that there is still time to enroll. The school will continue through next Friday.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

And it's a howling close that your Little Theatre has come to, the end of its 20th year. But the old Playhouse won't be locked up for a couple of weeks yet, anyway. The "Kiss and Tell" set has to be struck (that's theatre lingo for taken down) everything has to be moth balled up for the summer, and besides, there is that big membership meeting coming up on the 14th which none of you members want to miss.

So while we're waiting for the meeting to roll around, let's take a look at this 20th Anniversary season that we've been yelling about for so long.

Remember at the end of last summer, when the thermometer was still hovering up near 100 degrees, our director was out scouting for a cast for the season opener "Abie's Irish Rose?" And the scouting was profitable, too, for who of us who saw the side-splitting production will forget that classic American comedy, which, in case you need reminding, had in the cast Irving Zeidman, Bill Riley, Barbara Barker, Tom Hays, Roz Haas, John Savage, Walter Schubert and Carl Slakter.

Next came the heaviest production of the season "All My Sons" with its ingenious outdoor set, which marked the first time that had been done on our stages. Beth Breese, Carl Slakter, Sara Ritter and Pete Linton had the principal roles in this outstanding production, supported by Ken Roth, Barbara Addison, Allen Foster, "Dusty" Rhodes, Bill Harp and Mary Lee Whitaker. It was this show Ansell who said that art, which is which was guest reviewed by Jack seldom reached in Little Theatres, was achieved in Monroe then.

"The Play's The Thing" held the mid - winter spot on the theater calendar and was indeed a beautiful production to look at, with its marbled pillars and Mediterranean view. Frank Breese, Roberta Guion (the only feminine member of the cast) and our director, Stocker Fontelieu were very ably aided in their large parts by Bill Epstein, Jimmy Smith, Tommy Inskeep and Joe Milner.

A much wanted mystery appeared in early April. "Laura" proved to be just what the theatrical doctor ordered and sent the audiences away pleased that they had begged for a mystery for so long. Fleta Latham played the title role. The rest of the outstanding cast were John Miller, John Lacy, Lea Thompson, Donald Bussey, Elroy Smith, Betty Slakter and Paul Voney.

And then came "Kiss and Tell" and it and its popularity are already legend. It played to capacity crowds nightly despite a soaring thermometer, graduations and end of the season recitals. It just goes to prove that a good show, well done will be attended, no matter what.

So now we can add to our growing list of participants at Little Theatre. Forty - two actors appeared on our stage this season, which means that in the three year existence of your Little Theatre Playhouse, there have been 98 different performers. I'd call that a pretty good record.

But all of this years performers cannot be called upon again. Pete Linton has moved away from Monroe, although he does manage a trip back every week end or so. Sara Ritter is about to take off for school and Bill Harp is teaching now at the Atlanta division of the University of Georgia. Tommy Inskeep has recently moved to San Francisco, where he will work this summer and enroll at Stanford University at Palo Alto in the fall. And K. D. Hayes, Jr., who is being wed in a few days, has received the beckon from Uncle Sam for a few days later.

But we're always looking for new talent. Who knows what next year will produce on that count. Perhaps you will turn actor and find that you have a talent that's been hidden all your life.

OIL SITE MARKED

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)— A plaque commemorating the discovery of oil in the rich Signal Hll district was unveled recently by members of Petroleum Production Pioneers, Inc.

The group, men with more than 30 years service in the oil industry, have started a campaign to mark locations of important petroleum discoveries in this state.

The first well on Sgnal Hill began flowing in 1921 and since then the district has become one of the richest oil comunities in the world, members said.

DRUG ORDINANCE NEEDED

SINGAPORE (AP)— Penicillin and other antibiotic drugs are being offered for sale openly by grocers and street vendors in Malaya, the Malayan Pharmaceutical Journal discloses.

Calling for an ordinance to control sale of therapeutic substances and antibiotic drugs, the official organ of the Malayan Pharmaceutical Association says there are loop-holes for unscrupulous manufactures to supply non-sterile ligatures and outdated and ineffective drugs.

Chlorophyll is found in plants, but it probably occurs in some animals.

Couple Exchange Vows Of Double-Ring Service At The Lockarbor Baptist Church

The Lockarbor Baptist Church was the setting Saturday, May 31 at three o'clock in the afternoon of the marriage of Frances Janet Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case, of this city, to Carl Hopkins, son of Mrs. Bessie Hopkins, of Bastrop, and Mr. T. C. Hopkins, of Delhi.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive service before an altar which was decorated with baskets of greenery, Easter lilies and gladiola. The Rev. Billy Ray Snider, of Delhi, officiated at the double-ring service.

Miss Geraldine Weir played a program of prenuptial selections preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Dorothy Bynum as she sang "Because" and "The Lords Prayer." Miss Weir was wearing a dress of white organdy while Miss Bynum chose aqua.

Candlelighters were Miss Betty Case, cousin of the bride, and Miss Maxine Moore, of Delhi. Both were wearing pastel organdy dresses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length white Chantilly lace dress with accordian pleated skirt over white satin. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of slipper satin. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered by a single white orchid.

Miss Jo Nell ONeal, of Delhi, was maid of honor and only attendant. She was wearing a white embroidered organdy over pink taffeta. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Milford Andrews, of Delhi, served the groom as best man. Ushers were Mark Boatright, of Monroe, and Robert Mays, of Delhi.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Emerel, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Lovely arrangements of garden flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

The brides table was overlaid with a lace cloth over pink, and was centered with the three tiered wedding confection. At one end of the table was the crystal punch service, presided over by Etta Jean Masling and Kathleen Hennessey. Bettie Spurlock presided at the cake service.

The brides gifts were placed on display. At the brides book was Mrs. M. C. Case, of this city, aunt of the bride.

For their wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. the bride was wearing a white suit with black and white accessories. She wore the orchid from a bridal bouquet. Upon their return the couple will reside in Bastrop.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case, parents of the bride, were hosts at the rehearsal supper given at their home on Cole Ave.

For this occasion the bride-elect was wearing a sheer cotton. Her mother chose a printed silk.

Guests on this occasion were the Rev. Billy Roy Snider, Miss Melba Caldwell, Milford Andrews, Patricia Cummings, Jo Nell ONeal, Bobbie Hartley, Maxine Moore, Robert Mays, Geraldine Weir, Bettie Case, Rita Case, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Case, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case and the honorees, Janet Case and Hoppy Hopkins.

Chapter V, P. E. O. Has Final Meeting And Annual Banquet

The regular meeting of Chapter V, P. E. O. was held in the home of Mrs. F. L. Smith, Jr., on Spurgeon Drive. The annual spring banquet was held recently at the home of Mrs. W. A. Cotton on Gilbert street. Husbands were the invited guests.

Mrs. Kenneth Wright of Manhattan, Kansas was a visitor at the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Milton Adams and Mrs. V. Z. Ambroze recently attended the state convention which was held in Shreveport with headquarters at the Washington Youree. The theme of the convention was "Friendship."

Mrs. Mabel Scurrah, supreme president, gave an address on "River of Life," at the convention.

A massive arrangement of white and yellow lilies, magnolia leaves and daisies were placed in the living room. Further carrying out the yellow and white theme was the arrangement of magnolia leaves, flanked by yellow candles, on the refreshment table which was covered with an imported lace cloth. Placed on the coffee table were silver compotes holding mints and buttered pecans. Mrs. Smith, assisted by her young daughter, Alice, served a salad plate.

Members attending this last meeting of the year were Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. Ben Simpson, Jr., Mrs. J. F. Curry, Mrs. Don Kiper, Mrs. Milton Adams, Mrs. A. Signoff, Mrs. V. Z. Ambrose, Mrs. R. T. Farr, Mrs. H. D. Touchstone, Mrs. C. B. Ackel, Mrs. E. T. Nichols, Mrs. D. H. Martin and the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

Miss Nell Haile Maroney Weds William Lipscomb Dickson

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Home Of Bride's Parents In Marion

Of widespread interest throughout the state is the marriage of Miss Nell Haile Maroney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hugh Maroney of Marion, Louisiana, and William Lipscomb Dickson, son of Mrs. Julia Ogden Dickson and the late John Carter Dickson, of Shreveport, Louisiana.

The nuptial vows were spoken in the home of the bride's parents at six o'clock on May 10 in the presence of the immediate families.

Rev. Albert E. Pons of Lafayette, Louisiana performed the ceremony before an altar banked with tall baskets of white calla lilies, feverfew and candytuft. Branched candelabra held white tapers which were lighted by George Wilson Levert. The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Mary Virginia Jarmon.

Ogden Dickson, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Maroney were hosts at a reception following the ceremony. Receiving with the bridal party were the mothers of the bride and groom. Mrs. Maroney greeted the guests in pale, pink lace with rhinestone trim, while Mrs. Dickson chose aqua crepe with embroidery and lace trim. Both wore orchid corsages.

Mrs. Selden Senter, sister of the groom and Mrs. K. S. Thompson presided at the bride's book.

The bride's table held a double wedding ring cake embossed with white roses and topped with an arrangement of roses and lily-of-the-valley. Centering the table was a tall, silver candelabrum burning white tapers which cast a soft glow over the entire setting. Presiding at the antique china punchbowl at one end of the table were Mrs. Ogden Dickson and Mrs. Ralph Stripling. The buffet held a lovely arrangement of pale, pink peonies interspersed with candytuft. Mrs. Robert Tucker served the wedding cake. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. John A. Getty, Jr., Miss Wilma Tucker, Miss Bessie Tucker, Mrs. Albert E. Pons, and Miss Harriet Balis.

Mrs. H. G. Prophit, Jr., invited the guests to view the gifts which were displayed in the sun room.

A punch table placed on the lawn was covered with a white linen cloth and held hurricane lamps burning white tapers. Mrs. John O. Smith poured the punch and was assisted by Mrs. D. H. Phillips, Mrs. Frank H. Tarver, Jr., Mrs. John Zeigler and Mrs. Southerland West.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast the bride wore a suit of benedictine and white wool trimmed with white linen collar and cuffs.

Mrs. Dickson was graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority and Mr. Dickson who served in the armed forces in World War II, was graduated from Centenary College.

Miss Frances Janet Case Is Bride Of Carl Hopkins

Couple Exchange Vows Of Double-Ring Service At The Lockarbor Baptist Church

The Lockarbor Baptist Church was the setting Saturday, May 31 at three o'clock in the afternoon of the marriage of Frances Janet Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case, of this city, to Carl Hopkins, son of Mrs. Bessie Hopkins, of Bastrop, and Mr. T. C. Hopkins, of Delhi.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive service before an altar which was decorated with baskets of greenery, Easter lilies and gladiola. The Rev. Billy Ray Snider, of Delhi, officiated at the double-ring service.

Miss Geraldine Weir played a program of prenuptial selections preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Dorothy Bynum as she sang "Because and "The Lords Prayer." Miss Weir was wearing a dress of white organdy while Miss Bynum chose aqua.

Candlelighters were Miss Betty Case, cousin of the bride, and Miss Maxine Moore, of Delhi. Both were wearing pastel organdy dresses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length white Chantilly lace dress with accordian pleated skirt over white satin. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of slipper satin. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered by a single white orchid.

Miss Jo Nell ONeal, of Delhi, was maid of honor and only attendant. She was wearing a white embroidered organdy over pink taffeta. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Milford Andrews, of Delhi, served the groom as best man. Ushers were Mark Boatright, of Monroe, and Robert Mays, of Delhi.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Emerel, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Lovely arrangements of garden flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

The brides table was overlaid with a lace cloth over pink, and was centered with the three tiered wedding confection. At one end of the table was the crystal punch service, presided over by Etta Jean Masling and Kathleen Hennessey. Bettie Spurlock presided at the cake service.

The brides gifts were placed on display. At the brides book was Mrs. M. C. Case, of this city, aunt of the bride.

For their wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. the bride was wearing a white suit with black and white accessories. She wore the orchid from a bridal bouquet. Upon their return the couple will reside in Bastrop.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case, parents of the bride, were hosts at the rehearsal supper given at their home on Cole Ave.

For this occasion the bride-elect was wearing a sheer cotton. Her mother chose a printed silk.

Guests on this occasion were the Rev. Billy Roy Snider, Miss Melba Caldwell, Milford Andrews, Patricia Cummings, Jo Nell ONeal, Bobbie Hartley, Maxine Moore, Robert Mays, Geraldine Weir, Bettie Case, Rita Case, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Case, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case and the honorees, Janet Case and Hoppy Hopkins.

Chapter V, P. E. O. Has Final Meeting And Annual Banquet

The regular meeting of Chapter V, P. E. O. was held in the home of Mrs. F. L. Smith, Jr., on Spurgeon Drive. The annual spring banquet was held recently at the home of Mrs. W. A. Cotton on Gilbert street. Husbands were the invited guests.

Mrs. Kenneth Wright of Manhattan, Kansas was a visitor at the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Milton Adams and Mrs. V. Z. Ambroze recently attended the state convention which was held in Shreveport with headquarters at the Washington Youree. The theme of the convention was "Friendship."

Mrs. Mabel Scurrah, supreme president, gave an address on "River of Life," at the convention.

A massive arrangement of white and yellow lilies, magnolia leaves and daisies were placed in the living room. Further carrying out the yellow and white theme was the arrangement of magnolia leaves, flanked by yellow candles, on the refreshment table which was covered with an imported lace cloth. Placed on the coffee table were silver compotes holding mints and buttered pecans. Mrs. Smith, assisted by her young daughter, Alice, served a salad plate.

Members attending this last meeting of the year were Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. Ben Simpson, Jr., Mrs. J. F. Curry, Mrs. Don Kiper, Mrs. Milton Adams, Mrs. A. Signoff, Mrs. V. Z. Ambrose, Mrs. R. T. Farr, Mrs. H. D. Touchstone, Mrs. C. B. Ackel, Mrs. E. T. Nichols, Mrs. D. H. Martin and the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

Miss Nell Haile Maroney Weds William Lipscomb Dickson

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Home Of Bride's Parents In Marion

Of widespread interest throughout the state is the marriage of Miss Nell Haile Maroney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hugh Maroney of Marion, Louisiana, and William Lipscomb Dickson, son of Mrs. Julia Ogden Dickson and the late John Carter Dickson, of Shreveport, Louisiana.

The nuptial vows were spoken in the home of the bride's parents at six o'clock on May 10 in the presence of the immediate families.

Rev. Albert E. Pons of Lafayette, Louisiana performed the ceremony before an altar banked with tall baskets of white calla lilies, feverfew and candytuft. Branched candelabra held white tapers which were lighted by George Wilson Levert. The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Mary Virginia Jarmon.

Ogden Dickson, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Maroney were hosts at a reception following the ceremony. Receiving with the bridal party were the mothers of the bride and groom. Mrs. Maroney greeted the guests in pale, pink lace with rhinestone trim, while Mrs. Dickson chose aqua crepe with embroidery and lace trim. Both wore orchid corsages.

Mrs. Selden Senter, sister of the groom and Mrs. K. S. Thompson presided at the bride's book.

The bride's table held a double wedding ring cake embossed with white roses and topped with an arrangement of roses and lily-of-the-valley. Centering the table was a tall, silver candelabrum burning white tapers which cast a soft glow over the entire setting. Presiding at the antique china punchbowl at one end of the table were Mrs. Ogden Dickson and Mrs. Ralph Stripling. The buffet held a lovely arrangement of pale, pink peonies interspersed with candytuft. Mrs. Robert Tucker served the wedding cake. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. John A. Getty, Jr., Miss Wilma Tucker, Miss Bessie Tucker, Mrs. Albert E. Pons, and Miss Harriet Balis.

Mrs. H. G. Prophit, Jr., invited the guests to view the gifts which were displayed in the sun room.

A punch table placed on the lawn was covered with a white linen cloth and held hurricane lamps burning white tapers. Mrs. John O. Smith poured the punch and was assisted by Mrs. D. H. Phillips, Mrs. Frank H. Tarver, Jr., Mrs. John Zeigler and Mrs. Southerland West.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast the bride wore a suit of benedictine and white wool trimmed with white linen collar and cuffs.

Mrs. Dickson was graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority and Mr. Dickson who served in the armed forces in World War II, was graduated from Centenary College.

Food News

In making my rounds of the markets I find fryers, eggs and oranges still heading the plentiful foods along with canned fruit juices, table and cooking fats and cheese.

Had such a nice visit with Mrs. Clare Chenault (2000 Cole avenue, Monroe) Wednesday. They have one of the finest gardens I have seen this year. They're eating beans, turnip and mustard greens, onions, corn, radishes and cabbage from this garden. Mrs. Chenault says her husband, the general, is fully responsible for these fine vegetables. We had a nice chat about freezing. Mrs. Chenault has a new home freezer and is eager to fill this with fresh vegetables, prepared the right way. I hope all food preservation minded housewives will follow approved instructions for freezing. We've had lots of disappointments with frozen foods because a hit-and-miss method was followed. I left a freezing bulletin for Mrs. Chenault. Your copy is ready for you. Just call 3-2251.

A Sewing Hint

Mrs. J. F. Stone, Glenmar, was busy sewing for her small granddaughter when I stopped by to see the gloxinias. She had just finished an adorable broadcloth, using a handkerchief for the bertha. She said she had no trouble finding a handkerchief that blended with the dress, since the stores are offering such a variety. Also, Mrs. Stone had joined the waist and skirt with a small cord and she tells me this can be bought at a local store in all sizes. I was glad to know this. I've always unwound a large piece of cable cord, using one strand. This is lots of trouble and is not as firm as this cord she used. The little tots grow so fast and the dresses get too short waisted very soon, unless there is allowance for growth. By using a cord to join the two, the waist can be cut an inch and a half or two inches longer than needed. This extra length can be turned up, a cord put in and the waist stitched to the skirt, stitching very close to the cord. Your cording foot is best for that row of stitching. (I wish I could draw pictures in this column.)

I know you always put deep hems in the dresses for the little miss. While you're making the dress, why not make the skirt several inches too long and stitch a tuck in the under side of the hem? One could make several rows of stitching, then as the dress gets too short you can pull out a row. Saves time taking the hem out every time the skirt needs lengthening. Stitch this tuck with a very long stitch so it will be easy to pull out.

Garden Rakings

Hobbies are wonderful—I read where a famous psychiatrist said that all men and women should pick up a hobby as they approach middle age, even if it is so small a one as gathering varieties of acrons. "This," he said "will not allow so much time for imaginary troubles." Well, Marguriette Guerriero, 207 Glenmar, has the most interesting hobby and that is gathering different varieties of geranium plants. She has the Cocoanut geraniums that has the fragrant odor of fresh cocoanut. This is hardy and will grow outside all winter. Marguriette has the skeleton geranium that has a lovely tiny fuscha bloom. Do you remember your grandmothers always used a rose geranium to store with the fruit cake and to put in the bottom of the jelly glass? Marguriette has this variety, too. She gave me a leaf of the apple variety. I carried it in my pocket for several days and enjoyed the odor of fresh apples. The grower keeps leaves of this in her dish towels to keep them from smelling— well— like dish towels. Marguriette's mother always grew the Lemon Balm variety for use in finger bowls. Call by and "smell" the geraniums. Marguriette will give you a start ums are not so pretty as the gorgeous red varieties, but after all they're grown for odor more than looks.

Dot Searcy gave me a Rosa Hugonis (gold flower) plant last week. It really has a beautiful yellow bloom, also a Stokesia (Lavender Queen). The flower on this looks like a cross between an aster and a thistle. Dot has grown these for several years. They're deciduous, but come back year after year like your weigelias. For those searching for more flowering shrubs, you might like to add these to your collection.

Keep sprigging that St. Augustine and Centipede grass. I forgot to tell you—Don't plant these together. The St. Augustine will completely crowd out the Centipede.

That's all for today. See you next Sunday in this same column.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Peggy Senn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Senn of Farmerville, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Kenneth Rogers Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bird of Marion, is announced today. The wedding will be solemnized July 3, at the First Baptist Church in Farmerville.

Food News

In making my rounds of the markets I find fryers, eggs and oranges still heading the plentiful foods along with canned fruit juices, table and cooking fats and cheese.

Had such a nice visit with Mrs. Clare Chenault (2000 Cole avenue, Monroe) Wednesday. They have one of the finest gardens I have seen this year. They're eating beans, turnip and mustard greens, onions, corn, radishes and cabbage from this garden. Mrs. Chenault says her husband, the general, is fully responsible for these fine vegetables. We had a nice chat about freezing. Mrs. Chenault has a new home freezer and is eager to fill this with fresh vegetables, prepared the right way. I hope all food preservation minded housewives will follow approved instructions for freezing. We've had lots of disappointments with frozen foods because a hit-and-miss method was followed. I left a freezing bulletin for Mrs. Chenault. Your copy is ready for you. Just call 3-2251.

A Sewing Hint

Mrs. J. F. Stone, Glenmar, was busy sewing for her small granddaughter when I stopped by to see the gloxinias. She had just finished an adorable broadcloth, using a handkerchief for the bertha. She said she had no trouble finding a handkerchief that blended with the dress, since the stores are offering such a variety. Also, Mrs. Stone had joined the waist and skirt with a small cord and she tells me this can be bought at a local store in all sizes. I was glad to know this. I've always unwound a large piece of cable cord, using one strand. This is lots of trouble and is not as firm as this cord she used. The little tots grow so fast and the dresses get too short waisted very soon, unless there is allowance for growth. By using a cord to join the two, the waist can be cut an inch and a half or two inches longer than needed. This extra length can be turned up, a cord put in and the waist stitched to the skirt, stitching very close to the cord. Your cording foot is best for that row of stitching. (I wish I could draw pictures in this column.)

I know you always put deep hems in the dresses for the little miss. While you're making the dress, why not make the skirt several inches too long and stitch a tuck in the under side of the hem? ouc could make several rows of stitching, then as the dress gets too short you can pull out a row. Saves time taking the hem out every time the skirt needs lengthening. Stitch this tuck with a very long stitch so it will be easy to pull out.

Garden Rakings

Hobbies are wonderful—I read where a famous psychiatrist said that all men and women should pick up a hobby as they approach middle age, even if it is so small a one as gathering varieties of acrons. "This," he said "will not allow so much time for imaginary troubles." Well, Marguriette Guerriero, 207 Glenmar, has the most interesting hobby and that is gathering different varieties of geranium plants. She has the Cocoanut geraniums that has the fragrant odor of fresh cocoanut. This is hardy and will grow outside all winter. Marguriette has the skeleton geranium that has a lovely tiny fuscha bloom. Do you remember your grandmothers always used a rose geranium to store with the fruit cake and to put in the bottom of the jelly glass? Marguriette has this variety, too. She gave me a leaf of the apple variety. I carried it in my pocket for several days and enjoyed the odor of fresh apples. The grower keeps leaves of this in her dish towels to keep them from smelling— well— like dish towels. Marguriette's mother always grew the Lemon Balm variety for use in finger bowls. Call by and "smell" the geraniums. Marguriette will give you a start ums are not so pretty as the gorgeous red varieties, but after all they're grown for odor more than looks.

Dot Searcy gave me a Rosa Hugonis (gold flower) plant last week. It really has a beautiful yellow bloom, also a Stokesia (Lavender Queen). The flower on this looks like a cross between an aster and a thistle. Dot has grown these for several years. They're deciduous, but come back year after year like your weigelias. For those searching for more flowering shrubs, you might like to add these to your collection.

Keep sprigging that St. Augustine and Centipede grass. I forgot to tell you—Don't plant these together. The St. Augustine will completely crowd out the Centipede.

That's all for today. See you next Sunday in this same column.

Cadeville Club Has Monthly Meeting

The May meeting of the Cadeville Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. Cleburn White, the club president. Mrs. Lee Wilder presided. Expressing the thought of the month, Mrs. Wilder said, "The consciousness of clean lives is in itself a source of moral strength second only to that of a clean conscience." All joined in singing "Old Folks at Home," led by Mrs. Harold Roberts, and remained standing to give the pledge of allegiance to the flag, which was presented by Mrs. C. D. Spillers.

The secretary, Mrs. Cleburn White, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting and gave a treasurer's report. In the business discussion all were asked to think seriously who would represent the Cadeville Club at the short course to be held in Baton Rouge in August.

Mrs. James Sturdivant gave a splendid report of the May meeting of the Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council.

The following leaders gave reports: Mrs. C. D. Spillers, Mrs. Lee Wilder, and Mrs. Ida Wood.

The June meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. R. Wilder. Get well cards were sent to Mr. W. H. Mayes and Mrs. W. E. Leckie.

Members present were Mrs. D. A. Shell, Mrs. J. P. North, Mrs. T. A. Landrum, Mrs. C. L. Sullivan, Mrs. Lee H. Wilder, Mrs. C. D. Spillers, Mrs. Harold Roberts, Mrs. W. O. Roberts, Mrs. E. S. Hamilton, Mrs. C. R. Wilder, Mrs. James Sturdivant, Miss Ola Golson, Mrs. Ida Wood and the hostess, Mrs. Cleburn White. Four visitors present were Mrs. Maxine Sutton, Mrs. L. A. Wyble, Miss Faye Roberts and Miss Jo Ann White.

The hostess served delicious refreshments assisted by Jo Ann and Faye.

MRS. EVERETT LAWSON WINS TOP HONORS AT SHREVEPORT CONFERENCE

The list of awards given last week at the Ark-La-Tex Writers and Artists conference held in Shreveport, as reported in the Shreveport Times issue of June 1, gave the name of a Monroe writer as winning top honors in the poetry division. Adelaide Long Lawson (Mrs. E. Everett Lawson) rated first prize for her sonnet, "The Loom of Time", second prize for free verse entitled "Countryman's Carol," and first prize in all other poetic forms for her poem "Banners", thereby winning honors in all divisions of poetry. Judges in the various writing events included Anna F. Einselen, assistant editor of Ladies' Home Journal, Janet Sheps of Collier's, Fritz Bamberger, editorial director of Coronet, Betty Parsons Ragsdale, fiction editor of McCalls, and Whitney Montgomery and Vaida Stewart Montgomery, editors of the top quality poetry magazine Kaleidograph.

Mrs. Lawson, a Monroe musician and teacher of music, pursues the creative writing urge in her spare time, and has published poetry in leading publications of the nation, and in Canada. Her work appears consistently in the New York Times Washington (D. C.) Evening Star, Chicago Tribune, the New York Journal - American and nationally known poetry journals and periodicals, including Wings, the Ave Maria, Parish Visitor and many others. Her work was given prominence a few years ago when one of her poems was read by Ted Malone over two major networks within the same week. Other major broadcasts of her work include organ and poetry programs, "Moon River", of Cincinnati, O., and "Arrows in the Air" broadcast of San Rafael, Calif. Her book of poetry "Notes From Beauty's Lyre" has attracted very favorable editorial comment and book review reports.

Mrs. Lawson has given talks on the art of poetry before many literary groups, including the New Orleans Writers Club, the A A U W, the National League of American Pen Women of Little Rock, Ark., and The Fine Arts Club.

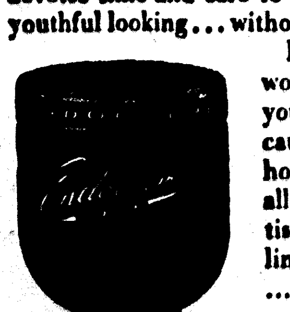
MONROE, LA.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.



For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

MRS. EVERETT LAWSON WINS TOP HONORS AT SHREVEPORT CONFERENCE

The list of awards given last week at the Ark-La-Tex Writers and Artists conference held in Shreveport, as reported in the Shreveport Times issue of June 1, gave the name of a Monroe writer as winning top honors in the poetry division. Adelaide Long Lawson (Mrs. E. Everett Lawson) rated first prize for her sonnet, "The Loom of Time", second prize for free verse entitled "Countryman's Carol," and first prize in all other poetic forms for her poem "Banners", thereby winning honors in all divisions of poetry. Judges in the various writing events included Anna F. Einselen, assistant editor of Ladies' Home Journal, Janet Sheps of Collier's, Fritz Bamberger, editorial director of Coronet, Betty Parsons Ragsdale, fiction editor of McCalls, and Whitney Montgomery and Vaida Stewart Montgomery, editors of the top quality poetry magazine Kaleidograph.

Mrs. Lawson, a Monroe musician and teacher of music, pursues the creative writing urge in her spare time, and has published poetry in leading publications of the nation, and in Canada. Her work appears consistently in the New York Times Washington (D. C.) Evening Star, Chicago Tribune, the New York Journal - American and nationally known poetry journals and periodicals, including Wings, the Ave Maria, Parish Visitor and many others. Her work was given prominence a few years ago when one of her poems was read by Ted Malone over two major networks within the same week. Other major broadcasts of her work include organ and poetry programs, "Moon River", of Cincinnati, O., and "Arrows in the Air" broadcast of San Rafael, Calif. Her book of poetry "Notes From Beauty's Lyre" has attracted very favorable editorial comment and book review reports.

Mrs. Lawson has given talks on the art of poetry before many literary groups, including the New Orleans Writers Club, the A A U W, the National League of American Pen Women of Little Rock, Ark., and The Fine Arts Club.

MONROE, LA.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

MRS. HELEN AGNEW TO ATTEND ANNUAL QUOTA CLUB CONVENTION

Mrs. Helen Agnew, president of the Monroe Quota Club, was elected as delegate to attend the annual Quota Club Internationals Convention which will be held in Coronado, Calif., on June 18-21. Mrs. Agnew was elected at the meeting held by the Quota Club Sunday.

The president read to the members the official call to convention from International President Gladys Herrington of Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, inviting Quotarians of the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Australia to attend. The theme of the convention will be "Happiness — Quota's Mission."

Delegates will meet at the Hotel del Coronado in Coronado to elect International officers, to plan work for the coming year under the International projects of service to women and girls, aid to the hard of hearing, and community work. President Gladys Herrington will preside at all business meetings.

Speaking at the opening luncheon will be Mrs. Belle Benchley, executive secretary of the San Diego zoo, the only woman in the country responsible for the direction of a zoo. Dr. Alonzo Baker, head of the department of political science and international relations at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, Calif., will address the opening banquet. The founder of Quota International, Wanda Frey Joiner, will preside at a luncheon on Friday in honor of governors of all Quota districts.

Quota International was founded in 1919, and the convention in Coronado will be the second one held in California. All members are women executives in businesses and the professions.

Among the social events will be a reception on Wednesday, June 18, and a fun fest on Friday night with skits and other entertainment by the California clubs. There will also be an evening boat ride and bus trips to San Diego and Tijuana. Newly elected International officers and directors will be installed following the closing banquet on Saturday, June 21.

Miss Willa Lee Bennett Is Bride Of Robert Loyd Cone

First Baptist Church Of Choudrant Is Setting For Double Ring Ceremony

A lovely wedding of May was that of Miss Willa Lee Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bennett of Choudrant and Robert Lloyd Cone, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cone of Wichita Falls, Texas. The wedding was solemnized Saturday May 10, at 7:30 in the evening in the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Edgar Bryan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Basket standards of white stock, marconi and fern were placed before the fireplace forming a floral background, which reflected in the mirror over the mantle. White tapers burning in arched candelabra cast a soft glow over the entire setting.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Frances Riddles, sister of the groom, rendered a program of wedding music, while the candles were being lighted by Mrs. Lynn Sanderson.

The bride was lovely in her ballerina length dress of white nylon marquisette over taffeta. The extremely full gathered skirt was embossed with flowers, centered with rhinestones. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a close fitted Dutch cap trimmed with rhinestones, and she wore the traditional something old, something new, borrowed and blue, and a penny in her shoe. Her bridal bouquet was a single orchid, from which fell white satin streamers.

Miss Billie Sue Knight, of Sicily Island, was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She was wearing an aqua linen dress with a white organdy overskirt. She carried a bouquet of painted daisies and split carnations.

Serving the groom as best man, was his father, Mr. A . L. Cone.

Mrs. Bennett, mother of the bride, chose a black marquisette dress over black taffeta, and complemented by a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Cone, wore an aqua model, with which she wore a corsage of pink carnations. Her accessories were of brown linen.

Reception

The bride's parents were hosts at the reception immediately following the ceremony.

Arrangements of pink carnations. lilies and Queen Anne's lace were used throughout the reception rooms.

The bride's table was covered with a pink linen cloth, centered with an arrangement of flowers and candles. At one end of the table was the crystal punch bowl from which streamers of white satin flowed the entire length of the table to the opposite end, where they stopped at the embossd three-tiered wedding cake; topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Eloise Sizemore and at the cake service, Mrs. Lynn Sanderson.

Later the bridal couple left on their wedding trip to Phoenix, Arizona. For traveling the bride was wearing a yellow shantung suit, with matching straw hat. Her accessories were taffeta. The orchid for her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Cone is a graduate of Choudrant High school, and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, and has been a member of the faculty of Black High School, Jonesville, for the past year.

Mr. Cone is a graduate of Texas A. & M. College and is employed as Bank Examiner for F. D. I. C.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Friends of both families are invited through this medium since no formal invitations were mailed.

MAYOR'S WIFE COMPLAINS

DENVER (AP) — Mayor Quigg Newton usually opens his Sunday afternoon radio program with a few letters from his fellow citizens.

He read one from a feminine correspondent recently who said her husband had "asked her not to write when I threatened to do so at 1 a.m. this morning."

The writer then protested against the noise that street cleaners' shovels make on the pavements at midnight. The letter was signed: "Virginia Newton." That's "Mrs. Mayor."

Color Brings New Life Into The Home

Color can do much to make rooms attractive, suggests Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent, L. S. U. agricultural extension service. Soft, pastel walls of light, unusual colors, together with harmonious furnishings, can actually bring new life into the home.

"Choose colors you like but be sure they are of the correct value (lightness or darkness) and intensity," she advises. Don't be drab in order to be practical — pleasing colors cost no more, not do they show soil any quicker than neutral, lifeless colors.

"Try to achieve unify, instead of a spotty effect, by limiting yourself to three or four main colors in a room with one color predominating. Too much design and too many bright, unrelated colors make a room seem busy instead of restful and livable.

"Take time about deciding on colors. Study color combinations carefully. Try samples of wallpaper, paint, upholstery, and rugs before making up your mind. Plain rugs and plain walls are easier to adapt to a decorative scheme than are multicolored, large - patterned rugs or wallpaper. Also, it is much easier to harmonize the color of walls and curtains with a rug than to match a rug to the walls and curtains.

"For a spacious look, use curtain material of the same value, but not necessarily the same color, as the walls. If figured curtains or draperies are used, some of the color of the walls should appear in the pattern. Woodwork the same color as the walls also makes a room look larger," she points out.

LENGTHY PACT

The Philippines and the United States signed a 99-year agreement on March 14, 1947, for Amercan military and naval bases in the islands. The agreement provides that in the interest of international security any of these bases may be made available to the Security Council of the United Nations.

Reception

The bride's parents were hosts at the reception immediately following the ceremony.

Arrangements of pink carnations. lilies and Queen Anne's lace were used throughout the reception rooms.

The bride's table was covered with a pink linen cloth, centered with an arrangement of flowers and candles. At one end of the table was the crystal punch bowl from which streamers of white satin flowed the entire length of the table to the opposite end, where they stopped at the embossd three-tiered wedding cake; topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Eloise Sizemore and at the cake service, Mrs. Lynn Sanderson.

Later the bridal couple left on their wedding trip to Phoenix, Arizona. For traveling the bride was wearing a yellow shantung suit, with matching straw hat. Her accessories were taffeta. The orchid for her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Cone is a graduate of Choudrant High school, and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, and has been a member of the faculty of Black High School, Jonesville, for the past year.

Mr. Cone is a graduate of Texas A. & M. College and is employed as Bank Examiner for F. D. I. C.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd Cone shown above at the reception following their marriage which was solemnized Saturday, May 10 at the First Baptist Church of Choudrant. The bride is the former Miss Willa Lee Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bennett, of Choudrant. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cone, of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Ferriday Methodist W. S. C. S. Has Meeting

FERRIDAY, La., June 6.—The general meeting of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church of Ferriday was held Tuesday in the Methodist church sanctuary. The program opened with the prelude music by Miss Diana Cross and Miss Ruth Elsie Warren. Ruth Elsie sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. F. F. Griffen. The entire group contributed to the worship service by singing the hymn, "Help Somebody, Today."

A candlelight pledge service was conducted by Mrs. F. F. Griffin, president and the following officers were installed for the coming year: President, Mrs. Gene Rogillio; vice - president, Mrs. Don Alverson, recording secretary, Mrs. J. Friffen; treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Wailes, secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. A. A. Forester; promotion secretary, Mrs. Bill Strozier; secretary of Christian Social Relations, Mrs. Henry Rucker; secretary of missionary education, Mrs. F. F. Griffen; secretary of literature and publications, Mrs. Raymond Russell; secretary of supply work, Mrs. A. E. Chauvin; secretary of youth work, Mrs. L. L. Denham; secretary of children's work, Mrs. Ernest Townsend; secretary of student work, Mrs. E. Becton; chairman of day circle, Mrs. J. A. Lane; chairman of night, Mrs. J. R. Sewell.

The business meeting was called to order by Mrs. F. F. Griffen, and closed with benediction when the group adjourned to the annex for a social hour. Miss Geraldine Hendrixson, bride - elect was presented with a gift of china from the members of the W. S. C. S. The hostesses who served refreshments were: Mrs. J. R. Sewell, Mrs. A. A. Forrester and Mrs. Cecil Long.

Emma Durham To Be Bride Of B. Flemmin

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Durham, of this city, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Emma Jean, to Glenn Burnett Flemmin. The marriage will be solemnized at the College Place Baptist Church at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 8th.

Friends of both families are invited through this medium since no formal invitations were mailed.

MAYOR'S WIFE COMPLAINS

DENVER (AP) — Mayor Quigg Newton usually opens his Sunday afternoon radio program with a few letters from his fellow citizens.

He read one from a feminine correspondent recently who said her husband had "asked her not to write when I threatened to do so at 1 a.m. this morning."

The writer then protested against the noise that street cleaners' shovels make on the pavements at midnight. The letter was signed: "Virginia Newton." That's "Mrs. Mayor."

Color Brings New Life Into The Home

Color can do much to make rooms attractive, suggests Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent, L. S. U. agricultural extension service. Soft, pastel walls of light, unusual colors, together with harmonious furnishings, can actually bring new life into the home.

"Choose colors you like but be sure they are of the correct value (lightness or darkness) and intensity," she advises. Don't be drab in order to be practical — pleasing colors cost no more, not do they show soil any quicker than neutral, lifeless colors.

"Try to achieve unify, instead of a spotty effect, by limiting yourself to three or four main colors in a room with one color predominating. Too much design and too many bright, unrelated colors make a room seem busy instead of restful and livable.

"Take time about deciding on colors. Study color combinations carefully. Try samples of wallpaper, paint, upholstery, and rugs before making up your mind. Plain rugs and plain walls are easier to adapt to a decorative scheme than are multicolored, large - patterned rugs or wallpaper. Also, it is much easier to harmonize the color of walls and curtains with a rug than to match a rug to the walls and curtains.

"For a spacious look, use curtain material of the same value, but not necessarily the same color, as the walls. If figured curtains or draperies are used, some of the color of the walls should appear in the pattern. Woodwork the same color as the walls also makes a room look larger," she points out.

LENGTHY PACT

The Philippines and the United States signed a 99-year agreement on March 14, 1947, for Amercan military and naval bases in the islands. The agreement provides that in the interest of international security any of these bases may be made available to the Security Council of the United Nations.

Junior Charity League Provisional Members Finish League Course

The prime social accomplishments formerly were the ability to use a French phrase or to excel in fancy work, but today no such accomplishments are necessary and they count for naught in the general scheme of things in our modern world. Now women must have the determination to accomplish worthwhile things and the willingness to extend a helping hand to those in need.

One group of young women in Monroe have just completed the provisional course under the direction of Mrs. Roy Johns, Jr., vice president of the Junior Charity League. Aside from studying about the Junior League's philanthropic projects, these "provisionals" visited each center of league work, such as the "Treat Day at Charity Hospital for all little children under 12 years of age, and, incidentally, a league library and clothes bank are at this institution under the supervision of the Junior Charity League, which also furnishes robes, slippers, tooth brushes and tooth powder to all these little ones, including layettes for each needy new-born babe. League members participate in the cripple childrens clinic by taking physicians notes and having prescriptions filled for the needy children. These league "provisionals are taught now to investigate families for the leagues milk list. These projects are financed solely with the proceeds from the Junior Charity Leagues Thrift Shop which is operated by league members. The Thrift Shop sells used merchandise that has been and is being donated to the league.

After this orientation course is completed, the provisional members begin work at these various centers of league activity.

IN TOM THUMB WEDDING

Dr. Harry Holmes To Address Delta Rho Delta Sorority

Sigma Members To Hear Houston, Texas Minister On Monday Evening

The local chapter of Delta Rho Delta National Business and Professional Women's Sorority will meet on Monday night at the Virginia Hotel for their last lecture meeting of the year and will have as their speaker one of the most outstanding religious leaders in the Houston area as their speaker.

Making his first appearance before Sigma chapter will be Dr. Harry N. Holmes, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church, Houston, Tex., which is the fourth largest Methodist Church of the Houston East district.

Dr. Holmes is a noted worker in the fields of education, social service, and religion. From 1940-42 he served as one of the ministers at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Houston. During the war, he did triple duty, serving as director of the Wesley Bible Chair at Stephen F. Austin State College and director of The Wesley Foundation as well as pastor of Perritte Memorial Methodist Church in the City of Nacogdoches, Tex. He has also served as pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Kilgore, and acted as director of the Wesley Foundations at both the Rice Institute and the University of Houston. For two years, Dr. Holmes acted in the capacity of conference director of schools and colleges for the Texas Conference of the Methodist Church. He has now completed a year's pastorate in Epworth Methodist Church, Houston.

Dr. Holmes began his speaking schedule with Delta Rho Delta in 1941-42. The war brought about a termination temporarily in his engagements with Delta Rho Delta; however, he is now back on the schedule and has already spoken to the Tulsa, Oklahoma City, San Antonio, Beaumont and Houston chapters thus far this year. Following his address to the local chapter on Monday evening, he will go to Shreveport where he will address the Epsilon chapter on Tuesday night.

Dr. Holmes has selected as his subject "What's Right With The World!" This subject is tremendously interesting, Dr. Holmes stated, because, in these days, we are so prone to look on the dark side of the picture and think nothing is right with the world. It's a good subject, has much appeal, and carries interest all the way through. We find that there are many things right with the world, assets we have overlooked. What are they? Let's find out at the lecture on Monday evening.

Delta Rho Delta feels honored to have a speaker such as Dr. Holmes and extends to their friends a cordial welcome to join them on Monday evening in the Cameo Room at the Virginia Hotel at 8:00 p. m. and hear Dr. Holmes.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

Worn valve stems and guides should not be overlooked as a possible reason for an engine using a great deal of gas, pumping oil, missing, and lacking power.

Tea-Shower Honors Geraldine Hendrixson

FERRIDAY, La., June 6— On Thursday evening at the spacious home of Mrs. John Harvey Johnson, a tea and shower was held from 6 to 8 p. m. honoring Miss Geraldine Hendrixson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holly Hendrixson, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Ferd Godbold was recently announced.

Miss Hendrixson received with the hostesses Mesdames: J. M. Johnson, Bruce Wilgus, H. A. Bateman, L. Pollard Coleman, F. Braillier, V. Porter Lane Crews, Otto Lancaster, G. E. Allwood, and Robert A. Gurley.

The Johnson home was prettily decorated with Easter lilies, roses, and daisies, and the tea table was centered with an arrangement of white peonies and queen's lace flanked on each side with lighted silver candlesticks holding white tapers.

Miss Hendrixson was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and the affair brought together the largest number of friends and relatives of the summer season.

Junior Charity League Provisional Members Finish League Course

The prime social accomplishments formerly were the ability to use a French phrase or to excel in fancy work, but today no such accomplishments are necessary and they count for naught in the general scheme of things in our modern world. Now women must have the determination to accomplish worthwhile things and the willingness to extend a helping hand to those in need.

One group of young women in Monroe have just completed the provisional course under the direction of Mrs. Roy Johns, Jr., vice president of the Junior Charity League. Aside from studying about the Junior League's philanthropic projects, these "provisionals" visited each center of league work, such as the "Treat Day at Charity Hospital for all little children under 12 years of age, and, incidentally, a league library and clothes bank are at this institution under the supervision of the Junior Charity League, which also furnishes robes, slippers, tooth brushes and tooth powder to all these little ones, including layettes for each needy new-born babe. League members participate in the cripple childrens clinic by taking physicians notes and having prescriptions filled for the needy children. These league "provisionals are taught now to investigate families for the leagues milk list. These projects are financed solely with the proceeds from the Junior Charity Leagues Thrift Shop which is operated by league members. The Thrift Shop sells used merchandise that has been and is being donated to the league.

After this orientation course is completed, the provisional members begin work at these various centers of league activity.

Length of a standard nautical mile in U. S. usage is 6080.27 feet while British, French, and German versions range from two inches to four feet shorter.

Dr. Harry Holmes To Address Delta Rho Delta Sorority

Sigma Members To Hear Houston, Texas Minister On Monday Evening

The local chapter of Delta Rho Delta National Business and Professional Women's Sorority will meet on Monday night at the Virginia Hotel for their last lecture meeting of the year and will have as their speaker one of the most outstanding religious leaders in the Houston area as their speaker.

Making his first appearance before Sigma chapter will be Dr. Harry N. Holmes, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church, Houston, Tex., which is the fourth largest Methodist Church of the Houston East district.

Dr. Holmes is a noted worker in the fields of education, social service, and religion. From 1940-42 he served as one of the ministers at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Houston. During the war, he did triple duty, serving as director of the Wesley Bible Chair at Stephen F. Austin State College and director of The Wesley Foundation as well as pastor of Perritte Memorial Methodist Church in the City of Nacogdoches, Tex. He has also served as pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Kilgore, and acted as director of the Wesley Foundations at both the Rice Institute and the University of Houston. For two years, Dr. Holmes acted in the capacity of conference director of schools and colleges for the Texas Conference of the Methodist Church. He has now completed a year's pastorate in Epworth Methodist Church, Houston.

Dr. Holmes began his speaking schedule with Delta Rho Delta in 1941-42. The war brought about a termination temporarily in his engagements with Delta Rho Delta; however, he is now back on the schedule and has already spoken to the Tulsa, Oklahoma City, San Antonio, Beaumont and Houston chapters thus far this year. Following his address to the local chapter on Monday evening, he will go to Shreveport where he will address the Epsilon chapter on Tuesday night.

Dr. Holmes has selected as his subject "What's Right With The World!" This subject is tremendously interesting, Dr. Holmes stated, because, in these days, we are so prone to look on the dark side of the picture and think nothing is right with the world. It's a good subject, has much appeal, and carries interest all the way through. We find that there are many things right with the world, assets we have overlooked. What are they? Let's find out at the lecture on Monday evening

Delta Rho Delta feels honored to have a speaker such as Dr. Holmes and extends to their friends a cordial welcome to join them on Monday evening in the Cameo Room at the Virginia Hotel at 8:00 p. m. and hear Dr. Holmes.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

Tea-Shower Honors Geraldine Hendrixson

FERRIDAY, La., June 6— On Thursday evening at the spacious home of Mrs. John Harvey Johnson, a tea and shower was held from 6 to 8 p. m. honoring Miss Geraldine Hendrixson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holly Hendrixson, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Ferd Godbold was recently announced.

Miss Hendrixson received with the hostesses Mesdames: J. M. Johnson, Bruce Wilgus, H. A. Bateman, L. Pollard Coleman, F. Braillier, V. Porter Lane Crews, Otto Lancaster, G. E. Allwood, and Robert A. Gurley.

The Johnson home was prettily decorated with Easter lilies, roses, and daisies, and the tea table was centered with an arrangement of white peonies and queen's lace flanked on each side with lighted silver candlesticks holding white tapers.

Miss Hendrixson was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and the affair brought together the largest number of friends and relatives of the summer season.

I favor keeping all of the employees of the City who are qualified, and who do a full day's work for a full day's pay. I believe City employees should be free to vote as they see fit.

2. ON POLICE FORCE

Our city has many fine officers on its police force who would like to enforce the laws impartially. I think our police force should be encouraged, developed and increased so as to provide adequate law enforcement and full protection to all of our citizens. A good business administration will make this possible.

W. S. C. S. Societies In Monroe District Have Meeting In Mer Rouge

The Mer Rouge and Bonne Idee Woman's Society of Christian Services were hosts to W. S. C. S. societies of Zone II in the Monroe district, on May 13, at 1:30 o'clock in the Mer Rouge Methodist Church. There were 66 present.

Mrs. W. W. Stormet of Bastrop, zone leader, opened the program and the Rev. Clyde Shaw, pastor of the Mer Rouge Church gave the invocation.

Mrs. Stormet introduced Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, district promotion secretary, who conducted the meeting.

The first part of the program concerned the setting up of the theme and goals of the guardrennial based on Spiritual growth, widening fellowship, a world church, peace and missions. District officers spoke on each phase of the work.

Mrs. W. A. Cotton, district supply secretary on the subject of Spiritual Growth, spoke on the need for prayer life.

Mrs. DeFreese spoke on the second goal, Widening Fellowship by Making Every Methodist woman a member of the W. S. C. S.

Mrs. E. P. Cudd spoke on "Peace," Mrs. H. M. Moak, district president, on "Missions" and Mrs. H. F. Boyd, district vice-president on "World Federation of Methodist Women."

This portion of the program was concluded with the repeating of the "Covenant of Discipleship," by the local presidents and district officers.

The group sang five hymns with Mrs. Roy Windsor at the organ and Mrs. Willis Montgomery leading the singing. The titles were: The Kingdom of God, The Christian Life, Discipleship, Passion and Activity and Zeal, each one pertaining to one of the five goals of this quadrennial.

The second part of the work concerned officers training. This was conducted by Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. H. F. Boyd, Mrs. E. P. Cudd and Mrs. H. M. Moak of Monroe. Mrs. W. W. Stormet and Mrs. Allen Pomeroy of Bastrop.

All societies were urged to make budgets and have officers training day.

Mrs. S. C. Cathy, of Bastrop, concluded the program by giving an inspiring devotional using scripture from the writings of Paul.

There was a delightful social hour at the close of the meeting when the hostess societies served refreshments in the auditorium of the annex.

Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, Sr. Honors Catholic Ladies Altar Society Recently

Mrs. J. B. Filhoil Sr. entertained the Catholic Ladies Altar Society in her lovely old home at logtown with forty-two members present.

Beautiful arrangements of magnolias and gardenias were used throughout the house. The meeting was opened with prayer and the minutes read and approved. The sick and welcoming committees gave their reports and were reappointed for the month of June. Three members were welcomed, Mrs. M. Flacy, Mrs. Nellie Bruno and Miss Albert D'Amico.

A picnic was planned for July with Mrs. Waldorf Smith and Mrs. Odel Wood in charge of arrangements.

Election of officers was held. Mrs. Filhiol accepted the presidency for another year, Mrs. Albert Horuff, 1st vice president, Mrs. Ed Saucier, 2nd vice president, Mrs. J. L. Coon, treasurer, Mrs. J. Frank Jones, secretary. Mrs. Filhiol, very graciously thanked each member for her cooperation and asked for its continuation during the coming year.

A delicious confectionary course was served by Mrs. Marie Filhiol, Mrs. John Filhiol, Jr., Florence Filhiol and Marie Adele Hancock to Mrs. A. Horuff, Mrs. W. E. Reardon, Mrs. A. Schneider, Mrs. J. Doyle, Mrs. Osterland, Mrs S. Danna, Mrs. M. Flacy, Mrs. P. Malikowski, Mrs. E. Saucier, Mrs. J. Mundo, Mrs Cicero, Mrs. Joffrion, Mrs. Messina, Mrs. Burgoyne, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Bergerin, Mrs. T. Dupree, Mrs. D. Moore, Sr., Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. Louise Endom, Mrs. Belle Brown, Mrs. Alice Hawthorne, Mrs. W. Cunningham, Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Mary G. Jones, Mrs. R. Tally, Mrs. H. Cooper, Mrs. Della Williamson, Mrs. M. Sparkman, Mrs. B. Moore, Mrs. Odel Wood, Mrs. L. Ballard, Mrs. Woods, Mrs. A. Cornett, Mrs. V. C. Spatafora, Mrs. J. V. Jones, Mrs. J. L. Coon, Mrs. S. Mrs. W. A. Cotton, district supply secretary on the subject of Spiritual Growth, spoke on the need for prayer life.

Mrs. DeFreese spoke on the second goal, Widening Fellowship by Making Every Methodist woman a member of the W. S. C. S.

Mrs. E. P. Cudd spoke on "Peace," Mrs. H. M. Moak, district president, on "Missions" and Mrs. H. F. Boyd, district vice-president on "World Federation of Methodist Women."

This portion of the program was concluded with the repeating of the "Covenant of Discipleship," by the local presidents and district officers.

The group sang five hymns with Mrs. Roy Windsor at the organ and Mrs. Willis Montgomery leading the singing. The titles were: The Kingdom of God, The Christian Life, Discipleship, Passion and Activity and Zeal, each one pertaining to one of the five goals of this quadrennial.

The second part of the work concerned officers training. This was conducted by Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. H. F. Boyd, Mrs. E. P. Cudd and Mrs. H. M. Moak of Monroe. Mrs. W. W. Stormet and Mrs. Allen Pomeroy of Bastrop.

All societies were urged to make budgets and have officers training day.

Mrs. S. C. Cathy, of Bastrop, concluded the program by giving an inspiring devotional using scripture from the writings of Paul.

There was a delightful social hour at the close of the meeting when the hostess societies served refreshments in the auditorium of the annex.

Luncheon And Showers Honor Madeline Kalil Before Her Marriage Saturday

Among the courtesies extended Miss Madeline Kalil before her marriage Sunday to Mr. Bill Worley was a shower given at the home of Mrs. N. Abraham. Hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Louis Elias and Mrs. N. Abraham.

Miss Kalil was wearing one of her trousseau models of white silk with aqua trim and shoes and purse of aqua corsage of pink glads. Mrs. I. Kalil, the brides mother was wearing navy linen, with a white corsage. Mrs. D. Worley, the grooms mother chose an imported voile of navy with pink trim, and a pink corsage. The corsages were gifts of the hostess. For this occasion Mrs. Abraham wore an orchid linen, and Mrs. Elias a printed chiffon with matching accessories.

At one end of the tea table was a lovely arrangement of white lilies flanked by tall white tapers, while at the other end was the crystal punch bowl which was presided over by Misses Betty Elias and Joann Abraham. Placed about the table were dainty sandwiches and other lovely confections.

Lilies and glads were used throughout the receiving rooms.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Joe Mamie of Jonesboro, Miss Mary Virginia Assess of Port Author, Tex., Miss Joyce Abraham, Mrs. Ned Jabour, and Mrs. Paul Abide of Greenville, Miss.

Sixty guests enjoyed the delightful party with Miss Kalil, who received many lovely gifts of miscellaneous nature including crystal, china, and silver in her chosen pattern.

A lovely luncheon was recently given by Mrs. Claud Allen and Mrs. Vane Brazil at the LaCasa honoring Miss Madeline Kalil. Miss Kalil chose for this occasion a rose linen. Her beautiful corsage, a gift of Mrs. G. A. O'Neal was of white glamellas.

Centering the table was a lovely arrangement of shasta daisies, and each place was marked with a unique place card holding the fortune of each one, which created much amusement when read.

Enjoying this occasion with the honoree were Miss Joann Abraham, Mrs. Eugene Bellow, of El Dorado Ark. sister of the groom, Mrs. Barbara Gilbert, Miss Betty Elias, Mrs. D. Worley and the hostesses, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Brazil.

Women are busy these days conserving the surplus foods for winter. The steam pressure cooker is in daily use getting those non - acid vegetables (beets, beans, carrots and squash) canned.

Be sure you are using the new time recommended in the revised time table for processing, and remember all products are put in the jar hot (cold pack method is no longer used). The hot pack method reduces the processing period. Processing is done at 10 pounds (240 defrees F). The length of the processing times are: beets, pint jar, 25 minutes: quart jar, 55 minutes; snap beans, squash (sliced and carrots (sliced or diced), pint jar, 20 minutes: quart jar, 25 minutes.

Those having home freezers are preparing these products for winter by freezing. Be sure to scald each product the required period and use one gallon of boiling water to scald one pound of vegetables. Don't try to scald larger quantities as it will over cook the product. Be sure to scald, as the report from the latest research done on freezing recommends it.

Surplus cabbage can be made into sauer kraut (some use method recommended for chinese cabbage and freeze it successfully.)

Bulletins on canning, freezing, making pickles and relishes, and preserves, jams and jellies are available to you by calling 3-2251 or coming by the Agricultural Building, West Monroe, for one.

The following ten women are enrolled in having a demonstration pantry: Mrs. T. F. Burnett, Mrs. H. H. Roberts, Mrs. E. L. Tisdale, Mrs. J. A. Waggoner, Mrs. C. K. Brooks; Woodlawn Club; Mrs. Edith French, Mrs. Blanche Wilder, Mrs. Paul North, Cadeville Club; Mrs. Nara Kelly, Watson Club; Mrs. H. O. Eley, Claiborne Club.

How about more enrolling by writing or calling your home demonstration agent. She will send you all particulars and visit you in your home to help you. A full pantry is the best way to keep from paying that advance price of food.

The Surroundings

Let's keep the spring brightness in our yards by planting some of those plants that can take the hot weather — like vinca (be sure to plant some white it will make you feel fresher every time you look at it during these hot days), celosia, zinnias and marigolds. There are so many varieties of zinnias and marigolds, you can achieve any color harmony you desire. It is now time to transplant or set rooted cuttings of chrysanthemums for fall bloomers. Dalhias, too, can be planted now. If you need some low growing blue blooming plant you can plant ageratum. Other flowers which may be planted now are:

Torenia, tithonia, klondyke, cosmos, michealmus daisy and african golden daisy.

Portraits By Charles Wesley Copeland Exhibited At Tea

Miss Freeda Mickel Entertains At Country Club Thursday At Preliminary Exhibit

Thursday afternoon at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, art lovers of the Twin Cities were entertained by Miss Freeda Mickel at a tea and preliminary exhibit of portraits by Mr. Charles Wesley Copeland.

It is rare indeed that public interest has been aroused to such an extent over an artist so gifted as Mr. Copeland. Mr. Copeland is a graduate of the Kansas City Art Institute and has gained recognition over a wide area of the United States. Soft lines that harmonize with the mood of the subject characterizes his contemporary work. His portraits are beautifully drawn, perfectly precise, but relaxed and without accents. The afternoon was filled with exhilerating experiences as hundreds of guests of the Twin Cities and nearby communities viewed the living portraits of many Monroe subjects.

Attractive arrangements of yellow day lilies were placed at vantage points throughout the club. Other arrangements of magnolias, magnolia leaves, gardenias and daisies were placed about the reception room. Centering the two refreshment tables were arrangements of yellow, white and rust gladiolas. Other arrangements were of Easter lilies and baskets of gladiolias.

Greeting the guests at the entrance were Mr. J. V. Spatafora, Miss Freeda Mickel, Mrs. Ed Dalton, Mrs. Henry Mayo, Mrs. Ray D. Magruder, Mrs. H. M. James, Mrs. Carey Thompson, Mrs. Lealis Hale and Mrs. Richard Riley. Mrs. Chevis Sherrouse and Mr. John Cale rendered lovely piano selections during the afternoon.

Alternating at the lovely silver coffee services were Mrs. R. D. Kellogg, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. C. U. Johnson, and Mrs. Carey Thompson. Assisting with the serving were Miss Elizabeth Leigh, Miss Diane Ducote, Miss Polly Riley, and Miss Carolyn Peters.

Flower arrangements were by Mrs. Henry Mayo, Mrs. Ed Dalton, Mrs. H. W. Engstrom, Mrs. Betty Engstrom, and Mrs. Carey Thompson and Mr. Philip Embanato, landscape artist.

Exhibited works of Mr. Copeland were Sharon Ann Thompson, Mrs. John Crump, Mr. Lealis Hale, Mrs. Lealis Hale, Danny, Miss Freeda Mickel, Miss Helen Wilds, Jean Oustalet, of New Orleans, Sally Mitchell, of Kansas City, Mo. and Robert Hanson, of New Orleans.

The portrait of Miss Sharon Ann Thompson, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Thompson, Jr., is rendered with a soft blending of subtle pastel colors. The most striking note of the painting is the expression about the eyes, which appear so deep and intense for a child of her age and yet those who know Sharon Ann recognized immediately the trueness of the painting.

The striking use of color is most effective in Mrs. John H. Crump's picture. The use of a few restrained tones, the most subtle rendering of form and the delicate graduations in brush work create a warm personality. A small area in the modeling of the face show as many as fifteen different hues and a few feet away these individual splashes of color pull together with convincing realism.

Miss Helen Wilds' portrait is a composition of design in seated profile. The linking of the face to the soft light green background is of calm refinement. The pale indescribable flesh color tones contain delicate pinks, complementary to the background, and a range of cool and warm greenish tints that belong with the background color. The execution is soft and tender and reflects the presence of youthful individuality.

Mr. Copeland's handling of technique in the portrait of Miss Freeda Mickel displays unexpected warm highlights and vibrant color which give the face and eyes an intense aliveness. All of the components of the picture reflect the femininety and the character of the individual.

Mr. Copeland's contemporary use of color completes an exquisite portrait of Miss Gene Oustalet of New Orleans. His use of a black gown which is taboo among the traditional painters and the dark background create a study of sensitive beauty.

The portrait of Miss Sally Mitchell of Mobile, Ala. perpetuates her informal character. Sienna and ochre tones together with other warm colors give stress and youthfulness to the composition.

Mr. Copeland's portrait of his nephew Danny is a study of the defiance and independence of a small boy. The monotone effect of the background which is carried in variations of blue and gives emphasis to the warm flesh tones and personality of Danny.

Pastels on exhibit were of Mr. and Mrs. Lealis Hale and Mr. Robert Hanson, of New Orleans.

Miss Alice Perry Is Lovely Bride Of Jack Longino Smith

First Presbyterian Church Of Bastrop Is Setting Of Impressive Wedding Service

Poignant memories of the romance and beauty of the Old South were stirred by the wedding ceremony in the lovely little colonial brick Presbyterian Church of Bastrop, La.,

Poignant memories of the romance and beauty of the Old South were stirred by the wedding ceremony in the lovely little colonial brick Presbyterian Church of Bastrop, at 4 o'clock on Sunday the first day of June when Miss Alice Moselle Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Elder Perry of Perryville became the bride of Jack Longino Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Smith of West Monroe. Guests were ushered into the sanctuary to the soft strains of music from the organ played by Mrs. Stewart Scott. Banked against the pale green walls were glossy dark green magnolia leaves from which standards of tall white tapers rose in pyramids to the dark red velvet curtain which draped to the back of the altar. Great clusters of creamy white magnolia blooms were silhouetted against the deep green of the leaves. Single perfect magnolia blossoms tied with ribbons of the same glossy green as the leaves marked the white-painted sides of the fruitwood pews reserved for members of the family of the bride and groom. Preceding the taking of the vows, Mrs. Bobby Wilson, lovely in white organdy gown over pink taffeta, sang "O Perfect Love," and "Thru the Years"; following the vows she sang the "Lord's Prayer." Dr. O. M. Anderson performed the double ring ceremony.

The matron of honor, Mrs. James Atkins Perry and the bridesmaids, Mrs. O. J. Ham, Jr., Mrs. Roland Barry, and Miss Camille Smith wore identical white embroidered organdies with a close fitting basque, sleeveless boleros and full short white skirts with wide crushed white taffeta sashes. On their heads were small Juliet caps of white embroidered organdy and pearls. They carried lovely bouquets of dark green magnolia leaves arranged in a fan at the base of which was a full-blossomed magnolia and a bud from which fell streamers of magnolia green ribbon. The flower girl, Miss Paula Perry was a charming picture in a similar white organdy carrying a miniature fan bouquet of small magnolia leaves and fleur de meur gardenias with dark green streamers.

Mr. Robert Bruce attended the groom as best man. The groomsmen, handsome in summer tux, were Mr. James Atkins Perry III, Mr. Paul Ernest King, Mr. William P. Eyre and Mr. Paul Smith.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a ballerina length white imported Swiss organdy, exquisitely embroidered around the hem of the full skirt, on the small cap sleeves and bordering the lovely portrait decolletage and stand-up collar which framed her face. From the embroidered white organdy calotte on her dark hair fell a shoulder length veil of illusion. She carried a small white Bible on which rested a lovely white orchid from which cascaded streamers of white satin ribbon and stephanotis.

For this occasion the bride's mother had selected a charming navy sheer. Her hat was a small shiny rough straw with a wide band of navy velvet and a smart white quill. Her corsage was a white glamellia. The groom's mother was wearing a lovely navy sheer, a becoming large navy off-the-face straw hat trimmed with red roses. Her corsage was also a white glamellia.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the Perry family home at Perryville where the bride grew up and now occupied by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John William Perry. As they crossed the wide gallery, guests were greeted at the door by Miss Rupert Perry and Mrs. John William Perry, the bride's aunts.

The bride's table, covered with a white organdy cloth, was centered with a large silver five-branch candelabra entwined with orchids and maiden hair fern. At one end of the table was a milk glass punch bowl and at the other a double heart wedding cake embossed with roses and valley lilies. Mrs. H. E. Guerriero, Mrs. D. L. O'Neal and Mrs. J. F. Cox presided in turn at the punch bowl. Mrs. G. L. Harrington served the cake alter the bride and groom had cut the first piece. Mrs. Walter Hastings, Mrs. W. P. Eyre, and Miss Elizabeth Tillman assisted with courtesies in the dining room.

At vantage points throughout the reception rooms were lovely arrangements of magnolia. Miss Jean Smith, sister of the groom, presided at the bride's book.

The bride attended Northeast Louisiana College, and is a graduate of Louisiana Tech. She is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. The groom attended Northeast Louisiana College.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Harvey Parnell of Halley, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mouk of Baton Rouge, Mr. George Hayden of Leland, Miss., and Reverend and Mrs. D. L. O'Neal of Ruston.

Rehearsal Supper

On Saturday evening following the wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Cox entertained the wedding party with a buffet supper in their spacious country home. A beautiful arrangement of magnolia centered the coffee table on the wide gallery. Bouquets of Easter lilies, white gladiola, maidenhair fern and Queen Anne's lace carried out the bridal theme. The supper table was overlaid with a delicate lace cloth made by the host's grandmother. It was monogramed at one end and satin stitch roses formed a border running along the top. The table's centerpiece was of magnolias flanked with white candles. During the evening the bride presented each of her bridesmaids with a lovely sterling coffee spoon engraved with "Alice and Jack" and date; the groom presented each of his attendants with attractive key rings with a watch fob on the end. Mr. and Mrs. Cox presented the honored couple with a sterling bread tray.

Enjoying the festivities of this occasion were the honored couple, Miss Alice Perry and Mr. Jack Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Lea Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McKenzie, Sr., Mrs. John Lewis, Rev. O. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Venable, Mr. Bobby Bruce, Mr. Paul Smith, Miss Jean Smith, Miss Camille Smith, Mr. DeWitt Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Perry, and Mr. Paul King.

Miss Mamie Jo Drouet Is Honored At Prenupital Events

Bride-Elect Whose Marriage Will Be An Event Of Today Entertained At Three Parties

Miss Mamie Jo Drouet, whose marriage to James Allyn Cheneval will be solemnized this afternoon, has been the inspiration for many lovely prenupital events. Among these was the bridge party given by Miss Beverly Martin, Mrs. B. B. Martin and Mrs. M. G. Moore.

For this occasion the honoree was wearing a purple cotton with rhinestone trim and was presented a corsage of gardenias. The hostesses also presented Mrs. John Drouet, mother of the honoree, with a corsage of gardenias.

Lovely arrangements of daisies were placed throughout the reception rooms. Little individual gardenias were given to each of the guests.

A frozen dessert was served at the individual tables that had as their centerpiece a nosegay of daisies.

Miss Leora LeFors was winner of high score.

The hostess graciously presented Miss Drouet with china in her chosen pattern and a lazy susan.

Invited guests were Miss Betty Jo Shlenker, Miss Jo Ann Ransom, Miss Agnes Jones, Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mrs. Bucky McElroy, Mrs. Fred Crenshaw, Mrs. Charles Amman, Mrs. Roy Johns, Mrs. Mariann B. Williamson, Miss Leora LeFors, Mrs. Drouet, the honoree and the hostesses.

Luncheon

Mrs. F. L. Jones and Miss Agnes Jones were hostesses at a luncheon honoring the lovely bride-elect.

Miss Drouet was wearing for this occasion a brown and white cotton, brown accessories and a corsage of red roses and daisies, presented to her by the hostesses.

The luncheon was served at individual tables which were decorated with silver candle holders and rose buds.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a milk glass flower bowl.

Guests attending this affair were Mrs. Roy Johns, Mrs. Bucky McElroy, Miss Betty Jo Shlenker, Miss Joanne Ransom, Miss Bettie Lee White, Mrs. John M. Drouet, and the honoree, Miss Drouet, and the two hostesses.

Bridge Party

Mrs. Bucky McElroy entertained the bride-elect recently at a bridge party honoring Miss Mamie Jo Drouet and Miss Polly Jean Phelps, brides-elect.

Each were presented with a corsage of white daisies and a gift of a pair of ash trays.

Sharing this occasion with the two honorees were Mrs. Walter Hastings, Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Jr., Mrs. Stewart Scott, Mrs. Marianne B. Williamson, Miss Leora LeFors and the hostess.

Boy Scout Troops In Lake Providence Have Charter Ceremony

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., June 6.—(Special)— Monday night Lake Providence Scouters conducted charter presentation ceremonies at the Goodwill community Methodist church, to present recently organized troop 59 with its charter. W. R. Abernethy acted as master of ceremonies. Don White and Wayne Farris conducted the candlelighting ceremony, and presentation of tenderfoot badges to the boys of the troop. Dr. Don Davis, largely instrumental in the new troop organization, presented the troop its charter, which was accepted by H. T. McIntyre, institutional representative.

The Goodwill Methodist Church is the troop's sponsoring institution, and in the presentation remarks Dr. Davis stressed the obligations and responsibilities to a new troop, in keeping it alive and interested in club activities. There were 22 Scouts enrolled for the organizing.

Troop officers are H. T. McIntyre, institutional representative; R. K. Allen, chairman of troop committee, and O. B. Higdon, T. W. Malone, J. A. Payne, J. M. Welch, troop committee members; Ellis S. Jeffcoat, Scout master, and Tillman Suggs, his assistant.

THE JACK HOWARD STAND ON CITY ATTORNEY

My opponent has stated that I intend to appoint Mr. Joseph Guerriero as City Attorney. There is no truth whatever in this statement. In the first place, the Mayor has no authority to appoint a City Attorney. He must be chosen by a majority of the City Council. I do feel that the City Attorney should be a lawyer who is in a position to give the City 100% representation and that he should be acceptable to all three members of the Council.

On Saturday evening following the wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Cox entertained the wedding party with a buffet supper in their spacious country home. A beautiful arrangement of magnolia centered the coffee table on the wide gallery. Bouquets of Easter lilies, white gladiola, maidenhair fern and Queen Anne's lace carried out the bridal theme. The supper table was overlaid with a delicate lace cloth made by the host's grandmother. It was monogramed at one end and satin stitch roses formed a border running along the top. The table's centerpiece was of magnolias flanked with white candles. During the evening the bride presented each of her bridesmaids with a lovely sterling coffee spoon engraved with "Alice and Jack" and date; the groom presented each of his attendants with attractive key rings with a watch fob on the end. Mr. and Mrs. Cox presented the honored couple with a sterling bread tray.

Enjoying the festivities of this occasion were the honored couple, Miss Alice Perry and Mr. Jack Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Lea Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McKenzie, Sr., Mrs. John Lewis, Rev. O. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Venable, Mr. Bobby Bruce, Mr. Paul Smith, Miss Jean Smith, Miss Camille Smith, Mr. DeWitt Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Perry, and Mr. Paul King.

Miss Mamie Jo Drouet Is Honored At Prenupital Events

Bride-Elect Whose Marriage Will Be An Event Of Today Entertained At Three Parties

Miss Mamie Jo Drouet, whose marriage to James Allyn Cheneval will be solemnized this afternoon, has been the inspiration for many lovely prenupital events. Among these was the bridge party given by Miss Beverly Martin, Mrs. B. B. Martin and Mrs. M. G. Moore.

For this occasion the honoree was wearing a purple cotton with rhinestone trim and was presented a corsage of gardenias. The hostesses also presented Mrs. John Drouet, mother of the honoree, with a corsage of gardenias.

Lovely arrangements of daisies were placed throughout the reception rooms. Little individual gardenias were given to each of the guests.

A frozen dessert was served at the individual tables that had as their centerpiece a nosegay of daisies.

Miss Leora LeFors was winner of high score.

The hostess graciously presented Miss Drouet with china in her chosen pattern and a lazy susan.

Invited guests were Miss Betty Jo Shlenker, Miss Jo Ann Ransom, Miss Agnes Jones, Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mrs. Bucky McElroy, Mrs. Fred Crenshaw, Mrs. Charles Amman, Mrs. Roy Johns, Mrs. Mariann B. Williamson, Miss Leora LeFors, Mrs. Drouet, the honoree and the hostesses.

Luncheon

Mrs. F. L. Jones and Miss Agnes Jones were hostesses at a luncheon honoring the lovely bride-elect.

Miss Drouet was wearing for this occasion a brown and white cotton, brown accessories and a corsage of red roses and daisies, presented to her by the hostesses.

The luncheon was served at individual tables which were decorated with silver candle holders and rose buds.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a milk glass flower bowl.

Guests attending this affair were Mrs. Roy Johns, Mrs. Bucky McElroy, Miss Betty Jo Shlenker, Miss Joanne Ransom, Miss Bettie Lee White, Mrs. John M. Drouet, and the honoree, Miss Drouet, and the two hostesses.

Bridge Party

Mrs. Bucky McElroy entertained the bride-elect recently at a bridge party honoring Miss Mamie Jo Drouet and Miss Polly Jean Phelps, brides-elect.

Each were presented with a corsage of white daisies and a gift of a pair of ash trays.

Sharing this occasion with the two honorees were Mrs. Walter Hastings, Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Jr., Mrs. Stewart Scott, Mrs. Marianne B. Williamson, Miss Leora LeFors and the hostess.

Boy Scout Troops In Lake Providence Have Charter Ceremony

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., June 6.—(Special)— Monday night Lake Providence Scouters conducted charter presentation ceremonies at the Goodwill community Methodist church, to present recently organized troop 59 with its charter. W. R. Abernethy acted as master of ceremonies. Don White and Wayne Farris conducted the candlelighting ceremony, and presentation of tenderfoot badges to the boys of the troop. Dr. Don Davis, largely instrumental in the new troop organization, presented the troop its charter, which was accepted by H. T. McIntyre, institutional representative.

The Goodwill Methodist Church is the troop's sponsoring institution, and in the presentation remarks Dr. Davis stressed the obligations and responsibilities to a new troop, in keeping it alive and interested in club activities. There were 22 Scouts enrolled for the organizing.

Troop officers are H. T. McIntyre, institutional representative; R. K. Allen, chairman of troop committee, and O. B. Higdon, T. W. Malone, J. A. Payne, J. M. Welch, troop committee members; Ellis S. Jeffcoat, Scout master, and Tillman Suggs, his assistant.

ON CITY ATTORNEY
My opponent has stated that I intend to appoint Mr. Joseph Guerriero as City Attorney. There is no truth whatever in this statement. In the first place, the Mayor has no authority to appoint a City Attorney. He must be chosen by a majority of the City Council. I do feel that the City Attorney should be a lawyer who is in a position to give the City 100% representation and that he should be acceptable to all three members of the Council.

Douglas, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Helen Janelle Stevenson Honored In Lake Providence

Mrs. Robert Sidney Guenard, Mrs. Arthur I. Guenard And Mrs. Stephen H. Guenard Entertain Bride-Elect

Miss Helen Janelle Stevenson, Shreveport, whose marriage to Sidney Chaffe Guenard, of Lake Providence, will be solemnized, Thursday, June 12, at 6:30 in the evening at Noel Memorial Methodist Church, Shreveport, has been honored in Lake Providence with a series of pre nuptial parties.

Miss Stevenson, faculty member at Lake Providence High the past school year, has been a popular member of the younger social set in Lake Providence and Shreveport, and has enjoyed wide popularity here and is being welcomed with happy anticipation into the younger married group in her future home.

On Saturday afternoon, from four to six, Miss Stevenson was beautifully entertained at a handsomely appointed tea, at the Legion home, by the bridegroom elect's family. The hostesses were Mrs. Robert Sidney Guenard, Mrs. Arthur Imbrie Guenard, and Mrs. Stephen Hortaire Guenard.

The Legion home, which lends itself picturesquely to decorations, was at it's loveliest with fragrant arrangements of early spring flowers, the beauty of the refreshment setting and the pastel shades of the gowns of the monde was alluring.

The guests were greeted at the entrance door by Mrs. Frank Cain and Mrs. Helman Cohn. Mrs. Golden Leigh Levy and Mrs. John Rolfe Howard invited the 400 guests to register in the bride elect's book. To welcome the many guests into the lounge, standing in the opened French doors, were Mrs. Herbert E. Howard, and Mrs. Harvey H. Howington, Jr.

The receiving line, composed of the hostesses, the honoree, her mother Mrs. Robert Franklin Stevenson, Shreveport, and a sister Mrs. Thomas L. Douglas, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., stood in a cornered semicircle between picture windows overlooking Bayou Tensas, and before a background of magnolia blooms and leaves. Grouped in another corner were graduated floor baskets of Queen Anne's lace and deep purple delphinium. Decorating the baby grand piano was a flared vase filled with white carnations, fever few and fern. For the podium there were sprays of magnolia buds and foliage.

The lovely bride elect enhanced her natural charm by wearing a lace model over yellow. The fitted bodice with sparkle button front closing had a miniature curved collar and three quarter length sleeves. The fullness of the skirt created an exquisite flare. Her shoulder corsage was of yellow rosebuds, matching her linen pumps.

The two table setting for refreshments were unrivalled for floral beauty and detailed setting. The round table for the silver punch service, was overlaid with floor length, shadow hemmed organza cloth. Draping the table edge were tulle poufs, gathered at intervals with nosegays of pink rosebuds. Alternating at this table were Mrs. John C. Bass, Mrs. Mark H. Brown, Mrs. Lillian P. Gross, Mrs. David McIntosh of Oak Grove, Miss Sara O'Neal of Choudrant, Mrs. Frederick Hall Schneider, Mrs. Frank Voelker, and Mrs. Frank Voelker, Jr. The rectangle table for individual cakes, hors d'oeuvre and green and white mints, was overlaid with matching organza cloth and centered with a massive silver bowl overflowing with white stock, pompon mums and plumosa fern. On each side were silver candelabra with burning slim white tapers to cast a mellowed glow over the setting. Dispensing the serving courtesies at this table were Mrs. Anna Ransdell Cox, Mrs. M. P. Erwin, Mrs. J. N. Hill, Jr., Mrs. Barry Mitchell, Mrs. W. F. Trieschmann and Mrs. Charles C. Willey of Sweden Plantation, Altheimer, Ark.

Highlight of the afternoon were the piano numbers graciously rendered by Mrs. Melba Liner of Monroe, who also accompanied Mrs. Amanda Ransdell Harmon, concert violinist of Baltimore, Md.

Noted among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. B. Adams, Mrs. Leo Shields, Mrs. Thomas P. Kell, Miss Cornelia Kell, all of Tallulah; Mrs. Arnold Shields, Alsatia; Mrs. Henry Nevin, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Amanda Ransdell Harmon, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Bera Childers and Mrs. Solon Floritt, Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Logan Perkins, New Orleans; Mrs. Melba H. Liner, Monroe; Mrs. Thayer McCoy, Greenville, Miss.; Mrs. Guthree Jarrell, Epps; Mrs. Joe Kelley, Mrs. Marvin Lipp, Mrs. David McIntosch, all of Oak Grove; Mrs. Alonzo W. Moore, Bastrop; Miss Kate Shepherd, Jackson, Miss., Mrs. W. B. R. Mitchell, Transylvania, and Miss Sarah O'Neal, Choudrant.

Mrs. Guy DuPriest Entertains Monroe Literary Club Members

Mrs. J. E. Baugh Installed As President At Final Club Meeting

The Monroe Literary Club concluded a most successful year of study on the "The World Today," at a meeting in the lovely home of Mrs. Guy DuPriest. Mrs. J. W. Womack presided in the absence of Mrs. J. S. Worley. Following a short business session, Mrs. D. A. Altick introduced Mrs. J. Norman Coon, a prominent local club woman, who installed the officers for the year 1952-53.

Mrs. Coon, who has such a winning personality, spoke briefly on the purpose and objective of Women's clubs, and impressed upon the membership the aggregate power of women in club work, the world over. She designated the responsibility of each separate office to the new officers, beginning with the program chairman and ending with the president of the club. At this time a tribute was paid to Mrs. D. A. Altick, who in the current year as program chairman has executed her office with superb ability and grace.

The new officers are as follows: president, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, vice president, Mrs. J. D. Kelly; secretary, Mrs. Charles E. Coe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. T. Pifer; treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Colmer; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. W. Womack; Historian, Mrs. J. S. Worley, Reporter, Mrs. Floyd L. Ferrell; Program chairman, Mrs. A. M. Kite.

The hostesses, Mrs. Guy DuPriest and Mrs. J. W. Womack served iced individual cakes and ice cream punch to the following members and guests: Mrs. J. H. Drake, Mrs. Floyd Ferrell, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. C. D. McAdams, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. C. T. Pifer, Mrs D. A. Altick, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. T. C. Huebner.

Girl Scout News

So much Girl Scout activity these days that it is hard to decide which to mention. First, though, we'd better say that there will be registration for the sewing classes which start June 16 at the Red Cross building. It was decided that too many girls would be disappointed if dozens showed up and only 15 or 20 could get in. Every Girl Scout understands about taking turns and expects to be left out if she doesn't take the proper steps. Call the Scout office, you wouldbe seamstresses, and put your name on the list.

Those who haven't sewed before are to be in a morning class at 9:30 and are to take scissors, needle, thread, thimble, and a quarter for a yard of dark print material the first day. Later each girl will make a slip.

Girls who have sewed before will be in an afternoon class beginning at 2:00. They will learn to make a blouse and should buy Simplicity pattern No. 2311 and as much chambray or gingham as the pattern calls for in their size. Each girl should also bring thimble, needle, thread to match material, scissors, pins, and a tape measure.

Swimming classes go merrily on each day at the pool with an even hundred girls enrolled in swimming and lifesaving classes. Agnes Jones and Beverly Hatchell are the capable teachers. Parents of the girls are well satisfied with the progress each girl makes. Mamas sit on the benches and visit with each other and watch their offspring. It seems to be a lot of fun for everybody.

Troop camping goes on full blast, too, now that nobody has to wait for Friday and Saturday. A group of eleven girls Friday and Saturday of last week and a group of 20 Monday and Tuesday learned a few new skills and had a wonderful time, too. Making breadtwists for breakfast for the first time was an experience for one group.

People who might shudder at the thought of the dishwashing involved for 23 people should take a lesson from the group. Each girl went outside the camp fence and cut a long straight persimmon stick. She sharpened the little end, left the other end blunt. On the thin, tapered end she cooked an angle - on-horseback for supper and on the blunt end a breadtwist for breakfast. No dishes at all. And what could be better than a nicely - browned breadtwist with the center filled with melted butter and jelly!

With the Friday group Alma Patrick, Ethel Easterling, and Annis Klie were the adults in charge, while Mrs. R. C. Jolissaint and Ethel Easterling and Annis accompanied Monday's group. Patrol leaders for the girls were Patsy Brown, Ann Kincaid, Ann McDonald and Jackie Masur. Activities included out door cooking such as the aforesaid angles on horseback and breadtwist, the always popular walk to the sand bar on the river, a campfire with everybody joining in the paper bag dramatics, games, and singing, color ceremonies, and berry picking.

Campers all seem to enjoy taking part in the color ceremonies. We are sure that Mr. J. G. Hicks, of United Pipeline, would be pleased to see that the beautiful flag pole which he gave flies the American Flag when the girls are in camp. Just before supper each evening, color guards and bearers put on their red saches and, while campers and staff stand at attention in horseshoe formation, take down the flag ceremoniously. The group then files quietly out to supper. More news next Sunday.

First, though, we'd better say that there will be registration for the sewing classes which start June 16 at the Red Cross building. It was decided that too many girls would be disappointed if dozens showed up and only 15 or 20 could get in. Every Girl Scout understands about taking turns and expects to be left out if she doesn't take the proper steps. Call the Scout office, you would-be seamstresses, and put your name on the list.

Those who haven't sewed before are to be in a morning class at 9:30 and are to take scissors, needle, thread, thimble, and a quarter for a yard of dark print material the first day. Later each girl will make a slip.

Girls who have sewed before will be in an afternoon class beginning at 2:00. They will learn to make a blouse and should buy Simplicity pattern No. 2311 and as much chambray or gingham as the pattern calls for in their size. Each girl should also bring thimble, needle, thread to match material, scissors, pins, and a tape measure.

Swimming classes go merrily on each day at the pool with an even hundred girls enrolled in swimming and lifesaving classes. Agnes Jones and Beverly Hatchell are the capable teachers. Parents of the girls are well satisfied with the progress each girl makes. Mamas sit on the benches and visit with each other and watch their offspring. It seems to be a lot of fun for everybody.

Troop camping goes on full blast, too, now that nobody has to wait for Friday and Saturday. A group of eleven girls Friday and Saturday of last week and a group of 20 Monday and Tuesday learned a few new skills and had a wonderful time, too. Making breadtwists for breakfast for the first time was an experience for one group.

People who might shudder at the thought of the dishwashing involved for 23 people should take a lesson from the group. Each girl went outside the camp fence and cut a long straight persimmon stick. She sharpened the little end, left the other end blunt. On the thin, tapered end she cooked an angle - on-horseback for supper and on the blunt end a breadtwist for breakfast. No dishes at all. And what could be better than a nicely - browned breadtwist with the center filled with melted butter and jelly!

With the Friday group Alma Patrick, Ethel Easterling, and Annis Klie were the adults in charge, while Mrs. R. C. Jolissaint and Ethel Easterling and Annis accompanied Monday's group. Patrol leaders for the girls were Patsy Brown, Ann Kincaid, Ann McDonald and Jackie Masur. Activities included out door cooking such as the aforesaid angles on horseback and breadtwist, the always popular walk to the sand bar on the river, a campfire with everybody joining in the paper bag dramatics, games, and singing, color ceremonies, and berry picking.

Campers all seem to enjoy taking part in the color ceremonies. We are sure that Mr. J. G. Hicks, of United Pipeline, would be pleased to see that the beautiful flag pole which he gave flies the American Flag when the girls are in camp. Just before supper each evening, color guards and bearers put on their red saches and, while campers and staff stand at attention in horseshoe formation, take down the flag ceremoniously. The group then files quietly out to supper. More news next Sunday.

U. and has left to accept a position with the Gulf Oil Company in Port Arthur, Tex.

Children from Ferriday, Waterproof, Jonesville, and Sicily Island took part in the dancing revue. A large crowd was present including parents and they enjoyed seeing their children put on this splendid show, and also the beautiful costumes they wore.

TO APPEAR IN RECITAL

Victor David Cascio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe David Cascio, will appear in the dance recital of Mary Lou Young which will be held Tuesday, June 10 at the Neville High School Auditorium.

Alpha Delta Kappa Honorary Sorority Has First Meeting

Officers Installed By National President At Home Of Mrs. Betty Fisher

On the evening of May 17 the Louisiana Alpha chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa honorary sorority was organized and the new officers installed by the national president, Mrs. Agnes Shipman. She was assisted by five members of Alpha Delta Kappa from Little Rock, Arkansas.

Alpha Delta Kappa was organized by a group of teachers in the state of Missouri about fifteen years ago. It was decided to make this a national organization about 10 years ago. The national headquarters are located in Kansas City, Mo.

This Greek letter organization's main purpose is to give classroom teachers a more active part in civic, professional, and altruistic projects through organized means.

The new officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Agnes Miller, president; Mrs. Bess Burns, vice-president; Mrs. Lera Coon, recording secretary; Mrs. Lorraine Cook, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ouida McGee, treasurer; Mrs. Ione Hill, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Elizabeth Blair and Mrs. Betty Fisher, the chaplains; and Mrs. Frances Manning, the keeper of the archives.

The charter members of Alpha chapter are: Mrs. Loyce P. Gaar, Mrs. Avrice Simpson, Mrs. Bess Burns, Mrs. Anna S. Rinehart, Mrs. Loraine Cook, Mrs. Lelia Stewart, Welch, Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher, Mrs. Mrs. Lera Coon, Mrs. Pauline Maybelle Johnston, Mrs. Ione Hill, Mrs. Agnes Miller, Mrs. Ernestine Cook, Mrs. Eva May Funderburk, Mrs. Ouda McGee, Mrs. Sallie Richardson, Mrs. Winifred Kilpatrick, Mrs. Frances Manning, Miss Vera Dowling, and Mrs. Elizabeth Blair.

Alpha chapter had its first business meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty Fisher. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Agnes Miller. Committees were assigned. It was decided to have the charter framed. The Yearbook committee asked for an open discussion concerning the programs for the coming year. The time for meeting was set every third Thursday at 6:30 p.m. The majority of the meetings will be supper meetings. The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Miller.

Members present were: Mrs. Loyce Gaar, Mrs. Avrice Simpson, Mrs. Bess Burns, Mrs. Loraine Cook, Mrs. Lelia Stewart, Mrs. Lera Coon, Mrs. Pauline Welch, Mrs. Ione Hill, Mrs. Agnes Miller, Mrs. Ouida McGee, Mrs. Winifred Kilpatrick, Mrs. Frances Manning, Miss Vera Dowling, Mrs. Elizabeth Blair, and Mrs. Fisher.

Miss Margaret Sue Mitchell Is Bride Of Raymond Rosenthal

First Baptist Church Of Monroe Is Setting For Impressive June Marriage

Against a background of beautiful white gladioli, daisies, glistening magnolias and fern, wedding vows were exchanged by Margaret Sue Mitchell and Raymond Rosenthal at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on Sunday, June 1.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mitchell of Calhoun and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Rosenthal of St. Louis, Mo.

Performing the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. James T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city.

The home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Touchstone on North Fifth street, was the setting of the impressive service and the reception which followed.

Forming an improvised altar in the spacious reception room were tall white baskets tied with large bows of wide satin ribbon and holding white gladioli, shasta daisies and fern. These were placed on either side of the mantel of Belgian tile which held specimen magnolias and greenery.

Prenuptial Music

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. J. Norman Coon sang several of the bride's favorites, "Because," "My Hero" from The Chocolate Soldier and "O Promise Me." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, who also played the traditional wedding marches and soft music during the ceremony.

Miss Ann Mitchell of Calhoun, who served her sister as maid of honor, wore an old fashioned frock of ballerina length. It was fashioned of aqua nylon net over matching taffeta. The fitted bodice joined a bouffant skirt which featured a double ruffle at the hip line and increased the willowy effect in the sweep of the skirt. The crispness of the gown was accented by a cape of nylon, edged in frills. She carried a colonial bouquet of asters in varied shades of pink, encircled by a frill of matching tulle. Cascades of pink satin ribbons completed the beauty of the effect.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother- in- law, Alfred Geisler of St. Louis.

Bride's Gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown featuring imported Chantilly lace and pleated nylon over a hooped white satin skirt. The neckline of the fitted bodice was encircled with appliqued lace and the lace formed a draped effect across the front. The long tight sleeves ended at the wrist with ruffles of pleated nylon, and satin covered buttons ran down the back of the waist. From a dainty lace bonnet trimmed in rows of pearls, fell in graceful folds a lace train which touched the floor. The bride carried a spray of white carnations centered with a large orchid. Wide satin ribbon formed the background for the blossoms and narrow streamers caught carnations and sprigs of fern to complete the pretty effect.

The bride's mother wore an attractive blue linen dress featuring rhinestone buttons and appliqued embroidery in matching tones on the shoulder and skirt. Her small pink hat was of the same hue as her nylon gloves and bag and she wore a corsage of small pink asters.

Mrs. Rosenthal, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in delicate rose crepe. The bodice emphasized shirring and embroidery at the V-neckline. Shirring was repeated in the skirt which formed graceful folds. Pink was also reflected in her small feather hat, and her corsage was of blue asters. A rhinestone necklace and earrings added effectiveness to the costume.

Mrs. Touchstone, aunt of the bride, was wearing light blue lace over matching taffeta. The bodice, designed with a V-neckline, was joined to a full skirt edged in blue net. She wore a rose velvet sash, pink pearl earrings and a three-strand necklace of pearls. Her corsage of pink asters and rose buds developed the pink and blue theme.

Mrs. Geisler, the bridegroom's sister, was charming in a frock of nylon over blue. It was accented by a large bertha, rhinestone buttons and full skirt. She wore rhinestone jewels and a watermelon glamellia corsage.

Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. H. S. Chilton, who was gowned in Alice blue lace over taffeta. Her corsage of pink daisies developed the color theme employed by several who assisted in extending courtesies on this occasion, and she wore a rhinestone necklace and earrings.

Wedding Reception

A reception in the Touchstone home followed immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a handmade lace cloth, held at one end a dainty three-tiered wedding cake surmounted by bride and groom figurines under a bell archway. The confection was embossed with roses and lilies of the valley with delicate green foliage. The plaque on which it rested was encircled with frills of tulle, gardenias and maiden hair fern.

At the other end, lime punch was served from a crystal bowl which was embedded in ruffled tulle, gardenias and fever few. A pretty decor was a crystal epergne holding lighted candles and gardenias. Lacy fern and fever few were entwined with white satin ribbons to enhance the dainty effect. Large crystal trays held individual cakes embossed in roses. Adding to the table's attractiveness were miniature colonial bouquets of gardenias and fern surrounded by lace and tied with ribbons in which valley lilies were caught.

Alternating at the punch service were Miss Malbel Hood and Mrs. J. H. Schrader. The former was striking in a floor-length gown of tangerine chiffon. The bodice was trimmed in rows of gold beads whose richness was enhanced by the antique gold necklace and earrings. Deep yellow glamellias tied with burnt orange and gold ribbon gave beauty to her costume.

Mrs. Schrader was gowned in Chinese blue silk designed with a bodice with deep horizontal tucks and a long skirt. For jewelry she wore a three-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Frances Mitchell, an aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. She was attractive in a summer sheer of aqua background

For travel, the bride wore a navy and white silk costume with a large navy velvet hat and matching accessories, and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride received the bachelor of art degree in institutional management at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute with magna cum laude honors. She held membership in Gamma Epsilon, national honor society, the Home Economics Club and Wesley Foundation. After graduation, she had a year of internship at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. Then she accepted a position as head dietitian at Lutheran Hospital in that city, where she presently is employed.

Mr. Rosenthal, a member of the faculty of Clinton Peabody, St. Louis, attended Washington University, where he received the master's degree in education.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Summer vacation time is here, but it is a very busy time at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Do you realize that when the schools are closed, the public library is the only source of reading material available to the general public. Each year the Ouachita Parish Public Library sponsors a vacation reading club. The theme of this year's club is "Our American Heritage," and it has a great deal to offer the children of the parish.

Has your child enrolled in the club? If not, see that he does so as soon as possible. A child has to read only fifteen books to earn a certificate. Surely every child can read that many books during the summer months. Children who have just finished the first grade are especially urged to enroll in the club, for they need to practice reading during the summer so that they will not forget what they have learned.

The theme for the vacation reading club was carefully selected with a view of awakening in the hearts of the young people of this parish a love of country and an appreciation of the wonderful heritage which is ours. Too often we take for granted this great country in which we live and the freedoms for which our forefathers fought and died. There are forces at work in the world today, which would destroy patriotism. It behoves us to see that children are given the right sort of literature, to give them a background with which to combat these forces.

Children from the fourth grade up must read at least five books pertaining to our American heritage. There are hundreds of books from which to choose. Biographies such as Commager's "America's Robert E. Lee" or Jeanette Eaton's "Washington, The Nation's First Hero" will have a lasting affect on a child's thinking.

Many mothers and fathers come to the library during the summer months to bring their children. There are many books of interest to them. New books are added to the library collection almost daily. There is something here to appeal to every taste. These are some of the latest arrivals:

"The Natives are Friendly" by John F. Leeming is a story of experiences of American troops in the South sea islands during World War II. It is written in an entertaining manner and will appeal to many readers. "Poetry in Our Time" by Babette Deutsch is an interesting appraisal of modern poetry and should be enjoyed by anyone who is interested in this subject. "The Letters of William Gilmore Simms" represent a monumental amount of work and research. They are being published by the University of South Carolina Press. Volume I has just been received at the library and should be read with interest by students of southern literature. W. E. Garrito every protestant. The title is "A Protestant Manifesto." It discusses the basic beliefs of protestanism in a clear and lucid manner.

It is generally conceded that the late Senator Vandenberg was one of the great men of our time. His son has written a book of interest son has just finished editing his private papers and publishing them in book form. This is a book for everyone who is concerned with the present scene. Dore Ogrizek is the author of perfectly beautiful books of travel. His latest one is "Scandinavia" and has just been received by the library. If you cannot take a trip this summer, why not read about far away places?

A very practical new book is called "Food for Home Use" and the author is Stanley Wall. This book gives directions for growing and conserving food and is a most useful volume.

Almost every week several new titles of fiction are received at the library. Helen Topping Miller has a new novel called "The Proud Young Thing." It has for its setting Charleston, S. C., in the days of the Lord Proprietors. This is not a profound novel, but is a highly satisfactory one and what more could one ask for summer reading.

Mignon Eberhart is a favorite among mystery writers. Her latest story is called "Dead Men' Plans" and has for its setting Chicago's fashionable Lake Shore district.

Why not make reading a family project this summer? The Ouachita Parish Public Library gives you a most sincere welcome.

Mr. And Mrs. Carl Turpin Entertain At Swimming Party

The lovely home of Mrs. Allen Turpin in Bastrop was the scene Saturday night of a swimming party and buffet supper hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turpin. Two long tables and numerous individual tables, covered in green and lit with the mellow glow of hurricane lamps, were arranged by the pool's edge — and 30 guests enjoyed barbecued chicken, casserole dishes and assorted salads. A carnival note was introduced when, in lieu of a formal dessert, a decorated wheelbarrow heaped with ice was rolled in and popsicles, Eskimo pies and other frozen confections were served. Attending the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hornsby, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blanks, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eubanks, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Day, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon White, Mr. and Mrs. Paulette Pipes, Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. James Todd, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Givens, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Morton Levy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harris of Monroe, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Swartz and Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Tindal.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. J. Norman Coon sang several of the bride's favorites, "Because," "My Hero" from The Chocolate Soldier and "O Promise Me." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, who also played the traditional wedding marches and soft music during the ceremony.

Miss Ann Mitchell of Calhoun, who served her sister as maid of honor, wore an old fashioned frock of ballerina length. It was fashioned of aqua nylon net over matching taffeta. The fitted bodice joined a bouffant skirt which featured a double ruffle at the hip line and increased the willowy effect in the sweep of the skirt. The crispness of the gown was accented by a cape of nylon, edged in frills. She carried a colonial bouquet of asters in varied shades of pink, encircled by a frill of matching tulle. Cascades of pink satin ribbons completed the beauty of the effect.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother- in- law, Alfred Geisler of St. Louis.

Bride's Gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown featuring imported Chantilly lace and pleated nylon over a hooped white satin skirt. The neckline of the fitted bodice was encircled with appliqued lace and the lace formed a draped effect across the front. The long tight sleeves ended at the wrist with ruffles of pleated nylon, and satin covered buttons ran down the back of the waist. From a dainty lace bonnet trimmed in rows of pearls, fell in graceful folds a lace train which touched the floor. The bride carried a spray of white carnations centered with a large orchid. Wide satin ribbon formed the background for the blossoms and narrow streamers caught carnations and sprigs of fern to complete the pretty effect.

The bride's mother wore an attractive blue linen dress featuring rhinestone buttons and appliqued embroidery in matching tones on the shoulder and skirt. Her small pink hat was of the same hue as her nylon gloves and bag and she wore a corsage of small pink asters.

Mrs. Rosenthal, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in delicate rose crepe. The bodice emphasized shirring and embroidery at the V-neckline. Shirring was repeated in the skirt which formed graceful folds. Pink was also reflected in her small feather hat, and her corsage was of blue asters. A rhinestone necklace and earrings added effectiveness to the costume.

Mrs. Touchstone, aunt of the bride, was wearing light blue lace over matching taffeta. The bodice, designed with a V-neckline, was joined to a full skirt edged in blue net. She wore a rose velvet sash, pink pearl earrings and a three-strand necklace of pearls. Her corsage of pink asters and rose buds developed the pink and blue theme.

Mrs. Geisler, the bridegroom's sister, was charming in a frock of nylon over blue. It was accented by a large bertha, rhinestone buttons and full skirt. She wore rhinestone jewels and a watermelon glamellia corsage.

Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. H. S. Chilton, who was gowned in Alice blue lace over taffeta. Her corsage of pink daisies developed the color theme employed by several who assisted in extending courtesies on this occasion, and she wore a rhinestone necklace and earrings.

Wedding Reception

A reception in the Touchstone home followed immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a handmade lace cloth, held at one end a dainty three-tiered wedding cake surmounted by bride and groom figurines under a bell archway. The confection was embossed with roses and lilies of the valley with delicate green foliage. The plaque on which it rested was encircled with frills of tulle, gardenias and maiden hair fern.

At the other end, lime punch was served from a crystal bowl which was embedded in ruffled tulle, gardenias and fever few. A pretty decor was a crystal epergne holding lighted candles and gardenias. Lacy fern and fever few were entwined with white satin ribbons to enhance the dainty effect. Large crystal trays held individual cakes embossed in roses. Adding to the table's attractiveness were miniature colonial bouquets of gardenias and fern surrounded by lace and tied with ribbons in which valley lilies were caught.

Alternating at the punch service were Miss Maibel Hood and Mrs. J. H. Schrader. The former was striking in a floor-length gown of tangerine chiffon. The bodice was trimmed in rows of gold beads whose richness was enhanced by the antique gold necklace and earrings. Deep yellow glamellias tied with burnt orange and gold ribbon gave beauty to her costume.

Mrs. Schrader was gowned in Chinese blue silk designed with a bodice with deep horizontal tucks and a long skirt. For jewelry she wore a three-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Frances Mitchell, an aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. She was attractive in a summer sheer of aqua background

For travel, the bride wore a navy and white silk costume with a large navy velvet hat and matching accessories, and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride received the bachelor of art degree in institutional management at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute with magna cum laude honors. She held membership in Gamma Epsilon, national honor society, the Home Economics Club and Wesley Foundation. After graduation, she had a year of internship at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. Then she accepted a position as head dietitian at Lutheran Hospital in that city, where she presently is employed.

Mr. Rosenthal, a member of the faculty of Clinton Peabody, St. Louis, attended Washington University, where he received the master's degree in education.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Summer vacation time is here, but it is a very busy time at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Do you realize that when the schools are closed, the public library is the only source of reading material available to the general public. Each year the Ouachita Parish Public Library sponsors a vacation reading club. The theme of this year's club is "Our American Heritage," and it has a great deal to offer the children of the parish.

Has your child enrolled in the club? If not, see that he does so as soon as possible. A child has to read only fifteen books to earn a certificate. Surely every child can read that many books during the summer months. Children who have just finished the first grade are especially urged to enroll in the club, for they need to practice reading during the summer so that they will not forget what they have learned.

The theme for the vacation reading club was carefully selected with a view of awakening in the hearts of the young people of this parish a love of country and an appreciation of the wonderful heritage which is ours. Too often we take for granted this great country in which we live and the freedoms for which our forefathers fought and died. There are forces at work in the world today, which would destroy patriotism, it behoves us to see that children are given the right sort of literature, to give them a background with which to combat these forces.

Children from the fourth grade up must read at least five books pertaining to our American heritage. There are hundreds of books from which to choose. Biographies such as Commager's "America's Robert E. Lee" or Jeanette Eaton's "Washington, The Nation's First Hero" will have a lasting affect on a child's thinking.

Many mothers and fathers come to the library during the summer months to bring their children. There are many books of interest to them. New books are added to the library collection almost daily. There is something here to appeal to every taste. These are some of the latest arrivals:

"The Natives are Friendly" by John F. Leeming is a story of experiences of American troops in the South sea islands during World War II. It is written in an entertaining manner and will appeal to many readers. "Poetry in Our Time" by Babette Deutsch is an interesting appraisal of modern poetry and should be enjoyed by anyone who is interested in this subject. "The Letters of William Gilmore Simms" represent a monumental amount of work and research. They are being published by the University of South Carolina Press. Volume I has just been received at the library and should be read with interest by students of southern literature. W. E. Garrito every protestant. The title is "A Protestant Manifesto." It discusses the basic beliefs of protestanism in a clear and lucid manner.

It is generally conceded that the late Senator Vandenberg was one of the great men of our time. His son has written a book of interest son has just finished editing his private papers and publishing them in book form. This is a book for everyone who is concerned with the present scene. Dore Ogrizek is the author of perfectly beautiful books of travel. His latest one is "Scandinavia" and has just been received by the library. If you cannot take a trip this summer, why not read about far away places?

A very practical new book is called "Food for Home Use" and the author is Stanley Wall. This book gives directions for growing and conserving food and is a most useful volume.

Almost every week several new titles of fiction are received at the library. Helen Topping Miller has a new novel called "The Proud Young Thing." It has for its setting Charleston, S. C., in the days of the Lord Proprietors. This is not a profound novel, but is a highly satisfactory one and what more could one ask for summer reading.

Mignon Eberhart is a favorite among mystery writers. Her latest story is called "Dead Men' Plans" and has for its setting Chicago's fashionable Lake Shore district.

Why not make reading a family project this summer? The Ouachita Parish Public Library gives you a most sincere welcome.

Mr. And Mrs. Carl Turpin Entertain At Swimming Party

The lovely home of Mrs. Allen Turpin in Bastrop was the scene Saturday night of a swimming party and buffet supper hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turpin. Two long tables and numerous individual tables, covered in green and lit with the mellow glow of hurricane lamps, were arranged by the pool's edge — and 30 guests enjoyed barbecued chicken, casserole dishes and assorted salads. A carnival note was introduced when, in lieu of a formal dessert, a decorated wheelbarrow heaped with ice was rolled in and popsicles, Eskimo pies and other frozen confections were served. Attending the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hornsby, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blanks, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eubanks, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Day, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon White, Mr. and Mrs. Paulette Pipes, Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. James Todd, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Givens, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Morton Levy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harris of Monroe, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Swartz and Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Tindal.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Study This Coup; It's A Great One

By Oswald Jacoby

Written for NEA Service

In bridge, a coup is a special play of some kind, usually designed to gain a trick. For example, there is a coup named after Deschapelles, a great French whist player. Another is named after the English city of Bath.

The coup shown in today's hand will be called the Fort Worth Club, since it might not be a favor to name it after the player who executed it.

The bidding of the hand was fairly normal. South's final bid of five clubs was in the nature of a sacrifice. He expected to be set, and he wasn't disappointed.

West opened the singleton spade, and East continued the suit until Declarer now had to get to his own hand to ruff a heart in dummy, so he led the jack of diamonds from dummy. The stage was now set for the great coup.

East played the ace of diamonds on dummy's jack. This was a case of clumsiness rather than brilli- happened to be hidden among East's hearts.

South ruffed the ace of diamonds and noted the fall of the eight of diamonds from the West hand. Obviously, or so South thought, West had the queen of diamonds. And it looked as though it was about to drop.

If the trumps happened to be 2-2, South reasoned, he could lead a trump to dummy, cash king of diamonds and win the rest of the tricks if the queen of diamonds dropped. He would be giving up the heart ruff by drawing a second round of trumps, but he would have a chance for his contract in exchange.

The result was sad and unexpected. The trumps didn't break, and West ruffed the king of diamonds. So South went down three tricks, for a loss of 800 points, and East nearly joined the immortals who had had coups named after them.

BIBLE SCHOOL IS PROGRESSING

The Vacation Church School of the First Presbyterian Church opened June 4 with a large enrollment. This school is held each summer for children between the ages of 4 and 14. The hours are from 8:30 to 11:00 each day except Saturday.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. I. T. Landy, the following departmental programs are being studied:

Kindergarten—"God's Plan for A Happy Home"; primary—"Making Discoveries About the Bible"; junior—"The Bible For All The World"; pioneer—"How To Use The Bible".

A certain amount of time each day is devoted to weaving, painting figurines, woodcraft, and recreation.

The superintendents of the departments and their assistants are as listed: Mrs. Tom Moore, Miss Anna Mary Johnson, Miss Dot Grant, Miss Genieve Castles, Miss Martha Hatchell, Mrs. Street McGuffey, Mrs. C. H. Turner, Miss Elizabeth Cretney, Mrs. John Theus, Miss Betty Bamford, Mrs. Byron McDonald, Miss Margaret Ann Hunter, Mrs. W. D. Ezell, Miss Robbins Wiggens, Mrs. E. T. Huggins, Mrs. Ben Patterson, Mrs. Ray Magruder, Mrs. G. D. Burkett, Mrs. F. V. Allison, Mrs. C. K. Crandall, and Mrs. W. R. Hatchell. Mrs. T. B. Gregory is superintendent of the junior department, Miss Joan Landy, superintendent of the pioneer department, Mrs. Bob Burns, superintendent of kindergarten and Mrs. L. W. Surghnor, superintendent of the primary department.

The school will continue through Friday June 13th. At 6 p. m. on the final day a picnic will be held in Forsythe Park for all members of the church. This picnic will take place on our regular family night.

Natl. Guardsmen Second Lieutenants

Four other new appointments as well as seven promotions were also listed.

Enlistees receiving gold second lieutenant bars are Gabriel Hausman, Jr., and Edward M. Simmons of New Orleans; Melvin C. Dupin and David G. McDonald of Lake Charles; Donald L. Jones and Robert E. Kelly of Monroe; Roy L. Nelson and Murphy H. Roberts of Shreveport; Thomas C. Patin, Jr., of Hammond; Horace A. Hayden, Jr., of Bogalusa; Samuel B. Simpson, Jr., of Bastrop, and James K. Lee of Natchitoches.

Other appointees announced include Captain Vernon R. Kennedy of New Orleans, Captain Chester C. Baudoin of Lafayette, 1st Lt. Robert V. McGee of Sulphur, and Warrant Officer Ronald J. Granger of New Iberia.

Wartime Vets Will Hold Conventions

Col. Frank G. Spiess said the 30th or "Old Hickory" division vets will meet at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City July 1-3 while vets of the 32nd or "Red Arrow" division will meet in Lansing, Mich., August 30-September 1.

Colonel Spiess said there are many veterans of the two divisions who are now citizens of Louisiana.

AIRPLANE AID GIVEN BABIES

Food And Many Other Needs Cared For By Delta Air Lines

Gone with the days of home spinning are the sweltering summers "Mom" wistfully watched the neighbors depart for Florida but felt a vacation was no place for her. She was firmly tied to junior's bib string . . . and she knew it.

Today mothers are packing up baby's belongings with the wink of an eyelash. Airline travel to the city of the family's vacation choice affords her a speedy, clean mode of transportation.

Even more convenience is offered by Delta Air Lines, who takes into consideration that youngsters have a hearty appetite whether they are on the ground or in the air. Delta stewardesses gladly keep baby bottles on ice and heat at the proper time, even though they are not allowed to mix formulas.

Baby food is carried aboard non-stop Delta flights. Or if the mother notifies the Delta agent at the time she buys her ticket, a free "baby box" will be placed on the plane for the child. The box includes one jar of fruit (peach or applesauce), one jar of vegetables (spinach or carrots), one jar of meat (beef and liver or beef broth and barley), one jar of cereal (apricot with oatmeal) and one-half pint of milk.

During the time mother is enjoying her meal served aloft the Delta stewardess, whose training includes specialized care of children, will watch the child. Cabins of Delta planes are kept at comfortable temperatures winter and summer. For extra traveling pleasure for the mother and her child, Delta provides blankets and pillows which may be used during the entire trip without charge.

A child under two years of age may fly free. Children between two and twelve fly Delta for half-fare. Special Family Day rates on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afford an additional price slash. Along with the lasting pleasure of a vacation at the beach, children benefit in health and happiness by basking in the warm sun and playing in the fresh salt water.

R. B. Kenty, Aviation Executive, Honored

R. B. Kenty, well-known Dallas aviation executive, has been elected vice president of Air Associates' Southwest Aviation supplies division, it was announced by R. F. Gagg, president of the corporation.

Long active in the Southwest's aviation industry, Kenty has witnessed and aided the industry's remarkable growth in this area for the past fourteen years. A light plane enthusiast and torch bearer for aviation in general for many years, he is known today as "aviation's best friend" in the Southwest.

From stockroom clerk to vice president is Kenty's true "success" story. He joined Air Associates eighteen years ago at the company's Chicago branch and a few years later was appointed manager of the company's Southwest branch.

Natl. Guardsmen Second Lieutenants

Fourteen enlisted members of the Louisiana National Guard have been appointed as second lieutenants, Col. Frank G. Spiess, assistant Louisiana adjutant general, announced today.

Four other new appointments as well as seven promotions were also listed.

Enlistees receiving gold second lieutenant bars are Gabriel Hausman, Jr., and Edward M. Simmons of New Orleans; Melvin C. Dupin and David G. McDonald of Lake Charles; Donald L. Jones and Robert E. Kelly of Monroe; Roy L. Nelson and Murphy H. Roberts of Shreveport; Thomas C. Patin, Jr., of Hammond; Horace A. Hayden, Jr., of Bogalusa; Samuel B. Simpson, Jr., of Bastrop, and James K. Lee of Natchitoches.

Wartime Vets Will Hold Conventions

Louisiana's assistant adjutant general reminds veterans of the 30th and 32nd infantry divisions of the national conventions of those division veterans during the next two months.

Col. Frank G. Spiess said the 30th or "Old Hickory" division vets will meet at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City July 1-3 while vets of the 32nd or "Red Arrow" division will meet in Lansing, Mich., August 30-September 1.

Colonel Spiess said there are many veterans of the two divisions who are now citizens of Louisiana.

AIRPLANE AID GIVEN BABIES

Food And Many Other Needs Cared For By Delta Air Lines

Gone with the days of home spinning are the sweltering summers "Mom" wistfully watched the neighbors depart for Florida but felt a vacation was no place for her. She was firmly tied to junior's bib string . . . and she knew it.

Today mothers are packing up baby's belongings with the wink of an eyelash. Airline travel to the city of the family's vacation choice affords her a speedy, clean mode of transportation.

Even more convenience is offered by Delta Air Lines, who takes into consideration that youngsters have a hearty appetite whether they are on the ground or in the air. Delta stewardesses gladly keep baby bottles on ice and heat at the proper time, even though they are not allowed to mix formulas.

Baby food is carried aboard non-stop Delta flights. Or if the mother notifies the Delta agent at the time she buys her ticket, a free "baby box" will be placed on the plane for the child. The box includes one jar of fruit (peach or applesauce), one jar of vegetables (spinach or carrots), one jar of meat (beef and liver or beef broth and barley), one jar of cereal (apricot with oatmeal) and one-half pint of milk.

During the time mother is enjoying her meal served aloft the Delta stewardess, whose training includes specialized care of children, will watch the child. Cabins of Delta planes are kept at comfortable temperatures winter and summer. For extra traveling pleasure for the mother and her child, Delta provides blankets and pillows which may be used during the entire trip without charge.

A child under two years of age may fly free. Children between two and twelve fly Delta for half-fare. Special Family Day rates on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afford an additional price slash. Along with the lasting pleasure of a vacation at the beach, children benefit in health and happiness by basking in the warm sun and playing in the fresh salt water.

R. B. Kenty, Aviation Executive, Honored

R. B. Kenty, well-known Dallas aviation executive, has been elected vice president of Air Associates' Southwest Aviation supplies division, it was announced by R. F. Gagg, president of the corporation.

Long active in the Southwest's aviation industry, Kenty has witnessed and aided the industry's remarkable growth in this area for the past fourteen years. A light plane enthusiast and torch bearer for aviation in general for many years, he is known today as "aviation's best friend" in the Southwest.

From stockroom clerk to vice president is Kenty's true "success" story. He joined Air Associates eighteen years ago at the company's Chicago branch and a few years later was appointed manager of the company's Southwest branch.

Hilarious Comedy, 'Just This Once,' Opens Thursday At The Joy Theater

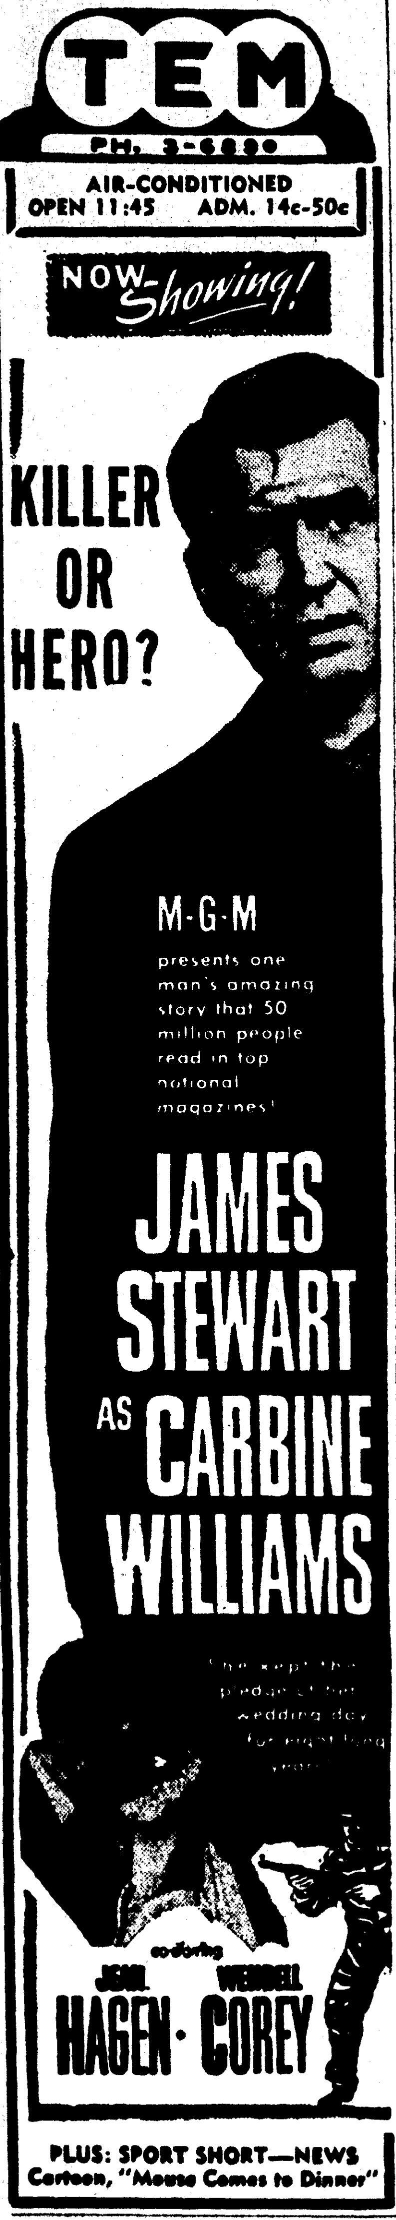
The film opening Thursday at the Joy Theatre is unadulteratedly labeled escapits entertainment. It is MGM's Just This Once," starring Janet Leigh and Peter Lawford, with Lewis Stone, Marilyn Erskine and Richard Anderson heading the supporting cast. Its screen play was written by Sidney Sheldon, Academy Award winner for The Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer," and author of the screen play of another great click, "Annie Get Your Gun." It was filmed with an eye to just one result — a continuous outpouring of laughs in one of the funniest plots ever brought to the screen.

"Just This Once" tells the story a millionaire spendthrift and an attractive but penny - pinching young lady lawyer. Appointed his financial guardian, she puts him on a $50 weekly allowance, attempts to lure him to the beauties of lunch at the Automat and the pleasure of a boat trip on the Staten Island ferry, strips him of his expensive home and then finds that, through a loophole in the law, he is able to move into her apartment! From then on, its a battle of wits, and also of love, between playboy Lawford and legally - minded Miss Leugh.

The new comedy marks a reunion for the stars who previously appeared together in 'Little Women" and "The Red Danube." Miss Leigh recently scored in "Strictly Dishonorable" and "Angels in the Outfield." Lawford's last pictures were "Easter Parade" and "Royal Wedding," after which he took time out for a twenty - city personal appearance tour.

"Just This Once" was produced by Henry Berman and was directed by Don Weis. Berman rose to producer status under Frank Capra in the Armed Forces Motion Picture Studios. Weis, prominent in the executive staff behind "The Champion" and 'Home of the Brave," is one of the fim industry's outstanding directorial newcomers.

Miss Leigh's costumes, geared to the career girl's pocketbook, will be eagerly examined by the girl of modest means who aspires to be perfectly groomed and who wants to combine the chic with the inexpensive.



NOW AT THE TEM

James Stewart and Jean Hagen enact husband and wife in "Carbine Williams," M-G-M's gripping drama, now showing at the Tem. The new picture is based on the heart-tugging story of David Marshall Williams, who underwent an ordeal in prison to emerge as one of America's outstanding inventors.

AT PARAMOUNT TODAY

Co-starring in the swords-play thriller, "At Sword's Point" are Cornel Wilde and Maureen O'Hara, as a son and daughter of two of the original Musketeers celebrated in Dumas famous novel of 17th century France. The picture, in technicolor, will open a three - day run at the Paramount today.

'At Sword's Point' Lavish, Exciting Adventure Thriller In Technicolor

Cornel Wilde, Maureen O'Hara Star In Film At Paramount

Again bringing to the screen the tradition of romantic adventure in seventeenth - century France immortalized by Alexandre Dumas in "The Three Guardsmen," RKO Radio now presents "At Sword's Point," a Technicolor production starring Cornel Wilde and Maureen O'Hara, opening at the Paramount today.

The present stirring tale, however, concerns itself with the heroic deeds and unmatched skill of the descendents of the four famous swordsmen, D'Artagnan, Porthos, Athos and Aramis, for many years have passed since the original Guardsmen, with unswerving devotion and deeds of derring - do, saved the throne of France in its hour of dire need. And again the hour is dark and the need is great!

Old and ill, the queen of France feels she is no longer able to cope with the rising power of the Duc de Lavalle. The Duc, she knows, plans to dispose of the young Prince Louis, marry the unwilling Princess Henriette, and thereby seize the throne. Only the fact that the prince is hidden at a monastery near the Spanish border and that Lavalle cannot discover his whereabouts keeps the duc from carrying out his plan.

In this extremity, the queen remembers the faithful quartette of Musketeers, d'Artagnan, Aramis, Porthos and Athos, who came to her aid many years before, and she secretly sends for them.

The gallant four are now long past the age for fighting, but their youngsters are eager to serve instead. Young D'Artagnan meets young Aramis and Porthos, but when the trio seek out Athos they learn he has no son. However, he has a daughter, Claire, and the three young blades soon learn that she is as expert with a rapier as they, and is equally anxious to do her share.

But the Duc de Lavalle has learned of the queen's summons and the young swordsmen soon find that they must fight for their lives before they can even reach her and learn her wishes. How this is accomplished and how the swordsmanship, the ingenuity and the refusal to accept defeat no matter how great the odds, finally triumph over treachery and entrenched power — makes for the pictures many thrilling sequences. The action is swift and continuous, the suspense never lets up.

Cornel Wilde is seen as D'Artagnan, the leader of the young guardsmen, and Maureen O'Hara as Claire, the daughter of Athos. Featured at the head of the supporting cast are Robert Douglas as the Duc de Lavalle, Gladys Cooper as the Queen and Blanche Yurka as the elderly Mme. Michom, the sympathetic inn-keeper who served the fathers of these lads and serves the youngsters just as faithfully.

Others prominently cast are June Clayworth, as the Dux's mistress — the treacherous lady - in - waiting to the Queen; Dan O'Herlihy, as Aramis, Alan Hale Jr. as Porthos and Nancy Gates as the Princess Henriette. Jerrold T. Brandt is credited as the producer of the colorful picture, with Lewis Allen as director, from the screenplay prepared by Walter Ferris and Joseph Hoffman.

INVENTS SPORTS GADGETS

ALTOONA, Pa. (UP)—For a Johnny-come-lately inventor, 70-year-old Joe Parks is doing all right.

His inventiveness turned to sports since he has been a sportsman all his life, as well as a poultryman and banker. In the last year he has filed seven patents with the Patent office that apparently are new and different. Among them are:

A fishing leader that can be retrieved from deep-hooked fish and another hook put on.

A rear-view boat mirror for row boats.

How this is accomplished and how the swordsmanship, the ingenuity and the refusal to accept defeat no matter how great the odds, finally triumph over treachery and entrenched power — makes for the pictures many thrilling sequences. The action is swift and continuous, the suspense never lets up.

Cornel Wilde is seen as D'Artagnan, the leader of the young guardsmen, and Maureen O'Hara as Claire, the daughter of Athos. Featured at the head of the supporting cast are Robert Douglas as the Duc de Lavalle, Gladys Cooper as the Queen and Blanche Yurka as the elderly Mme. Michom, the sympathetic inn-keeper who served the fathers of these lads and serves the youngsters just as faithfully.

Others prominently cast are June Clayworth, as the Dux's mistress — the treacherous lady - in - waiting to the Queen; Dan O'Herlihy, as Aramis, Alan Hale Jr. as Porthos and Nancy Gates as the Princess Henriette. Jerrold T. Brandt is credited as the producer of the colorful picture, with Lewis Allen as director, from the screenplay prepared by Walter Ferris and Joseph Hoffman.

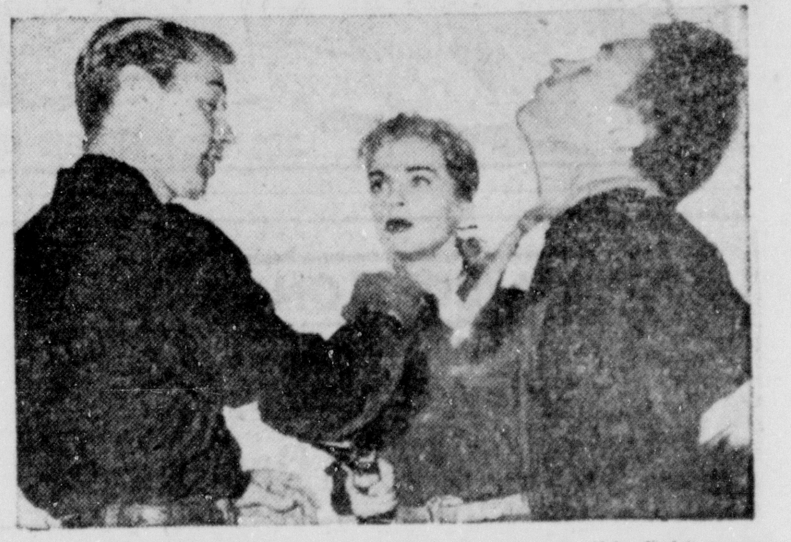
THURSDAY AT THE JOY

Janet Leigh can't make up her mind as to which man she wants —impetuous and extravagant Peter Lawford, or serious and down-to-earth Richard Anderson. It's all part of the fun of M-G-M's happy new romontic comedy, "Just This Once," starting Thursday at the Joy Theatre.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT



Alan Ladd defied the gun of Lizabeth Scott in this fight scene from the Paramount adventure drama "Red Mountain" which opens a four day engagement at the Paramount Wednesday.

INVENTS SPORTS GADGETS

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—For a Johnny-come-lately inventor, 70-year-old Joe Parks is doing all right.

His inventiveness turned to sports since he has been a sportsman all his life, as well as a poultryman and banker. In the last year he has filed seven patents with the Patent office that apparently are new and different. Among them are:

A leg fishing device that leaves the hands free for rowing.

A noiseless anchor that won't scare the fish. The weight can be increased by adding sand or gravel.

A fishing leader that can be retrieved from deep-hooked fish and another hook put on.

A rear-view boat mirror for row boats.

Resents Wife's Poor Health

Many Men Lack Sympathetic Understanding Of Illness

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is wonderful when I'm well and happy, but when I'm ill or despondent he withdraws to himself, doesn't speak and seems to resent my inability to be up and around. He doesn't take care of the children when I'm sick, so that they get unruly, which just adds to my nervous strain. When I see his reaction, I lose even the ambition to get well. If he would just show a little affection or interest, I'd feel so differently. I've talked to him about the situation, but he says he doesn't understand why he acts so. Of course, it's just when I need him most that he is most inaccessible.

LORA MAE T.

ANSWER: Your own physical condition is the first matter with which you should be concerned. Your letter indicates rather frequent illnesses, often of nervous origin. You should be in the hands of a good doctor who will diagnose your difficulty and prescribe the proper treatment. The fact that you worry so much over your husband's lack of sympathy could be, in itself, a contributory cause of your recurring ailments.

Unless your illness has been diagnosed, and its nature specifically outlined by a physician, your husband may, and perhaps not without cause, attribute your indispositions to a controllable nervous condition. Your desire to have his attention when you are ill may be so strong as to bring on symptoms of sickness. Naturally, when the sympathy is not forthcoming, frustration adds its coal to the fire, and your illness gets out of hand.

THEY DON'T UNDERSTAND

Few men are equipped to cope sympathetically with illness. Being fit fellows themselves, they cannot understand why the whole world can't be of equal stamina. Once these men have a good bout of sickness themselves, they undergo a surprising change of attitude, but while they remain perfect physical specimens, it's very hard to make them understand another's suffering.

It certainly isn't natural for the average woman to be sick so often that her indispositions constitute a menace to her household; hence, your condition is either one of unusual physical weakness, or extreme nervous tension. The first is a job for a doctor, the second can be largely controlled by yourself, but here too, the aid of a medical man should be sought and his advice taken. If he finds adequate foundation for your trouble, and supplies your husband with all details, a better understanding should be achieved all around. Don't expect indiscriminate suffering to elicit sympathy from your husband; it won't! A genuine, scientifically labeled ailment probably will!

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My boy friend Allen is moving about forty miles away from here. We have been going steady for a year. I told him that when he moves I will not even think of going with any other boy, and I don't want him to go with other girls, either. My friends think I'm silly to tell him that. Every time I think of all the fun we've had together, it makes me cry. I am going to miss him terribly, even though we will write to each other. I really think his moving will upset my examination marks. He is 17, I am 16.

MARGUERITE T.

ANSWER: Your grief at losing a good friend is readily understandable, but you are making altogether too great a tragedy over it. Forty miles isn't such a terrific distance and after all you're not living in the dark ages. Mail service is very reliable, and a telephone call over that short a distance isn't too expensive.

After Allen has been away for a while, you'll find new interest in other boys—though at the moment I know you think me quite heartless to suggest such an eventuality. Sixteen is much too young to face a ruined life over forty miles. Whatever happens, Marguerite, don't let those exam marks suffer! They are much more important to your life right now than Allen's place of residence.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 and very fond of a certain boy. The only objection to him is that he's four inches shorter than I. Do you think I should go out with him anyway?

MICKEY

ANSWER: If you like him enough, you'll overlook the difference in height—as apparently he is willing to do. Remember, too, at his age he has lots of time to grow and will quite probably bridge the four-inch gap before long.

DOROTHY DIX sheds new light on an old problem in leaflet D-8, "Mothers-in-Law." To obtain a copy, send a 5-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

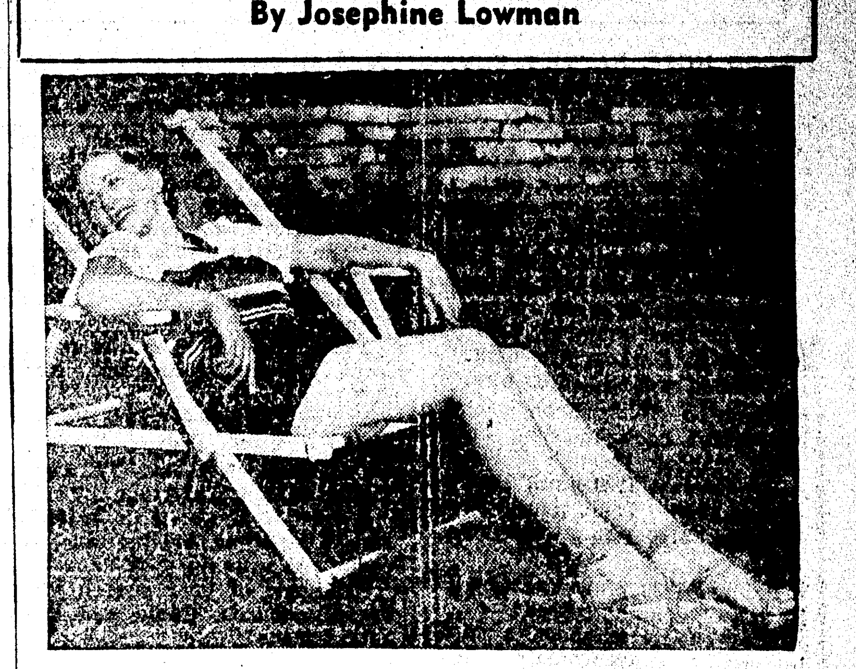
Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman



This is the season to take it easy . . .avoid irritating yourself and others.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Life is too short to worry any time and it's certainly too hot in the summertime. Yet it is during the hot season that we are most likely to get irritated and to heckle others, therefore geeting ourselves and them even hotter. Take it easy! !

Get in the mood of the tropics a little, not only in the summertime but all of the time. Such Mexican phrases as "Mano sobré mano" (hand upon hand, indicating leisure) and "La Manana" (tomorrow) are balm for the harassed spirit.

Tomorrow is soon enough to worry ourselves into poor health and dull personalities. Actually most of the things we worry about will not happen today or tomorrow. If a chart could be kept indicating the many things we worry about, I think we would all be amazed to see how few really happen.

Intelligent Thought

Naturally we all have problems and we must bring intelligent thought to them but most of our troubles are not half so drastic as they seem to us at the time. The worry habit is a vicious one. Some people go through life in a state of perpetual tension and hecticness.

This is truly a great health hazard. Emotional tensions affect your heartbeat, your circulation, your respiration and the chemistry of the body. Beside this they dampen enthusiasm, still laughter, and put the dampers on living.

We all take ourselves so seriously and beat our chests and wail to high heaven while the sun shines, the birds sing, and nature is providing us with variety, inspiration and a set for joyous living.

Pick a Worrying Time

If you must worry set aside certain times for it and then forget it at other times. Whether your problem is a financial or an emotional one you will be better equipped to cope with it if you do not mull it over constantly. You will bring a better perspective to it and will also protect your health and your happiness.

I would have been dead long ago if I had not often remembered the expression I learned many years ago in Mexico. It was, "It grieves me very much but I cannot cry about it.'

The worry habit can be broken just like any other habit but it takes determination and self-discipline. If you would like to have my leaflet No. 64, "Worry," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "They Take a Good Suntan..It Only Blisters Me."

RAYVILLE MAJOR GETS TRANSFER

Oliver Noland Will Take Up Duties In Air Base In Fla.

KIRTLAND AIR FORCE BASE, N. M., May 14—Major Oliver M. Noland, assistant adjutant general of the air force special weapons center here, departed today after almost four years duty at Kirtland Air Force Base to assume duties as adjutant general at Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla., according to Colonel Daniel E. Hooks, chief of staff. The Cocoa, Fla., installation is the site of the air force's missile test center, under jurisdiction of the Air Research and Development Command.

A native of Rayville, La., Major Noland enlisted in the Army Air Corps at Barksdale Field, La., in 1936. He was graduated from the Army Air Corps Officers Candidate School at Miami, Fla., in early 1944 and commissioned as a second lieutenant. He was assigned to Kirtland Air Force Base in August 1948.

Prior to the time of his departure, Major Noland was president of the Kirtland Air Force Base Parent-Teachers Club. Mrs. Noland, past president of the Officers Wives Club, has served on numerous welfare committees and also as den mother of den No. 1, troop 84, of the Boy Scouts.

After a brief vacation with relatives in Louisiana, the Nolands will arrive at Cocoa, Fla., about June 1st.

STATE POLICE

Three of the eleven persons arrested by members of the state police were charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors and three others with reckless driving. The arrests were made during the past week.

Charged with drunk driving, hit and run and negligent homicide was John M. McDonald, 44, Ruston. Frank Edwards, 45-year-old Negro, Mangham, faces charge of drunk driving, while Ottis H. Sims, 51, route 1, Calhoun, was charged with drunk driving and improper brakes.

Willie I. Ewing, 21, Negro, Lock Loma, La., was charged with reckless driving and causing property damage, while Richard Gilbert McAuliffe, 26, 2514 Swiss street, West Monroe, faces charges of reckless driving, causing an accident and causing property damage. Charles F. Straham, 25, 210 East 77th street, Shreveport, was arrested for reckless driving and causing personal injury.

Two persons, Sidney Roberts, 19, Negro, Farmerville, and Elmer Wheeler, 22, Negro, Rayville — were charged with having no drivers' license.

Picked up and held for other authorities was William Y. Cardin, 35, 200 Jeannes street, Bossier City.

David A. Vance, 49, Ruston, was charged with disturbing the peace and Thomas Young, 23, Rayville, faces the charge of driving at night with an overlength trailer.

Knights Of Columbus Election Is Conducted

Knights of Columbus have just held the annual election and formulated plans for the coming year, when Tim McCarthy will serve as grand knight.

Other officers elected are: Joe D. Cascio, deputy grand knight; Lawrence McCarthy, chancellor; Bob Scott, treasurer; Luke Elliott, secretary; Tony Embanato, warden; Nick Jungina and Stanley Hodges, trustees, and Everett Burgoyne, trustee for a three-year term.

Monroe Young Woman Enlists In WAF

Doris Lafaye Saucer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Saucer of 617 Wheelis, was enlisted June 4 in the WAF (women in the air force). It was announced by Airman First Class Barbara S. Englung, WAC-WAF recruiter in Monroe.

Miss Saucer attended Ouachita High School. She was employed by the Piggly-Wiggly stores in Monroe before entering the air force.

She will undergo several months of basic military indoctrination at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. Then, she will either be assigned to one of the air force's many technical schools to train for a specific job, receive on-the-job training in a specialty, or be assigned to a job commensurate with her civilian experience.

BURIED TREASURE SOUGHT

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A middle-aged plasterer is looking for legendary Spanish treasure reputed to have been buried a century and a half ago in the heart of this city.

Ben F. Woods has been pumping water out of an old well to get at the treasure which he believes lies in a cave 20 feet north of the well. He is working from a "treasure map" he said was published in a local newspaper 17 years ago.

ONE FINISHED WELL REPORTED

Breece No. 1 Test Gauged At 25,000,000 Cubic Feet Open Flow

One well—the Feazel-Monla Gas Co. Breece Lumber Co. No. 1, located in the Swartz area—was the single producer brought in this week, according to a report from the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division. The weekly report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed listed three wells as plugged and abandoned and four new locations.

The Feazel-Breece well, No. 1, was completed on May 29 and gauged at an estimated open flow of 25,000,000 cubic feet with a gravity of 64.7. It is located in Sec. 3, township 18, range 5E of the wildcat field of Ouachita parish.

Wells plugged and abandoned were:

Grant parish (wildcat field)—B. F. Phillips, Jr.-International Paper Co. No. 1, plugged on May 30 at a depth of 4,152 feet. It is located in Sec. 30-8-4E.

LaSalle parish (West Catahoula Lake field)—H. L. Hunt Co.-Nebo Oil Co., Inc., No 204, plugged on June 1 at 4,250 feet. Its location was listed as Sec. 27-7-3E.

Morehouse parish (wildcat field)—Justiss Mears Oil Co.-C. E. Evans, No. 2, plugged on June 4 at a total depth of 2,967 feet. It was located in Sec. 15-22-7E.

New locations listed in the report were:

Concordia parish (wildcat field) H. W. Todd Oil Co.-T. C. Gibson No. 1, 1980'E and 660'S from the W corner of Sec. 22-6-6E.

LaSalle parish (Catahoula Lake) —Placid Oil Co.-State Cat. Lake No. 10, 1980'S and 2300'W of the NE corner, Sec. 22-6-3E.

Shoeless Man Arrested Here

A 56 - year - old man, padding down the streets of West Monroe in his stocking feet, was picked up by the West Monroe police last night. He was booked at the police station as being drunk and disorderly.

George Frank Dunaway, Monroe, was placed in the city jail without his shoes because "I just can't remember where I lost them." Dunaway was at the foot of the old traffic bridge when the policemen suggested the ride to the station.

Maybe Dunaway was going that way so he could go wading in the Ouachita.

La. Armed Force Inductions Increase

Three times as many Louisiana registrants will be delivered to the armed forces for induction during the month of July as are being delivered in June, according to Acting State Director Col. James Thomas Connor.

He said the July call is for 403 selectees. The June delivery, which will be completed June 13, will total 125 men.

All men being inducted this month are 21 years of age or older. All those to be inducted in July will be 20 years of age or older.

Colonel Connor said the state's call for August has not yet been received.

JAPANESE DEVELOPING

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese power companies expect to spend 255 million dollars this year in developing new hydroelectric and coal power plants to meet increasing demands.

The National Public Utility Commission said present capacity of 9 million kilowatts will be increased by 1,237,000 kilowatts.

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more — and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes.

So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflow Drive* feeds the power — with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it — and you'll have a lot of fun.

The Feazel-Breece well, No. 1, was completed on May 29 and gauged at an estimated open flow of 25,000,000 cubic feet with a gravity of 64.7. It is located in Sec. 3, township 18, range 5E of the wildcat field of Ouachita parish.

Wells plugged and abandoned were:

Grant parish (wildcat field)—B. F. Phillips, Jr.-International Paper Co. No. 1, plugged on May 30 at a depth of 4,152 feet. It is located in Sec. 30-8-4E.

LaSalle parish (West Catahoula Lake field)—H. L. Hunt Co.-Nebo Oil Co., Inc., No 204, plugged on June 1 at 4,350 feet. Its location was listed as Sec. 27-7-3E.

Morehouse parish (wildcat field)—Justiss Mears Oil Co.-C. E. Evans, No. 2, plugged on June 4 at a total depth of 2,967 feet. It was located in Sec. 15-22-7E.

New locations listed in the report were:

Concordia parish (wildcat field)—H. W. Todd Oil Co.-T. C. Gibson No. 1, 1980'E and 660'S from the NW corner of Sec. 22-6-6E.

LaSalle parish (Catahoula Lake)—Placid Oil Co.-State Cat. Lake C.10, 1980'S and 3300'W of the NE corner, Sec. 22-6-3E.

Shoeless Man Arrested Here

A 56 - year - old man, padding down the streets of West Monroe in his stocking feet, was picked up by the West Monroe police last night. He was booked at the police station as being drunk and disorderly.

George Frank Dunaway, Monroe, was placed in the city jail without his shoes because "I just can't remember where I lost them." Dunaway was at the foot of the old traffic bridge when the policemen suggested the ride to the station.

Maybe Dunaway was going that way so he could go wading in the Ouachita.

La. Armed Force Inductions Increase

Three times as many Louisiana registrants will be delivered to the armed forces for induction during the month of July as are being delivered in June, according to Acting State Director Col. James Thomas Connor.

He said the July call is for 403 selectees. The June delivery, which will be completed June 13, will total 125 men.

All men being inducted this month are 21 years of age or older. All those to be inducted in July will be 20 years of age or older.

Colonel Connor said the state's call for August has not yet been received.

RAYVILLE MAJOR GETS TRANSFER

Oliver Noland Will Take Up Duties In Air Base In Fla.

KIRTLAND AIR FORCE BASE, N. M., May 14—Major Oliver M. Noland, assistant adjutant general of the air force special weapons center here, departed today after almost four years duty at Kirtland Air Force Base to assume duties as adjutant general at Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla., according to Colonel Daniel E. Hooks, chief of staff. The Cocoa, Fla., installation is the site of the air force's missile test center, under jurisdiction of the Air Research and Development Command.

A native of Rayville, La., Major Noland enlisted in the Army Air Corps at Barksdale Field, La., in 1936. He was graduated from the Army Air Corps Officers Candidate School at Miami, Fla., in early 1944 and commissioned as a second lieutenant. He was assigned to Kirtland Air Force Base in August 1948.

Prior to the time of his departure, Major Noland was president of the Kirtland Air Force Base Parent-Teachers Club. Mrs. Noland, past president of the Officers Wives Club, has served on numerous welfare committees and also as den mother of den No. 1, troop 84, of the Boy Scouts.

After a brief vacation with relatives in Louisiana, the Nolands will arrive at Cocoa, Fla., about June 1st.

Monroe Young Woman Enlists In WAF

Doris Lafaye Saucer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Saucer of 617 Wheelis, was enlisted June 4 in the WAF (women in the air force), it was announced by Airman First Class Barbara S. Englung, WAC-WAF recruiter in Monroe.

Miss Saucer attended Ouachita High School. She was employed by the Piggly-Wiggly stores in Monroe before entering the air force.

She will undergo several months of basic military indoctrination at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. Then, she will either be assigned to one of the air force's many technical schools to train for a specific job, receive on-the-job training in a specialty, or be assigned to a job commensurate with her civilian experience.

BURIED TREASURE SOUGHT

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A middle-aged plasterer is looking for legendary Spanish treasure reputed to have been buried a century and a half ago in the heart of this city.

Ben F. Woods has been pumping water out of an old well to get at the treasure which he believes lies in a cave 20 feet north of the well. He is working from a "treasure map" he said was published in a local newspaper 17 years ago.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

This is the season to take it easy . . .avoid irritating yourself and others.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Life is too short to worry any time and it's certainly too hot in the summertime. Yet it is during the hot season that we are most likely to get irritated and to heckle others, therefore geeting ourselves and them even hotter. Take it easy! !

Get in the mood of the tropics a little, not only in the summertime but all of the time. Such Mexican phrases as "Mano sobre mano" (hand upon hand, indicating leisure) and "La Manana" (tomorrow) are balm for the harassed spirit.

Tomorrow is soon enough to worry ourselves into poor health and dull personalities. Actually most of the things we worry about will not happen today or tomorrow. If a chart could be kept indicating the many things we worry about, I think we would all be amazed to see how few really happen.

Intelligent Thought

Naturally we all have problems and we must bring intelligent thought to them but most of our troubles are not half so drastic as they seem to us at the time. The worry habit is a vicious one. Some people go through life in a state of perpetual tension and hecticness.

This is truly a great health hazard. Emotional tensions affect your heartbeat, your circulation, your respiration and the chemistry of the body. Beside this they dampen enthusiasm, still laughter, and put the dampers on living.

We all take ourselves so seriously and beat our chests and wail to high heaven while the sun shines, the birds sing, and nature is providing us with variety, inspiration and a set for joyous living.

Pick a Worrying Time

If you must worry set aside certain times for it and then forget it at other times. Whether your problem is a financial or an emotional one you will be better equipped to cope with it if you do not mull it over constantly. You will bring a better perspective to it and will also protect your health and your happiness.

I would have been dead long ago if I had not often remembered the expression I learned many years ago in Mexico. It was, "It grieves me very much but I cannot cry about it.'

The worry habit can be broken just like any other habit but it takes determination and self-discipline. If you would like to have my leaflet No. 64, "Worry," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "They Take a Good Suntan. It Only Blisters Me."

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more—and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes.

So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflow Drive* feeds the power—with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it—and you'll have a lot of fun.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road

F. L. Hearne, Pastor.
J. O. Fleming, church school superintendent.
We once saw this sentence, "Perishable property; don't switch off," chalked on a car belonging to a freight train. Careless conductors sometimes leave freight cars on sidetracks for a day or so. But here was one that was not to be left even one day off the main track. It had fruit or something else on board which must be gotten to market at once. These boys and girls in your class are "perishable property." Don't switch them off the track by any carelessness, or irregularity, or dullness, or severity of yours. They are depending on you teacher, and so does God.
Services at our church are:
Sunday: Church school, 9:45 a. m. Morning Worship, 10:50 a. m. Youth Fellowship, 6:00 p. m. Children's Hour, 6:30 p. m. Evening worship, 7:30 p. m.

ADULTS AT FAULT

There is a verse in the Bible that has great meaning to all who deal with childhood and youth. It is a warning of grave importance. "It is impossible but that Offences come: but woe unto him through whom they come." That is a clear warning to those adults who, for personal reasons, put children and young people in a place of temptation.

There is too much drinking in this country today, in fact, there is so much of excess in the use of intoxicating drinks that thoughtful people are becoming anxious for the welfare of the national health. What the grown-up people do, that will their children do, and for those children I must speak.

Our boys and girls have the use of cars. They were born into a world of speed where cars are as much a matter of course as horses used to be. But cars are not as safe as horses. Horses would not go so fast, nor so far, nor be so dangerous in the hands of youth as cars are.

Driving a car demands a clear head, and fast reactions in every nerve and muscle. The experts tell us that one drink will slow the reactions, and a couple more are likely to so becloud the brain as to make driving a car extremely dangerous to the driver, his passengers and others on the road. Few people disagree with that.

Yet, and this seems to me beyond reason, we license the gasoline stations to sell hard liquor. It is necessary to stop at these places to get gasoline and there are pleasant rooms, inviting tables, music, restrooms, and — drinks. To my mind that is putting temptation in a most attractive form. Boys and the girls want to look important, want to show they are adult, and they drink, drink often to their undoing for death rides on the wheel of the drunken driver. How about the people, you and I and the neighbors, who allow liquor to be sold along with gasoline?

And how about the hosts who serve hard liquor to young people at parties? Their heads are not clear and there are accidents on the way home, who is responsible for them? The young people, or their elders who served the tempting drink?

Those who place boys and girls in the way of temptation of any sort, knowing they do so, commit an unpardonable offense, one that must, in the end, weigh heavily upon their consciences.

Fear is often the cause for lying, but the first step in correcting this trait is to find out the cause. Dr. Patri tells how to go about overcoming this habit in his leaflet P-15, "Lying." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

INSTRUCTION IS GIVEN W. S. C. S.

Brownville Methodist Church Scene Of Regular Weekly Meeting

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, district promotion secretary of the W. S. C. S., conducted an officers' class of instruction at Brownville Methodist Church when the local W. S. C. S. met for the regular weekly meeting. In a very interesting manner, Mrs. DeFreese planned with the officers present their work for the coming year.

She stressed the importance of study and accuracy in filing various reports. She said in closing, "We must ever keep in mind our five-point program this year. We want to reach the ultimate goal 'That the Kingdom of God May Be Realized' through our missions, through peace, with a world church, with widening fellowship and spiritual growth, these being realized through discipleship. If every woman interested in promoting one or all of these points joins the W. S. C. S. and works much can be done for the Kingdom of God and for our fellowman."

The new officers assuming their duties for the first time Tuesday evening, June 3 were: President, Mrs. G. B. Wilson; vice-president, Mrs. Aulcey Coates; secretary, Mrs. Garrett Rachal; treasurer, Mrs. O. E. Leehy; secretary of: Christian Social Relations, local church activities, Mrs. A. L. Roberts; missionary education, Mrs. J. E. Walker; supply work, Mrs. E. J. Moffett; Spiritual Life, Mrs. Roy Pylant; childrens work, Mrs. J. F. Smith; literature and publication, Mrs. Herbert Cady; youth work, Mrs. W. H. Works; promotion, Mrs. Gladys Brown; student work, publicity, Mrs. A. R. Robinson.

The regular meetings are held Tuesday evenings at Brownville Church, 7:30 p. m. All women interested in this work are urged to come and lend a helping hand in this great work.

MUSCULAR WATERPROOFING

Through muscular action, waterfowl can bring the filaments of their featers together so tightly that water is unable to penetrate them It is not the oil on the feathers that makes them waterproof.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Over the main entrance of the college where I spent some happy years, and where especially I learned to read and understand the Bible with a new intelligence and insight, was carved, deep in the stone, the words of Jesus, from John 8:32: The Truth Shall Make You Free.

It was a noble, inviting, and inspiring motto for the students who entered that portal; and Victoria College, now a part of the University of Toronto, lived up to its motto, in the open-minded earnestness of its teachers.

But what was the truth, the knowledge of which, Jesus said, would set men free? And what is the freedom that the knowledge of the truth bestows?

We are wont to give far too little regard to the Judaistic backgrounds of Christianity, the spiritual realities, that Jesus said He had come not to destroy, but to fulfill.

Deep in these spiritual realities was the conviction concerning God and righteousness. This touched with glory Israel's great prophets, saints, and poets; but it was an ideal faith and experience which was betrayed by those whose religion was a matter of formalism and pretense, who "trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others."

Yet, as a keen observer had noted, many of these hypocritical and wicked had been "in great power and spreading himself like a green bay tree," while the history of Israel was blood-red with the sufferings and persecutions of the devout, the faithful, and the saintly.

The Palsmist of Psalm 37 had something more to say, to get the record straight, but the discrepancy between the apparent prosperity of the wicked and the suffering of the saints emphasizes the age-old, and still present, mystery of truth and freedom.

The cynical Pilate asked Jesus, "What is truth?" and as a cynic he might well asked it, for he couldn't understand. The cynic of today might similarly ask, "What is freedom?" for the answer is not simple, and the freedom that is most real and deep the cynic might not consider freedom at all.

I think I have found a striking illustration of that sort of freedom. Thomas Cranmer was a leader in the Protestant Reformation in England. A career marked by much that was fine was marked also by much that was questionable and dishonorable, and reached its lowest depth, when he recanted from his former beliefs, faced with death in the persecutions of "Bloody Mary." But when, publicly, he renounced his recantation, accepted death at the stake, and thrust first into the flames the hand that had signed the recantation, he found a freedom in his dying hour, and a touch of glory in his life that nothing could tarnish.

TEFLIS GROTTO BEING REVIVED

Popular Masonic Group Of 2 Decades Ago, Takes On New Life

Teflis Grotto, a Masonic organization that some two decades ago was large and influential and which had a band that was one of the best in north Louisiana, is being revived. For the past few years, interest had died down but now it seems to be reviving rapidly.

Former members state that once there were eight or nine hundred members. Recently at its revival there were 14 members admitted and a second ceremonial is planned when a like number will be enrolled.

Henry Hartman, one of the most active men in Monroe masonry for years, is giving considerable time as is W. A. Brandt of Bosco.

It is hoped to be able to revive the band and to again make this group play an important role in northeast Louisiana masonry.

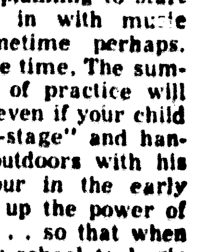
PRODUCTION SOARS

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's iron and steel industry set new postwar production records in 1951, figures compiled by Kyodo news agency show.

Carbon steel output amounted to 4,705,000 tons, an increase of more than a million tons over 1950. Steel ingot production was 6,787,000 tons —almost a million and a half tons higher than the previous year.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO
By J. Paul Hewitt



Vacation time is long looked forward to by youngsters every year. To them it represents a golden time of no more pencils, no more books, no more teachers and all the rest. But there are a lot of hours to fill every day. And sometimes those generally busy little bodies are hard-put to find things to occupy every moment. Generally, we agree that summertime should be for relaxing. However, here's a thought that may give your kiddies stimulation as well as wholesome creative activity.

You've been planning to start the youngsters in with music study for sometime perhaps. Well, NOW'S the time. The summertime hours of practice will not be missed, even if your child is at the "play-stage" and hangering to be outdoors with his fellows. An hour in the early morning keeps up the power of concentration . . . so that when time comes for school to begin again . . . he'll be all primed and ready for getting back in the swing of study.

Come in and talk to us about an appropriate instrument for your child. We'll be glad to see you anytime.

The organ is becoming more and more popular in our homes. There have been organ clubs formed in many cities . . . and interest increases in this varied instrument. It's exciting to learn. Come in and see our fine selection of Hammond organs at HEWITT INC, 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1491.

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road
F. L. Hearne, Pastor

J. O. Fleming, church school superintendent.

We once saw this sentence, "Perishable property; don't switch off," chalked on a car belonging to a freight train. Careless conductors sometimes leave freight cars on sidetracks for a day or so. But here was one that was not to be left even one day off the main track. It had fruit or something else on board which must be gotten to market at once. Those boys and girls in your class are "perishable property." Don't switch them off the track by any carelessness, or irregularity, or dullness, or severity of yours. They are depending on you teacher, and so does God.

Services at our church are:
Sunday: Church school, 9:45 a. m. Morning Worship, 10:50 a. m. Youth Fellowship, 6:00 p. m. Children's Hour, 6:30 p. m. Evening worship, 7:30 p. m.

ADULTS AT FAULT

There is a verse in the Bible that has great meaning to all who deal with childhood and youth. It is a warning of grave importance. "It is impossible but that Offences come: but woe unto him through whom they come." That is a clear warning to those adults who, for personal reasons, put children and young people in a place of temptation.

There is too much drinking in this country today, in fact, there is so much of excess in the use of intoxicating drinks that thoughtful people are becoming anxious for the welfare of the national health. What the grown-up people do, that will their children do, and for those children I must speak.

Our boys and girls have the use of cars. They were born into a world of speed where cars are as much a matter of course as horses used to be. But cars are not as safe as horses. Horses would not go so fast, nor so far, nor be so dangerous in the hands of youth as cars are.

Driving a car demands a clear head, and fast reactions in every nerve and muscle. The experts tell us that one drink will slow the reactions, and a couple more are likely to so becloud the brain as to make driving a car extremely dangerous to the driver, his passengers and others on the road. Few people disagree with that.

Yet, and this seems to me beyond reason, we license the gasoline stations to sell hard liquor. It is necessary to stop at these places to get gasoline and there are pleasant rooms, inviting tables, music, restrooms, and — drinks. To my mind that is putting temptation in a most attractive form. Boys and the girls want to look important, want to show they are adult, and they drink, drink often to their undoing for death rides on the wheel of the drunken driver. How about the people, you and I and the neighbors, who allow liquor to be sold along with gasoline?

And how about the hosts who serve hard liquor to young people at parties? Their heads are not clear and there are accidents on the way home, who is responsible for them? The young people, or their elders who served the tempting drink?

Those who place boys and girls in the way of temptation of any sort, knowing they do so, commit an unpardonable offense, one that must, in the end, weigh heavily upon their consciences.

Fear is often the cause for lying, but the first step in correcting this trait is to find out the cause. Dr. Patri tells how to go about overcoming this habit in his leaflet P-15, "Lying." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

INSTRUCTION IS GIVEN W. S. C. S.

Brownville Methodist Church Scene Of Regular Weekly Meeting

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, district promotion secretary of the W. S. C. S., conducted an officers' class of instruction at Brownville Methodist Church when the local W. S. C. S. met for the regular weekly meeting. In a very interesting manner, Mrs. DeFreese planned with the officers present their work for the coming year.

She stressed the importance of study and accuracy in filing various reports. She said in closing, "We must ever keep in mind our five-point program this year. We want to reach the ultimate goal 'That the Kingdom of God May Be Realized' through our missions, through peace, with a world church, with widening fellowship and spiritual growth, these being realized through discipleship. If every woman interested in promoting one or all of these points joins the W. S. C. S. and works much can be done for the Kingdom of God and for our fellowman."

The new officers assuming their duties for the first time Tuesday evening, June 3 were: President, Mrs. G. B. Wilson; vice-president, Mrs. Aulcey Coates; secretary, Mrs. Garrett Rachal; treasurer, Mrs. O. E. Leehy; secretary of: Christian Social Relations, local church activities, Mrs. A. L. Roberts; missionary education, Mrs. J. E. Walker; supply work, Mrs. E. J. Moffett; Spiritual Life, Mrs. Roy Pylant; childrens work, Mrs. J. F. Smith; literature and publication, Mrs. Herbert Cady; youth work, Mrs. W. H. Works; promotion, Mrs. Gladys Brown; student work, publicity, Mrs. A. R. Robinson.

The regular meetings are held Tuesday evenings at Brownville Church, 7:30 p. m. All women interested in this work are urged to come and lend a helping hand in this great work.

MUSCULAR WATERPROOFING

Through muscular action, waterfowl can bring the filaments of their featers together so tightly that water is unable to penetrate them It is not the oil on the feathers that makes them waterproof.

Bible Comment
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Over the main entrance of the college where I spent some happy years, and where especially I learned to read and understand the Bible with a new intelligence and insight, was carved, deep in the stone, the words of Jesus, from John 8:32: The Truth Shall Make You Free.

It was a noble, inviting, and inspiring motto for the students who entered that portal; and Victoria College, now a part of the University of Toronto, lived up to its motto, in the open-minded earnestness of its teachers.

But what was the truth, the knowledge of which, Jesus said, would set men free? And what is the freedom that the knowledge of the truth bestows?

We are wont to give far too little regard to the Judaistic backgrounds of Christianity, the spiritual realities, that Jesus said He had come not to destroy, but to fulfill.

Deep in these spiritual realities was the conviction concerning God and righteousness. This touched with glory Israel's great prophets, saints, and poets; but it was an ideal faith and experience which was betrayed by those whose religion was a matter of formalism and pretense, who "trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others."

Yet, as a keen observer had noted, many of these hypocritical and wicked had been "in great power and spreading himself like a green bay tree," while the history of Israel was blood-red with the sufferings and persecutions of the devout, the faithful, and the saintly.

The Palsmist of Psalm 37 had something more to say, to get the record straight, but the discrepancy between the apparent prosperity of the wicked and the suffering of the saints emphasizes the age-old, and still present, mystery of truth and freedom.

The cynical Pilate asked Jesus, "What is truth?" and as a cynic he might well asked it, for he couldn't understand. The cynic of today might similarly ask, "What is freedom?" for the answer is not simple, and the freedom that is most real and deep the cynic might not consider freedom at all.

I think I have found a striking illustration of that sort of freedom. Thomas Cranmer was a leader in the Protestant Reformation in England. A career marked by much that was fine was marked also by much that was questionable and dishonorable, and reached its lowest depth, when he recanted from his former beliefs, faced with death in the persecutions of "Bloody Mary." But when, publicly, he renounced his recantation, accepted death at the stake, and thrust first into the flames the hand that had signed the recantation, he found a freedom in his dying hour, and a touch of glory in his life that nothing could tarnish.

TEFLIS GROTTO BEING REVIVED

Popular Masonic Group Of 2 Decades Ago, Takes On New Life

Teflis Grotto, a Masonic organization that some two decades ago was large and influential and which had a band that was one of the best in north Louisiana, is being revived. For the past few years, interest had died down but now it seems to be reviving rapidly.

Former members state that once there were eight or nine hundred members. Recently at its revival there were 14 members admitted and a second ceremonial is planned when a like number will be enrolled.

Henry Hartman, one of the most active men in Monroe masonry for years, is giving considerable time as is W. A. Brandt of Bosco.

It is hoped to be able to revive the band and to again make this group play an important role in northeast Louisiana masonry.

That Magic Dress

11-20

Three outfits in one to stretch your summer wardrobe! Here is a handsome princess-lined dress to wear as a sundress; add the button-on collar or capelet, and you have two entirely different looking frocks.

Pattern No. 8841 is a sew-rite perforated pattern in sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 12, dress, 3 ¾ yards of 39-inch; collar, ¾ yard; capelet, 1 yard.

For this pattern, send 30 cents in coins, your name, address, size desired, and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, Morning World, 1150 Ave. Americas, New York 36, N. Y.

Basic Fashion for '52 is filled with ideas to make your clothes budget go further — time-saving and economical designs that are easy to sew. Gift pattern printed inside. 25 cents.

Grand Matron To Visit Here

Mrs. Velma K. Richard of Lafayette, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Louisiana, O. E. S. will make her official visit to district five on Saturday at 8:00 p. m. in the West Monroe Masonic Temple. This meeting is anticipated with great interest throughout the district and surrounding areas.

Chapter members participating in this event are Annie D. Bennett, Sincerity, Choudrant, Downsville, Golden Sheaf, Cadeville, and Chatham. All chapters in the district are under the immediate supervision of Mrs. Cecile C. Burkett, D. D. G. M.

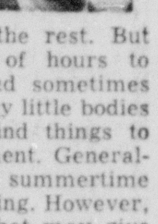
Among the out - of - town visitors attending this occasion are: Mr. Edward T. Simon, W. G. P., and Mrs. Marion Simon, Grand Esther, of New Orleans; Miss Mamie Cameron, A. G. M., of Haynesville; Mr. A. Jack Voigt, A. G. P, and Mrs. Marie Voigt of Shreveport; and Mrs. Melissa McKay, Grand Ruth, and Mr. McKay of Archibald.

PRODUCTION SOARS

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's iron and steel industry set new postwar production records in 1951, figures compiled by Kyodo news agency show.

Carbon steel output amounted to 4,705,000 tons, an increase of more than a million tons over 1950. Steel ingot production was 6,787,000 tons —almost a million and a half tons higher than the previous year.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO
By J. Paul Hewitt



Vacation time is long looked forward to by youngsters every year. To them it represents a golden time of no more pencils, no more books, no more teachers and all the rest. But there are a lot of hours to fill every day. And sometimes those generally busy little bodies are hard-put to find things to occupy every moment. Generally, we agree that summertime should be for relaxing. However, here's a thought that may give your kiddies stimulation as well as wholesome creative activity.

You've been planning to start the youngsters in with music study for sometime perhaps. Well, NOW'S the time. The summertime hours of practice will not be missed, even if your child is at the "play-stage" and hangering to be outdoors with his fellows. An hour in the early morning keeps up the power of concentration . . . so that when time comes for school to begin again . . . he'll be all primed and ready for getting back in the swing of study.

Come in and talk to us about an appropriate instrument for your child. We'll be glad to see you anytime.

The organ is becoming more and more popular in our homes. There have been organ clubs formed in many cities . . . and interest increases in this varied instrument. It's exciting to learn. Come in and see our fine selection of Hammond organs at HEWITT INC. 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1491.

Next Sunday...

Is Your Day, Dad!

Will you take time out to listen to some of the things I want very much to say? You are always deep in doing something; somehow there's never a rig.. time for handling you bouquets. I am afraid we'd both act foolish if I tried to tell you, face to face, out loud, fancy words of gratitude and praise. Even on paper I can't use sticky adjectives for you, Dad . . . that's not your dish. Orchids, adjectives . . . Mother loves them, God bless her! . . . but for you, Dad, I'll put it to you straight: YOU ARE AN OK GUY, THROUGH AND THROUGH.

I am beginning to see what it takes to hold up your end of the plank, Dad . . . to keep plugging along, day after day, facing the same old grind, taking the licks from a crabbed public, juggling living expenses, figuring what's best to do now and planning for a family's future. STAMINA, DAD, FORTITUDE: THOSE ARE WORDS FOR YOU.

I am beginning to notice that it is a long time between shoes with you, Dad, that you postpone buying a new hat, that you manage to make one suit serve for several, that you don't buy yourself books any more. You don't look as slick as you used to. The rent is never overdue. There are no collectors banging our door. There's always good food on the table. Mother belongs to clubs and wears pretty clothes. Sister and Brother and I have everything we need . . . without a hitch; we haven't known any money shortage. You fight that battle for us, Dad, without one word of complaint. That's LIVING LOVE, UNSELFISHNESS.

There's something else I've learned: All Dads are not like you, and I am glad you are mine. I visit some friends and see their Dads drinking; I hear them cursing and swearing, and squabbling over money. It means a great deal to me, Dad, that I had to leave home to find that ugleness. CLEAN, DAD, THAT'S ANOTHER WORLD FOR YOU . . . AND FINE. Thank you, Dad; my heritage is rich.

PROM HOME PERMANENT NEEDS NO NEUTRALIZER!

NEW AUTOMATIC NEUTRALIZING GIVES BEST CURL OF ANY WAVING METHOD

EASY AS A-B-C!

A—Just apply PROM Lotion as you roll up your curls in the usual way.
B—Thirty minutes later, rinse with plain water.
C—Let your hair dry naturally on the curlers and your wave will neutralize automatically!

Isn't that easy? PROM is wonderful for all types of hair, including bleached, tinted hair. And PROM is grand for children; they don't have to sit still as you dab and drip neutralizer.

Guaranteed to "Take"

Even if other waves have failed, PROM is guaranteed to "take" beautifully every time—to give you a softer, more natural-looking wave that lasts longer than any other home permanent—or your money back! PROM leaves your hair in better condition, so it holds sets better, too.

NO STRAGGLY ENDS!

With ordinary permanents, you dab on neutralizer from the outside of the curl. Often it fails to penetrate to the ends of hair wound inside on the curler. So you may get little or no wave, or straggly ends. But this can't happen with PROM! No straggly ends with PROM—it's different!

Why You Get a Better Wave

You get perfect neutralizing every time with PROM because it neutralizes automatically! Each curl is neutralized completely—right down to those important ends. So your PROM wave looks prettier and lasts longer. Today—have the loveliest wave—the easiest way—with a PROM!

PROM Home Permanent comes in 3 types, for different types of hair!

PROM SUPER —for hard-to-wave hair, or a "curlier" permanent. And for children's resistant hair.

PROM REGULAR —for normal-to-wave hair. Gives most natural wave. Ideal for most women.

PROM VERY GENTLE —for easy-to-wave hair. And for bleached or tinted, or slightly curly hair.

Read Easy Rules and ENTER TODAY!
Read How Dr. Pepper Pays 1952 Federal Income Taxes on First Prize

1. Print or write plainly your two-line rhyme beginning with "Get a Lift for Life, it's really true." Use entry blank, or one side of a sheet of paper. Print or write plainly your name and address. All entries must be original work of the contestant and submitted in his or her own name.
2. Mail to Dr. Pepper Jingle Contest, P. O. Box 753, Chicago 77, Illinois. Enter as many times as you like, but with each entry, enclose a Dr. Pepper bottle cap or facsimile for each word in the complete jingle. Use a sturdy mailing envelope and affix sufficient postage. CAUTION: Do not send entries to Dr. Pepper Co.
3. You will be eligible to have Dr. Pepper pay your Federal Income Tax on the 1952 Royalty earnings on the first prize, if you write your entry or entries on an official entry blank and double the number of Dr. Pepper bottle caps or facsimiles you enclose with each entry.
4. Contest will close July 31, 1952. Entries must be postmarked before midnight July 31 and received by August 15. Only entries with sufficient postage will be judged.
5. Entries judged on the basis of originality, uniqueness and aptness of thought by the Lloyd Herrold Company, independent contest judges. Decision of judges final. Entries, contents and ideas become the property of the Dr. Pepper Company. Duplicate prizes in case of ties.
6. Any resident of continental United States may enter, except employees of Dr. Pepper Company, Dr. Pepper bottlers or advertising agents, and their families. Contest subject to all U. S. and local regulations.
7. Winners will be announced approximately one month after the contest closes. All winners notified by mail. Complete winner list sent on request if you enclose self-addressed stamped envelope with your entry.

Entry Blanks at your Dr. Pepper dealer, or write Dr. Pepper, Box 5086, Dallas, Texas, for official entry blank.

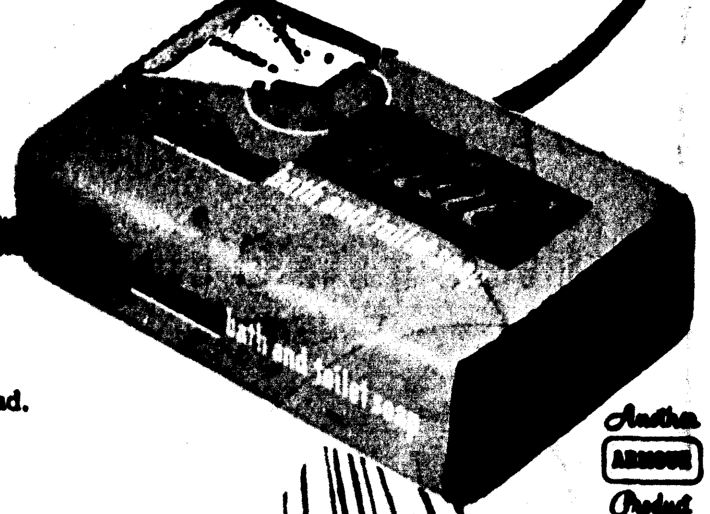
Let me buy your first bar of DIAL Soap



Here's the idea. I think this DIAL is the greatest soap a perspiring public ever had. I'm absolutely convinced that once you try it, you'll be a DIAL user for life. That's why I'd like to buy your first bar. DIAL's wonderfully mild, lathers like crazy, and smells good. But until you actually use it every day, you just can't imagine how completely DIAL does away with that old problem of perspiration odor. Reason is, DIAL contains AT-7 (the stuff doctors call Hexachlorophene). Which is why DIAL gets in there and removes the basic cause of odor . . . the little skin bacteria. Result? No matter how hot it is, or how much you perspire, DIAL keeps you clean and fresh all over, all day long. It's a great feeling . . . one you ought to be enjoying right now. To see that you do—I'll buy your first bar so it won't cost you a penny. Take it from me . . . this DIAL Soap really works!

An Armour Product

Here's all you do to get my personal check

Buy DIAL—one complexion or bath size at the regular price. On the back of the wrapper, plainly print your name, address, and price of the DIAL. Mail the wrapper in an envelope addressed to me: DAVE GARROWAY, Box 7910, Chicago, 80. I'll send you my check for what you paid for the DIAL, plus postage on your letter. Sorry, only one check to a family, and my offer, good only in the United States, ends Saturday, July 12, 1952. Do yourself a favor today. Hasten friend, and TRY DIAL—ON ME!
